awake and happy, ready for the "battle."

Having outflanked and theoretically enveloped a whole regiment believed to be the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth, from Arizona, commanded by Maj. Edgar Grimstead, the Californians swept on past the "enemy," sent out to intercept them, and continued the march to the Rancho Disquito Rancho, where the "enemy" is supposed to be encamped in force.

By superior weight of numbers and the skillful handling of men and maneuvering of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Machine Gun Battalion, the California brigade carried all before it. The machine guns theoretically wiped out a whole battalion of the opposing regiment by rapid fire of the small field pieces.

The theoretical casualties for the first stage of the march is 6 per cent., which is not considered heavy because of the fact that the brigade is advancing into "enemy" country. The ten-day affair is the first field maneuver in California since the war began in which the men are to be given forced marches and be compelled to undergo the rigors of warfare such as they might expect on a battle front, with the exception that not real bullets are fired.

"The men are in wonderful condition," said Brig.-Gen. Herman Hall at his headquarters near Del Mar today, after he had sent a message to Camp Kearny by field wireless and had communicated the progress of the march.

Out of the whole brigade, during the two-day march, the first part of which was rather strenuous and over rough roads, and the second part from last night's camp six miles from here, only six men gave out and actually had to be taken care of by the ambulance attached to the brigade for the maneuvers. Of the six, four returned to regular duty this morning and two were sent back to the base hospital for a rest, the other may join the brigade before the ten days are up. This excellent report is in spite of the fact that the men carried heavier packs than usual. Instead of carrying one blanket and having wagons carry the others, as is the case in battle advance, the men carried all their immediate impedimenta.

Gen. Hall says he considers his men generally in excellent condition.

"They have shown fine spirit," he said. "It is something new to them and they seem to enjoy the march."

Instructions from French High Command Were Received Three Days Ago.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 1.—Definite official announcement that American troops actually will fight side by side with the French and British in Northern France reached the American troops tonight in Paris newspapers. It was greeted with cheering. The men who will go are envied by the rest of the American forces.

As they passed by on the roads they were speeded on their way with cries such as "Eat 'em up!" and "Say, you fellows are in luck!"

Orders to proceed toward the plain of Picardy were received from the French high command three days ago, but until it was officially announced no mention could be made of it.

Huns may Try to Drive All Across Peninsula and Strike at France.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Imminent danger of an attack by the Austrians in great force upon the Italian lines was emphasized today at the Italian Embassy.

Recently, the embassy published a statement that no less than forty divisions had been gathered by the enemy along the battle lines, and now information comes that these troops have received the essentials of food, artillery and munitions for which they have been waiting.

The immediate objective of the Austrians is expected to be the city of Brescia, on the east of Lake Garda, and another attack may be directed on the west with the purpose of breaking into Lombardy.

Recalling the incredulity with which the Italian advance warnings of the tremendous onslaught of the combined Austrian and German forces on the Isonzo last year were received by the Allies, the Italian military authorities now are said to earnestly hope that attention will be paid to the danger which again impends.

HUN DEAD ENORMOUS

Teuton Casualties Near 300,000.

Germans Sending Most of the Wounded to Belgium to Conceal Them.

Nearly Hundred Enemy Divisions Engaged, More than Ten of Them Twice.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A French official estimate of the German losses in the great battle on the western front puts their total casualties at between 275,000 and 300,000.

The Germans are sending most of their wounded to Belgium, it is declared, to conceal from the German people their heavy sacrifice.

It has been possible to identify, the dispatch says, nearly 100 German divisions, more than ten of which were twice engaged. Some of the divisions, it is declared, had to be relieved at the end of the first day after losing more than half their men.

"After an eleven-days' offensive, during which the Germans have recklessly pushed forward their attacking waves, one may gather a fairly accurate estimate of their losses.

"In the first place, it has been possible to identify nearly 100 of their divisions since the beginning of the offensive, more than ten of which were twice engaged. Some divisions had to be relieved at the end of the first day, having lost more than half of the men; such was the case of the Forty-fifth has been Eighty-eighth. The latter has been nearly entirely wiped out. Among those that have suffered the most are the Fifth, Twelfth, Twenty-eighth and One Hundred and Seventh divisions, as well as the Second (Prussian Guard,) the Sixteenth, the Twenty-first and the Twenty-sixth divisions of reserves.

"In the second place, an enormous number of corpses were found on the battle ground, and the prisoners, on being questioned, acknowledged the extent of the losses of their respective units.

"To conceal from the German people the heavy sacrifices that their offensive methods required, the Germans are sending most of their wounded to Belgium.

"It is not an exaggeration to estimate the total of their losses at between 275,000 and 300,000 men."

LEADER MUCK CALLED INTO FEDERAL COURT.

BOSTON, April 1.—Dr. Karl Muck, former leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, looking haggard and worn from a week's confinement in jail under the enemy alien proclamation, was brought to the Federal Building today for a long examination.

Tonight, when he was recommitted to jail, the Federal officials said there were no new developments in the case. They indicated that there was little likelihood of any additional steps being taken until the authorities at Washington were ready for a final determination of the musician's status.

NEW AMERICAN GUN TO HAVE RANGE OF 105 MILES, REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Plans for a supercannon, a great gun of long range, possibly similar to the one with which the Germans have been bombarding Paris, have been submitted to Secretary Daniels by naval ordnance experts after months of experiment. It is understood, however, that the report includes a statement that the ordnance officers do not believe the military range of such a weapon would compensate for the time and money which must be spent in perfecting and developing it.

Reports were heard in some quarters today that a range of 105 miles was expected of the gun now under consideration. Secretary Daniels would not discuss the matter in any way.

American ordnance officers have been interested in the possibilities of long-range guns for the past ten years. The belief that the "game was not worth the candle" prevented rapid progress, but experiments were not dropped, and since the entrance of the United States into the war a revival of interest has been evidenced in the Navy Department.

ANTI-CONSCRIPTIONISTS IN QUEBEC RIOT AGAIN.

QUEBEC, April 1.—Rioting by anti-conscriptionists broke out again tonight and the military authorities immediately took measures to repress the disorders. A number of men suspected of leadership in the rioting were arrested and others are being sought.

The military authorities under the command of Gen. Lessard, inspector-general of Canada, acting with the Quebec city police, took over the administration of the city of Quebec today, and drew up plans to checkmate the rioting element here and also to round up the ringleaders who have been fomenting trouble during the last three days in resistance to the enforcement of the Military Service Act.

During the evening the cavalry charged a crowd of disturbers advancing on St. Francis street toward Jacques Cartier Square and drove them back. Later, soldiers began firing on the disorderly elements. A number of the soldiers had suffered injuries at the hands of the mob previous to using their rifles.

The rioters were not long in returning the fire of the soldiers, and the shooting became general.

PARIS, April 1.—New enemy attacks against Grivesnes have all been repulsed, according to the War Office announcement tonight. The Anglo-French troops have made appreciable progress at various points between the Somme and Demuin.

LONDON, April 1.—"Between Moreuil and Hangard," says the War Office statement to night on the situation in the battle zone, "British cavalry, in a brilliant counter-attack, retook a wood which had been lost previously."

BERLIN (via London) April 1.—German troops have captured the heights of Moreuil and also Arrachis wood, on the western bank of the Avre River, according to the official report from headquarters today.

"The prisoners have increased to more than 75,000," the statement adds.

BERLIN (via London) April 1.—The evening report from general headquarters says there is nothing new from the battlefields of France.

LONDON, April 1.—Great masses of enemy troops continue to concentrate in the region of Albert, according to the Reuter correspondent at British headquarters. Fighting is in progress toward Villers-Bretonneaux, to the north of Hangard.

Up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, says the correspondent, no further infantry attacks of importance were reported against the British front, although the enemy artillery was very active and Arras was being heavily shelled.

"Delay in the resumption of the grand operations is supremely important," adds the correspondent, "giving us the opportunity continually to strengthen the weaker spots in our dispositions.

"The weather was fine and clear all day, and our airmen added another glorious page to their incomparable history."

OUR DEAD IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Twenty-five casualties among the American expeditionary forces reported today were divided as follows:

One killed in action; one died of wounds; four died of disease; two severely wounded, and seventeen slightly wounded.

Died of wounds: Private Edward Fisher.

Slightly wounded: First Lieutenant George E. Boyd, Sergt. Joseph Petrush, Corp. Milton Willard, Wagoner Frank Lucey, Privates Homer Ayler, Harold F. Buchbinder, Howard H. Crum, Moses Fischer, Francis J. Galvin, Zad S. Honaker, Samuel W. Kopp, Clifford Ledford, Lonnier Rouse, Harlee C. Smith, Troy A. Tarwater, John K. Urban and Fred Warnasch.

Wounded: A. T. Atcomb, Detroit.

Gassed: W. McGinly, Detroit; E. J. Deemer, Pittsburgh; F. J. Bourdon, Pullman, Ill.; F. E. Forsyth, Lawrence, Mich.; S. St. Johns, Spokane, Wash.

Prisoners repatriated: E. H. McKibben, Cleveland, O.

Ill: F. Romans, Denver, Colo.

Wounded: C. F. Chuck, San Diego, Cal.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TOKIO, Tuesday, March 26.—The statement made by Foreign Minister Motono, in addressing a joint session of Parliament today, that in the event Japan is compelled to send troops into Siberia, there is no intention whatever of treating Russia as an enemy, and that Japan will never adopt an aggressive policy such as Germany is pursuing in European Russia, has excited especial interest.

The Osaki opposition has criticised the government for not making a similar declaration before when Russia was at a loss to know what to do. It is believed the Russians assisting Germans in Siberia should be regarded as enemies.

Viscount Yasuya Uchida, the Japanese Ambassador to Russia, who has arrived here, is quoted as saying that he doubts Germany intends to attack India.

FINE REGULARITY IN ALLY MOVEMENTS.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 1.—Behind the lines what strikes the imagination vividly is the immensity of the movements of troops and the order with which these are regulated. Traffic directors stand day and night at every crossroad giving directions so that every vehicle and cannon can reach its proper station with clocklike regularity.

The whole scheme is superintended by special officers, who have been sitting in small cabins for days without a moment's rest, receiving directions from the various staffs and transmitting them along the line. Any vehicle breaking down is immediately ditched; otherwise the whole scheme would come to naught and the battle array be endangered.

LONDON, April 1.—Comparative calm reigned this morning between the southern flank of the battle front and Montdidier. Heavy German forces, however, were thrown against the village of Grivesnes, about half way between Montdidier and Moreuil, evidently with the intention of forcing a passage toward the railroad running into Amiens from the south.

All efforts by the enemy were in vain. The French troops held firm throughout a long and constantly renewed struggle in the outskirts and streets of the village, where the soldiers came to closest grips with bayonets and hand grenades. At noon, the village was still in the hands of the French, the Germans having been repulsed on several occasions with the heaviest losses.

Still farther northward the British and French fought shoulder to shoulder in the vicinity of Hangard-en-Santerre, preventing dense columns of the enemy from gaining ground and later recapturing some positions, with a number of prisoners.

Wherever the Allies regain territory they find heaps of German dead which the invaders had no time to bury. They appear to have suffered terrible losses from the fire of French field guns.

The Germans themselves had hitherto been short of artillery but more guns were brought up today.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE (Sunday) March 31.—A daring attempt by the Germans to cross the Oise today and form a bridgehead, permitting of future advances, was easily frustrated by the French.

One of the famous storm battalions succeeded in getting over near Chauny, but never returned. It was almost entirely annihilated. There remained only about 100 unwounded men, whom the French took prisoner.

Nearly all the bridges crossing the Oise have been destroyed and the French hold strong positions on the southern bank, while all fords are covered by artillery.

More to the north, in the region of Moreuil, the Germans for the moment at least appear to have renounced their general attacks and resorted to local actions. Two of these were extremely violent, between Marcelcave and the Somme. They came against the sternest resistance from the French, who repulsed them after very severe fighting. Other attacks occurred on the right

British Slaughter of Densely Massed Germans Helping to End War; Hun Attacks Smashed

The Ebb Tide.

ALLIES TAKE INITIATIVE; REPEL FOE EVERYWHERE

BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE (Sunday) March 31.—The last twenty-four hours continued unfavorable to the aggressive Germans along the British sector of the new battlefield and was a strikingly good period for the defenders. This morning the British were holding their entire line with strength and they had smashed numerous heavy German attacks at various points and had taken the initiative at several places successfully.

The most intense fighting continued south of the Somme in the zone where the French have been making such a gallant stand. The outstanding feature of the conflict on the northern end of the front is that the British again have killed a great number of the enemy which, despite its harsh sound, is what will end the war.

HAIG HITS BACK.

Today the British initiated a forward movement about Feuchy copse, east of Arras. They launched a local attack at 3 o'clock this morning and pressed it so vigorously that they reclaimed a stretch of territory 1500 yards long and averaging about 800 yards in depth. This success had tactical advantages, but they were small compared with the fact that the British were able, after the past ten days of gruelling work, to undertake an offensive operation.

South of the Somme, where there has been so much hard fighting, the British appear to have the situation well in hand and the townhall of Morueil, about which sanguinary struggles have been swaying, was at last reports still flying the British flag defiantly from the steeple. One of the most costly attacks the enemy attempted yesterday was between Moriencourt and the Somme, where a heavy assault was made against the Australians shortly after mid-day.

THREE THOUSAND DEAD.

The attackers came forward in masses and the British threw themselves against the advancing lines so fiercely that the Germans were hurled back, leaving 3000 dead.

The British operation at Lassigny farm, south of Hebuterne, between Albert and Arras, yesterday afternoon, which resulted in straightening the defending line, was a brilliant success. The Germans were pushed back with heavy casualties and British troops returned with 300 prisoners, forty machine guns and a trench mortar. South of Arras the enemy made two attacks yesterday. One was near Hamelincourt, astride the Arras-Bapaume railway, while the other was north of Boisleux St. Mare. Both of these efforts were smashed, although particularly hard fighting occurred around Boyelles. In this operation the Germans advanced in great numbers after an intense bombardment of the British lines for two hours. At three places the enemy succeeded in penetrating the defenses and a bitter hand-to-hand struggle ensued. The British made such strenuous resistance that the Germans were thrown back, leaving numbers of dead.

SMALL GAIN.

Northeast of Arras the Germans made a small attack Saturday after a heavy bombardment and pushed forward over a tiny strip of ground, but the operation was so small as to be hardly worth considering.

There was an unconfirmed report today that a large concentration of Germans in preparation for an attack on a certain place on the battle front had been caught in an artillery and machine-gun barrage and completely knocked out.

The results of the fighting on the British front south of the Somme during the past two days have been satisfactory. Heavy German attacks on both sides of the Luce River Friday forced the British to fall back somewhat. Friday night the enemy pushed forward and penetrated a large wood northeast of Morueil, which created an uncomfortable situation for the defenders.

CAVALRY CLEAR FOREST.

Saturday the British decided to attempt to restore the lines, and cavalry was sent out for the purpose of clearing the wood and re-establishing the positions north of Morueil. There was not a hitch in the programme. The cavalry swept through the forest like a winter snowstorm and forced the enemy to fall back, not only here, but further to the north.

North of the Luce the enemy yesterday morning attacked in force along the British line between Warfusee and Marcelcave. This assault was preceded by a vigorous artillery bombardment. The cavalry was again put into play and by 10 o'clock the Germans were compelled to admit defeat and to retire with large casualties.

A little later the enemy again put down a tremendous barrage between Warfusee and the Somme and after two hours of terrific gun fire advanced in masses. They came against more cavalry and met a similar fate, the British line remaining intact.

STORM HEIGHTS.

North of Aubercourt, south of Marcelcave, the British stormed and recaptured important high ground to which the Germans had clung tenaciously.

It is now possible to tell of a spectacular feature of a brilliant British defense last week below the Somme. It is the story of a little army composed largely of assortments of troops, who were hastily assembled in a great crisis and who successfully held a vital stretch of the front against a furious German onslaught until reinforcements could arrive.

In this gallant force were included American railway engineers, who, as in the battle of Cambrai last November, threw aside their tools and took up arms in defense of the Allied colors.

It was last Tuesday afternoon at a critical moment when it was absolutely necessary that more troops should be thrown into the British line to hold the onrush of Germans. Reinforcements were on the way, but could not arrive in time. There was no time to lose, and a certain general immediately organized a force collected from the various units near by, in which were the Americans.

HOLD 1200 YARDS.

Fifteen hundred followed the lead of their dashing brigadier out into the swirling battle line, where they were strung over a front of 1200 yards against which hordes of Germans were flung. It seems almost inconceivable that these defenders, brave unto death though they were, could have been able to hold that long sector, but they held. The enemy advanced in force and hurled themselves time and again against the British line in this region, but they found no weak spot. This composite force stood as gallantly and as well as their comrades to the right and to the left. They clung on for many hours until the regular army came up. This is a sample of the fighting spirit which the Allied soldiers are showing in this time of stress.

This incident is more spectacular, but hardly finer in spirit than that of seven British soldiers. These lads had been home in England on leave and on landing at a channel port in France could find no transportation to the front. Did they sit down and wait? They did not. They tramped almost every foot of the way to the battle lines to take their places beside their hard-pressed comrades.

IMPORTANT WAR ACTS PASSED BY SENATE.

BILLS AUTHORIZE CONDEMNATION OF LAND NEEDED BY GOVERNMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Important war legislation was passed today by the Senate, including various amendments to the National Defense Act and separate bills authorizing the condemnation or lease of land needed for war purposes and empowering the President to commandeer and operate street and interurban railroads to shipyards engaged on government work.

The defense act amendments authorize the Secretary of War to prescribe zones in navigable waters endangered by artillery practice, transportation of explosives or other war activities; empower the President to call for War Department clerical duty men of draft age physically unfit for military service and provide for the enlistment of men outside of the draft ages for civil duty. One provision specifically continues the extra pay allowance of 50 per cent. for army aviators, which the War Department proposed to abolish.

Another bill passed authorizes a service medal and ribbon for all Regular Army and National Guardsmen and officers who have done duty on the Mexican border.

WILSON SETS ASIDE REFORMATORY FUND.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson has set aside $250,000 from his $100,000,000 war emergency fund for the use of the Commission on Training Camp Activities for establishing reformatory facilities and houses of detention for delinquent girls and women found near military camps.

A special committee to disburse the fund, now being organized by Chairman Fosdick of the commission, includes among its members Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the Secretary of War.

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS

FRENCH.

PARIS, April 1.—Today's early War Office statement follows:

"Yesterday and last night the battle continued with extreme violence north of Montdidier. The enemy directed his efforts in particular along the front between Montdidier and the Peronne-Amiens road and threw forward important forces and with the particular object of enlarging his gains west of Hangerd-en-Santerre, Franco-British troops broke the assaulting waves, which were not able to debouch. A brilliant counter-attack in which our allies gave proof of their valor enabled the French to throw back the enemy completely and recapture this village.

"The fighting farther south was no less violent. Grivesnes was the objective of powerful attacks which were renewed incessantly, leading to hand-to-hand fighting. This town remained in the hands of the French, who inflicted considerable losses on the Germans.

"Between Montdidier and Lassigny there is nothing to report."

PARIS, April 1.—The night War Office statement says:

"The battle was maintained along the whole front north of Montdidier, where the enemy artillery was particularly active. The enemy carried out new attacks against Grivesnes, all of which were repulsed with losses.

"In the course of spirited engagements, the Franco-British troops made appreciable progress at various points between the Somme and Demuin.

"On March 29-30, our aviators, despite rain and mist, carried out numerous sorties. Five thousand kilograms of explosives were dropped on enemy cantonments and stations in the region of St. Quentin, Guiscard and Roye. Our airplanes frequently attacked with machine-guns and bombs enemy concentrations, which they dispersed. Nine German airplanes and one captive balloon were destroyed by our pilots.

"Italian bombing machines took an active part in these expeditions, and recently carried out with splendid audacity numerous raids on the enemy lines."

BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 1.—Following is the official communication:

"The enemy twice attacked our positions in the western outskirts of Albert yesterday evening. Both attacks were repulsed.

"South of the Somme the enemy is persisting in his attempts to advance along the valleys of the Rivers Luce and Avre, but has made little progress. Attacks and counter-attacks followed each other in this sector throughout yesterday afternoon and evening with varying success and the fighting was expected to continue.

"In the local operation in the neighborhood of Serre which was reported in yesterday morning's communique the brigadier number of machine guns taken was 109."

"The day passed comparatively quietly," says the report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters in France tonight. "Local attacks undertaken by small bodies of the enemy this morning in the neighborhood of Albert were repulsed with the loss of the greater part of their numbers. We secured a few prisoners.

"South of the Somme local fighting has taken place in the neighborhood of Moreuil and Hangard. We gained ground in this area by successful counter-attacks.

"North of the Somme there has been no change in the situation. South of the Somme there had been hard fighting in the neighborhood of Moreuil.

"On the French front an enemy attack was beaten off near Moreuil. Otherwise, the day was comparatively quiet."

AMERICAN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A cablegram received today from Gen. Pershing, dated March 31, reported the situation in Northern France as improved.

A report also was received from Maj.-Gen. Bliss. It was dated March 31, and said:

"North of the Somme the situation is unchanged. South of the Somme the enemy on the afternoon of the 30th attacked from Lalute to Mont Reinaud, on a front of sixty kilometers. The ground gained by the enemy in these attacks is reported by the French to be insignificant and his losses enormous. This morning (March 31) the French by counter-attacks regained La Monchel and Assonvillers. Elsewhere the situation was unchanged."

GERMAN.

BERLIN, April 1.—The text of the War Office statement today reads:

"On the battlefield north of the Somme artillery and mine thrower firing revived during the evening. Between the Luce Rivulet and the Avre we continued our attacks and captured the heights north of Moreuil. British and French troops which several times vainly came forward in counter-attacks suffered heavy losses.

"A local attack on the western bank of the Avre placed us in possession of Arrachis Wood.

"Yesterday French divisions in repeated assaults attempted to recapture lost villages and heights to the west of Montdidier, as well as between the Doms and the Matts. Their attacks broke down with sanguinary losses.

"With the fighting during the past few days the number of prisoners brought in since the beginning of the battle has increased to more than 75,000.

"In the other theaters there is nothing new."

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 1.—The Allies, during their retreat, made frequent use of armored motor cars fitted with machine guns to harry their pursuers. One of these, which came in close contact with the enemy throughout the whole day, was ditched. The occupants left the car and endeavored to pull the machine out of the mud under a severe rifle fire. A machine gun was lifted out and used against the enemy until it jammed. Then the gunner seized a rifle and fired, while his comrades continued to work until they righted the car, which they succeeded in starting when the Germans were within fifty yards. All the party escaped.

GEN. BELL ASSIGNED; WILL RELIEVE MURRAY.

Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell, who has been commanding the Seventy-seventh Army Division at Camp Upton, N. Y., was today assigned to take charge of the Western Department, with headquarters at San Francisco. Maj.-Gen. Bell recently returned from a tour of inspection abroad.

On his return from Europe Gen. Bell was ordered to Washington to undergo the medical examination required of all general officers whose duties indicated active service in France. The statement was made yesterday that he had passed this examination. It was learned later, however, that the medical board had recommended a period of strict diet because of some minor ailment, and this is believed to have been the reason for his assignment to the Western Department.

Maj.-Gen. Arthur Murray, who will relinquish command of the Western Department to Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell on order of the War Department today, is one of the oldest officers in the army, having been recalled to service from retirement during the present war.

Gen. Murray is one of the recognized artillery authorities in the United States military establishment, having served as chief of artillery when he was a brigadier-general. He has been in the Artillery Corps since he was commissioned as a second lieutenant from the Military Academy June 17, 1874. He was promoted from a lieutenant-colonel to a brigadier-generalship on October 1, 1906, being advanced to a major-generalship March 14, 1911.

He had been in command of the Western Department for some time prior to December 4, 1915, when he was retired because of age. He was recalled into active service September 6, 1917, assuming command of this department again.

It was considered probable in army circles here that Gen. Murray might be recalled to Washington to act in an advisory capacity to the Artillery Board.

Maj.-Gen. Bell is well known on the Pacific Coast, having been in command of the Western Department once before.

Gen. Murray's period of active service expired during the summer of 1915, but Congress passed a special act enabling him to retain command of this department until the close of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. He has one son, Lieut.-Col. Maxwell Murray, Artillery Corps, with the American expeditionary forces in France.

STEAMSHIP CELTIC HIT; ENCOUNTERS SUBMARINE.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The steamship Celtic, one of the big White Star liners, was attacked and torpedoed by a German submarine, according to reliable information received today in marine circles here, during a voyage from England to America. Efforts are being made to save the vessel, which, it is believed, carried no passengers.

The Celtic has a gross tonnage of 20,904 and has for many years been one of the largest steamships in trans-Atlantic service. She was built at Belfast in 1901 and flies the British flag.

More than a year ago the Celtic hit a mine off Liverpool, but was damaged only slightly. In 1916 it was reported that a bomb, presumed to have been placed on board at New York, was discovered on the Celtic upon her arrival at Liverpool, but this was denied by officers of the White Star line. It was the Celtic which brought $25,000,000 worth of American securities from England in October, 1916.

MAY HAVE HAD CASUALS.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—If there were any American soldiers at all on board the Celtic, it was said here today, they were very few in number and carried as "casuals" returning home. It was stated that there were no sick or wounded on board.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN HELD WITH HINDU FOR TRIAL.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Salindra Nath Ghose, a Hindu, and Agnes Smedley, a young woman from California, who recently were arrested here, were indicted today by a Federal grand jury on charges of being concerned in a conspiracy to violate the espionage Act and of acting as agents in this country for the Indian National party, a body of alleged insurgents opposed to government by Great Britain.

With the couple were indicted Pulin B. Bose, Tarak Nath Das, Jadu Gopal Mokerjee and Bhai Bhagwan Singh, all Hindus. Bose is described in the indictment as being provisional president of the supreme council of the Indian Nationalist party and the other defendants are charged with being members of a special commission representing the insurgents.

The indictment alleges that Miss Smedley addressed a communication to the Japanese Embassy in Washington last January regarding the affairs of the Indian party and that Bose, on March 8, sent similar communications to the Swedish Secretary of State at Stockholm and the Swedish Legation in Washington.

ON TRIAL IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Tarak Nath Das and Bhagwan Singh, indicted today for an alleged unneutral act in New York, are two of the principal Hindu defendants in a trial here of a group of Hindus, German consular agents and others on the charge of conspiring in this country to overthrow British rule in India. Das was charged with heading the oriental junta of the revolutionists. Singh was accused of propaganda work in the interests of the revolutionists on this Coast.

Das was also arrested recently in connection with information from New York that he conspired with S. Nath Ghose to secure the recognition of the Bolshevik government in Russia for an alleged revolutionary government in India.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SUMMARY OF THE BATTLE IN PICARDY.

THE Associated Press, in its last night's summary of the fighting in France, and the situation at the end of the twelfth day since the beginning of the great German offensive, says:

While the advance of the German armies in Picardy has come almost to a halt, there has been savage fighting on the extreme western edge of the battle zone. Encounters, in which large forces have been engaged, have occurred north of Moreuil, but there seems to be no decided advantage gained by the Teutonic invaders. They claim to have taken the heights and to have carried a wood in advance of their line near Moreuil, but the British say they have driven back the enemy from positions they have occupied elsewhere in this sector.

The French lines farther south have stood firm against savage assaults, especially in the region of Montdidier and eastward of that place along a part of the line which was subjected to a terrific strain for two days late last week. In a number of sectors, the French have surged forward and taken hard-earned ground from the Germans and have established their line solidly along the Oise River.

GERMANS INTRENCH ON FRENCH FRONT.

The expected Allied counter-offensive has not yet come, but the Germans, who are reported to be intrenching along the French front, evidently expect it there.

Rain is delaying the German advance along the French and British line. Wet weather, if continued, would be of infinite value to the Allies, who are moving their forces and supplies over solid earth, instead of ground which has been churned into a condition where every step is beset by difficulties.

The chief German efforts apparently have been in the region of Moreuil and Albert. Around these places there has been stern fighting, with the Germans hurling their fighting men at the Allied lines in serried ranks, which have been mowed down by artillery, machine-gun and rifle fire. The effort in the Moreuil region is considered as being an attempt to reach the Paris-Amiens Railroad, which is four or five miles distant.

OUR MEN HASTENING TO JOIN FIGHTING.

The beginning of April, a month whose dates are written large on the pages of American history, finds the soldiers of the United States hastening to take their place in the zone of fiercest fighting. There have been American troops involved in the struggle in Picardy since the morning of March 23, but Gen. Pershing now is leading more than 100,000 of his men—but just how many is as yet not known—to a point assigned to them by Gen. Foch, the leader of the Allied forces in France. These men may even now be in the battle line, and America awaits news from them with confidence that they will compare well with the veterans of France and Great Britain.

A report from Gen. Pershing to the War Department states that the situation along the battle line is improved. He did not give any information regarding the movement of his troops.

It is thought improbable that the German General Staff will be content with the situation as it stands today. Many believe there is in preparation another blow against Italy. Official reports from Rome say there has been considerable activity on the Asiago plateau and along the Piave River, and that in Albania, on the eastern shore of the Adriatic, the Austrians have been repulsed after an attack on a position held by the Italians.

ONLY FORWARD MOVE OF GERMAN DRIVE.

French and British troops beat back the enemy last night in his desperate efforts to advance toward Amiens and to push out from the Montdidier salient. Slight progress in the drive for Amiens along the Luce and Avre valleys is the only forward movement reported anywhere along the line, despite the almost incessant Teutonic attacks, and at least at one point the enemy was pushed back.

The most determined assaults in this effort seem to have been in the neighborhood of Hangard-en-Santerre, where Franco-British troops met the assaulting waves. The setback for the Germans here was most pronounced, as they were established west of Hangard-en-Santerre and were endeavoring to debouch from this position, within a scant ten miles of the outskirts of Amiens. They have now been pushed back well beyond that limit.

Farther south in the Montdidier region the enemy made a determined attack to capture Grievesnes and enlarge the salient he had pushed in here, west of Avre. His powerful thrusts, however, delivered virtually without interval, were broken up by the French, who punished their German assailants badly and retained possession of the village.

BRITISH LINES HOLDING INTACT.

To the north of the Somme the British held their lines intact. The Germans made two attacks upon the British positions in the western outskirts of Albert, but each time met with a repulse.

The German peace drive toward Amiens, Paris and the channel ports is fast becoming a battle of the nations. The conflict opened with British and German soldiers the adversaries. Since then the French and American armies have joined with Field Marshal Haig's forces, while Austrian and Bulgarian troops are aiding the enemy. Canadian cavalry and Australian infantry have been doing much of the fighting under the British flag in the last two days.

The most intense fighting is progressing south of the Somme, where attempt after attempt is being made by the Germans to break the indomitable Franco-British defense and reach the Paris-Amiens Railway line, or Amiens itself. Unable to make gains astride the Somme, the enemy has made heavy attacks at other points, but with no success. Moreuil, the center of the fighting south of the Somme, is reported to have changed hands four times and is now held by British, Canadian and French troops.

North of the Somme, where the Germans were thrown back with severe losses by the British Saturday, the enemy made no further attempts Sunday and the fighting activity has been moderate.

ARMORED MOTOR CARS USED BY CANADIANS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, April 1.—Canadian armored motor cars with rapid-firers have played an important part in checking the German rush. Up to the time of the present battle they were used but little, but in the last ten days these cars, which were made in America, have performed valuable work. Frequently they have held up large bodies of German troops on being rushed to threatened parts of the front. Their presence has had a wonderfully steadying effect on the British lines.

One of these armored cars found itself in a certain village filled with German infantry. All the crew were killed with the exception of the driver and one gunner. When the capture of the car seemed certain the gunner took his heavy rapid-firer to the ground, where he held off large numbers of the enemy until the driver was able to turn the automobile around. This done, the machine gun was thrown into the car, and the two men sped away.

The battery of another car, which had dismounted and was fighting the Germans with machine guns, ran out of ammunition. The Germans closed in, coming up to such a short distance that they were shooting with revolvers. The situation was hopeless, but the gallant Canadians were not to be taken alive. They seized spare barrels of machine guns and charged the Germans with these weapons. They, of course, were no match for an enemy heavily armed, and all of them were killed.

Up to yesterday the daring crews of these fighting machines had lost only about twenty-six hours since the second day's attack.

On the first day these cars in considerable numbers were pushed to the right flank below the Somme, where the situation was most critical. They at once got into the thick of the fighting. At Maricourt, north of the Somme the Germans were threatening to cut off large numbers of heavy guns and tanks. A battery of these cars gathered the infantrymen about it and took a stand east of the village, remaining there until the guns and tanks were withdrawn.

At one point the Germans were massing for an attack, when the cars crept up within close range and enfiladed their ranks. Germans artillery shelled the cars, knocking out one and forcing the other to withdraw, but not until they had done great execution.

At Carlay one Canadian motor car held back an entire enemy battalion which was attempting to cross a canal.

AMERICANS GET OUT OF FINLAND SAFELY.

STOCKHOLM, April 1.—All Americans are now safely out of Finland, except Consul Haynes and Vice-Consul Waldo at Helsingfors. They include Capt. and Mrs. Crossley, Capt. and Mrs. Norman Sulnes, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Corse, Edgar Sisson, Arthur Bull, Roger Simmons and John Tire.

The party passed from the lines of the Red Guard to those of the White Guard, or government troops, under the American flag and a flag of truce. The members were well treated by both the Red Guards and White Guards.

There is a complete lack of discipline among the Red Guards, the members of the party say. They believe the end of the fighting in Finland is only a matter of a few weeks.

BOARD CONSIDERS WAGES.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Wage demands of several hundred employees of the Mammoth Copper Company of Kennet were under consideration here today by the Federal mediation board of this district, with Mortimer Fleischhacker presiding. The men struck several weeks ago, but returned to work on assurance by company officials that their demands would be presented to the mediation board.

AFTER THE DISLOYAL.

The Committee of the Whole of the Board of Education has under investigation the cases of half a dozen disloyal teachers in the Los Angeles city schools. Efforts are being made to secure all possible testimony, in order that no injustice may be done anyone under suspicion, and yet to take every means to weed out from the teaching force any teacher whose attitude would have an improper influence on the pupils.

"The trouble so far has been to get direct evidence," said one member of the Board of Education, last night. "In cases where we can get the direct statements of two witnesses regarding disloyal statements or actions of teachers, we will not hesitate to dismiss them as quickly as such an action can be taken."

BETTER MEAT CUTS GET ANOTHER BOOST.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Prices of the better cuts of meat were increased by about 2½ cents all over the country today, it was announced by representatives of packing concerns.

The increase was due to the lightness of cattle receipts, it was said, and is customary at this time of the year. Abolishing meatless days had nothing to do with the increase, it was said.

MOSLEM PRIEST DUPED BY WILES OF A WOMAN.

How Berlin's Unscrupulous Emissary Brought a Noted Leader to His Death.

[The Times herewith prints the final installment of the confession of Countess von Schaumberg in which she describes tragic episode in which her treachery figured.]

BY COUNTESS VON SCHAUMBERG.

CHAPTER X.

"THIS is what that crazy Moslem Softa, Abd-ul-Rahman Bey wrote to me when thanking me for my small contribution to his charitable fund:

"I, Abd-ul-Rahman, your most humble servant, kiss your generous hand with great reverence. Charity is the most sacred virtue of our beloved Moslem Faith; I salute you heartily in my own humble way.

"Your humble servant,

"ABD-UL-RAHMAN."

On receiving this precious letter at once sent for Herr Adolph Brunn. He told me on reading it that the worst part of the battle was over. As he said these words he smiled with a little twinkle in his eye. I had not yet told Herr Brunn what my exact plans were but from the way he smiled I surmised that he comprehended what I was about to do.

ENVER IS INFORMED.

I then sent Herr Brunn to Enver with this letter and requested an audience interview.

In less than two hours Enver called on me and told me that he appreciated what I was about to do with this crazy priest. I hated not Enver Pasha. He was a great patriot. He made a profession of the Moslem religion, but in deeds he was always making light of all creeds. He is a consummate liar and a low scoundrel. If it was not for the fatherland I would have had nothing to do with this unprincipled man. But the cause of the fatherland was in danger and I had to make great sacrifices in order to prevent Turkey from being forced to make a separate peace with our enemies.

I wanted to interview Enver again as the little editress of the Turkish weekly, the Ladies' News, had, after receiving my money for 100 subscriptions to her publication, written a long account of my arrival, and intended activities, but two days later returned my money, telling me that her publication could not be used to further my propaganda. Now it was obvious that our enemies had secretly exerted influence to counteract our activities. I had sent several other messengers to her but could not persuade her to print in her publication a certain article which I had prepared myself.

I asked Enver to use his influence to have this article of mine published in the Ladies' News, but I did not find him enthusiastic. This greatly surprised me.

After a long conference with him I found out that he was putting every entanglement in my way to keep me from putting my plans into operation. He told me that the editress of the Ladies' News was the favorite niece of the Shiek-ul-Islam, the religious head of the Moslem faith and that it would be impossible for him to approach her in any shape or manner, and that the young lady was strongly pro-ally.

"But, excellency, if she is pro-ally she is against us, is she not?" I demanded somewhat impatiently.

In reply to my remark Enver rose from his seat, took a few steps toward me and stood over me—meanwhile twisting his moustache in an offensive manner—and nodding his head slowly he said: "The war against France and England is not popular in our country. Our people consider that they are fighting against the Muscovites." And when he finished he paced up and down the room nervously.

I was about to speak when he rudely interrupted me and for nearly twenty minutes he delivered a speech that was full of abuse and complaint against our behavior toward the Turks toward the war. And I wanted to laugh loudly when he finished his speech with these words: "Our association with your country has disgraced the proud name of our fatherland." I could have choked this impudent liar for his words, but I had to be patient. He was in great need of funds, and money, yes, gold, he required if we wanted him to stay in the alliance. I am certain that the day will come when these impudent rulers of Turkey will be punished severely, along with our stubborn enemy, England.

SENDS FOR REINFORCEMENTS.

Soon after Enver's departure I sent for Herr Brunn and told him to go at once to our Embassy and inform our Ambassador of what Enver had just threatened. Herr Brunn returned with assurances that another 100,000,000 marks would be loaned to the Turkish government and that that would hold them in line another six months or so. The Embassy, meanwhile, begged that I should hasten my plans to destroy the more serious influence of Abd-ul-Rahman Bey.

I sent Herr Brunn again to the Softa Abd-ul-Rahman Bey with 10,000 marks as my second contribution to his charitable fund with instructions to tell the Softa that I was a rich widow and that I had come from my fatherland to spend my money in looking after the poor unfortunate victims of the cruel war in this city. I also instructed Herr Brunn to tell the worthy Softa that I would deem it a great honor to meet His Holiness in order to pay my respects to him personally.

Herr Brunn returned with a second letter from the Softa telling me that he would consider it a great honor to receive me.

A HASTY VILLAINY.

I had to start on my plan at once. I explained everything to Herr Brunn and when I had ended he knew as much about my scheme as I. "I understand you perfectly, Gracious Countess."

My scheme, as I had been instructed by Baron von Budich, was to put myself in a compromising position with this "Man of God," which would be recorded by a photographer. After such a photograph had been secured all the Stamboul newspapers would be inspired to connect me with several disreputable acts in the past. I would be thoroughly advertised as a pretty bad woman, and, as soon as the populace of Stamboul had digested this scandalous news, at the proper moment the compromising pictures would be flashed on the various picture-house screens. Then the Softa would be completely discredited and would soon be driven out of the city by the disillusioned and indignant populace. This was our plan and now that Enver Pasha was silenced by our latest loan, he would be glad to have the troublesome Softa destroyed.

I took no time in preparing myself to meet the "Man of God."

SHE HAS A CONSCIENCE.

When I was ushered into the presence of the Softa I felt weak and would have broken down had it not been for the happy presence of mind of Herr Brunn. He at once approached Softa Abd-ul-Rahman Bey and told him that I was somewhat shy and that I felt very nervous in his or the Softa's presence. These words were ridiculous enough to make me smile.

The Softa bowed low and saluted me with great courtesy, and I was asked to be seated. As I looked at this man's bright eyes I felt guilty of a horrible sin in the depths of my soul. I felt like crying loud and confessing to everyone that I was planning to commit the greatest sin any woman could. I wished that I could find some other way to serve my country.

KULTUR AGAINST CONSCIENCE.

"The Most Charitable Countess does me honor in sympathizing with my charitable purposes. Madame, I am extremely grateful to you. Please accept my most profound thanks," he said, rising from his seat and bowing low.

There was no room for sentiment. I was a soldier of the fatherland. I must serve with unquestioned fidelity. Who was I that I should put my considerations ahead of the cause of my fatherland?! (The exclamation mark is ours.)

I have heard of your sacred fame from my fatherland and for months I wished to pay my personal respects to "The Man of God," I said with apparent sincerity.

For half an hour he related to me with a childish sincerity how he himself was once very poor and how he understood the sufferings of the poor and how "sin" was the cause of all poverty. "Madame, I do not mean that poor people are sinners, but the sins of others and perhaps their own sins make poverty. So we must help the poor, especially if we know that the poor in our fatherland are not suffering through their own sins, but are suffering for the sins of others."

As I watched his eyes I began to realize that he was a "man of God," and it would be impossible to exert any womanly charms on him. He was young and neatly dressed. He was garbed in the clothes of a fashionable Lutheran minister, but with one exception—he wore the red fez which he kept on his head during my interview with him.

MOSLEM PITY FOR ARMENIANS.

Just before I left him he told me about the great sufferings of the poor Armenians, millions of whom had been driven from their homes to sure misery, death or worse.

I proposed that I accompany him to the establishment where he was administering his charity to these Armenians whose sufferings were bitterly felt by me.

In response to my proposition he said: "Gracious Madame, the precepts of my sacred religion will not permit me to accompany a woman—worthy and good as you are—to any place, unless it be that she is one of my immediate family—such as wife, sister, or niece.

HER PERSISTENCE.

"But Your Holiness will not object to my visiting your haunts of charity without accompanying you," I said lightly. For the first time the Softa smiled and consented, saying that I could find him at the Koum Kapou district early the following morning. "And you can see with your own eyes, Gracious Madame, what this war has done to our once happy and prosperous capital." I was about to make a reply to him when he added very severely, "And perhaps the Gracious Madame will be an eyewitness to what her fatherland has brought to us, and on her return to her beloved country will tell to her God fearing people what terrible sights she has seen!"

THE SOFTA NO MOLLYCODDLE.

Softa Abd-ul-Rahman never feared to speak what he believed to be the truth and on the following morning, even against my own will, I admitted that our fatherland had brought misery to this country. I again had to fight against my weak sentimentality. I had to remind myself of the fact that I was not here to investigate and judge, but was here to execute a certain mission in behalf of my own country.

It is not for me to record here in detail how I worked out my scheme. This much is sufficient, to state that I made daily visits to the Softa's office which was adjacent to his residence. In two weeks I had opened my heart to the Softa telling him that I had become a convert to his most beautiful faith. My "Confession" of faith softened the heart of the "Man of God." He became more and more responsive and each day he expounded to me the wonderful precepts of the Moslem faith. I made him think that I believed his every word.

"THE SIMPLE MAN OF GOD."

I managed to be seen in his company frequently. Through our energetic secret service workers in the city I managed to visit the district just at the time the Softa happened to be there. On the occasion of every such "accidental" meeting he would stop, greet me with great courtesy and walk in my company a few blocks. Every one of these occasions were faithfully recorded by Herr Brunn's expert photographer. One day, especially, on meeting him I rushed to him, held his hand with both of mine and standing very close to him I said: "Truly, you are a 'Man of God!'" This position was also recorded, while I remained in that attitude for quite a few minutes.

Finally, one day I made a visit to him, my face covered with a heavy yashmak. As I entered his office I lifted it slowly and on the second that my eyes met his I looked down, bowed low, and informed him while in that attitude that I had accepted the Moslem faith. Then, kneeling on the carpet before him I said: "I beg you to lead me to the most sacred tenets of your holy religion."

NO PAGAN IS THIS SOFTA.

He at once seized both my hands and raised me to my feet saying: "Who am I that you drop on your knees before me? I am merely an unworthy servant of Allah. No one human being should bend the knee before another. Allah is jealous of his might of power. All knees should bend before him, not before unworthy Abd-ul-Rahman, himself full of sin!"

Abd-ul-Rahman was overjoyed and lectured to me nearly an hour about the beautiful precepts of the Mohammedan religion. Meanwhile I was so happy with the prospects of my plans being successfully carried out that I hardly heard what he was saying.

At the end of his talk he himself requested that I again visit him on the following morning so that he could teach me how to offer prayer in proper form to the Highest. I promised that I would be there at the stated hour.

He then personally let me through his garden to the outer gate. As in all Moslem residences of the upper classes there is, between the outer gate and inner gate, a reception hall to which open doors from the footmen's and servant's quarters. Three of Abd-ul-Rahman's servants had already been retained by our alert Herr Brunn, who had secreted our faithful recorder—the photographer—in one of the entrances to the doors leading to the servant's rooms.

THE UNSPEAKABLE PERFIDY.

As we neared the outer gate, just in the center of the reception hall, as Abd-ul-Rahman was about to lift the latch in order to open the heavy gate for me, I lifted my Yeshmak with my left hand and holding his hand in my right I whispered; looking him straight in the eye: "You are truly divine." The Softa seemed somewhat embarrassed, nevertheless, he did not present a protesting countenance. On the contrary, his attitude was tolerant if not approving. It made a very desirable record.

MOSLEM LOSES TO KULTUR.

I was the victor; the Softa was defeated! I would not have done such a thing for any human being or for any other cause. But for the fatherland—I would sacrifice the very best in me.

When Brunn reported to me that evening he informed me that everything had been put into action. Several Stamboul publications would come out in the morning with stories of my past scandals; if the Softa had as much wisdom as he had religion he would at least keep quiet, but the Softa is a man of God, he would protest against such calumny of a good and charitable woman like me. The picture houses would show the records. . . .

I will not relate all the details of what took place during the following three or four days. But I will record this much. I have never gone through so much torture in my life. I must admit my weakness; I did not mind about the scandalous stories that were printed about me and my supposed past, but what tore my soul to pieces was that I was compelled to destroy a good man like that Softa Abd-ul-Rahman Rey. Yes, he was destroyed. At least during the war no one will hear of him again in Stamboul.

OBREGON IS COMING; WILL MARKET BEANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) April 1.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former Mexican Minister of War, arrived here today from Sonora, and left tonight for San Francisco, on business connected with the marketing of 25,000 tons of beans which he said last night he was preparing to sell in the United States.

GERMAN BANNED AS UNCIVILIZED.

Helena Schools Abolish Study of Woman Killers' Language.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HELENA (Mont.) April 1.—Declaring that by its warfare upon innocent women and children, the German nation has lost the right to be considered a civilized nation, the Board of Education this morning abolished the study of German in the Helena public schools. The textbooks are to be withdrawn immediately and either destroyed or exchanged to the publishers.

To Strike via Italy.

the probability that, failing to break through the combined British, French and American forces on the west front, where they are now attacking, the German General Staff will direct its efforts at another point and the Italian military men are confident that the Italian line will be the selected point.

The principal Italian munitions and army supply factories are located in Lombardy and Piedmont, and, besides securing these, the Austrians might put themselves in position to swing their forces northward toward France, reinforcing the Germans from the south against the French right wing.

Great quantities of supplies have come to the Austrian forces from Russia, according to the dispatch to the embassy. The Germans recently announced that they had foregone claiming the rich stores of food in the Russian Ukraine country in order to meet the more pressing need of the Austrians.

On the other hand, the Italians are said to be in desperate need of food. It is known that only about one-third of the Italian army of 2,000,000 men is now being maintained on the battle lines, and the only explanation is that there is no food and not enough guns and ammunitions for the remainder.

The British and French troops sent to Italy to check the Austro-German advance last fall are still in Northern Italy and it is said that instead of having them withdrawn to meet the pressing need for man power in France, the Italian General Staff desires to send Italian troops to join the British, French and Americans in that quarter, trusting to the Allies' superior commissariat to feed them.

JACKSON KILLED WHILE MAKING TEST FLIGHT.

CALIFORNIA AVIATOR DROPS SIX HUNDRED FEET AT CALL FIELD.

WICHITA FALLS (Tex.) April 1.—Lieut. Byron Jackson, Jr., of San Francisco was instantly killed at Call Field about 4:30 p.m. today when the machine in which he was flying crashed to earth out of control, from a distance of 600 feet. A cadet who was with Lieut. Jackson was slightly injured.

Lieut. Jackson only recently was commissioned in the United States Army after completing his training at Call Field. He had just returned from a furlough and was making a test flight before taking up his duties tomorrow of instructor.

His plane was 600 feet up when, from some unknown cause, he lost control of it and the machine dropped into a tail spin.

WAS ONLY SON.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Lieut. Byron Jackson, JRA enlisted at the Berkeley aviation school October 15, and went to Call Field early in December, gaining his commission only a week ago. He was 25 years old and graduated from the University of California with the class of 1916. He was the only child of his parents. His father is a well-known retired manufacturer of this city.

DISLOYAL BANKER COATED WITH TAR.

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 1.—Rudolph Schopke, said to be a wealthy banker of Emerson, Neb., was taken by a crowd of citizens to the edge of that town and given a coat of tar and feathers last Saturday. He is alleged to have told Red Cross workers that he owed nothing to the United States.

STEAMER TITHONUS SUNK BY GERMANS.

LONDON, April 1.—The British armed boarding steamer Tithonus was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine March 28, according to an official statement issued by the admiralty. One mercantile officer and three naval rated officers were lost.

Face Fire of Stoves.

CALIFORNIANS REACH CAMP LEWIS IN SNOW.

CAMP LEWIS (Wash.) April 1.—Today was the big day in draft arrivals at Camp Lewis. California and Oregon unloaded from special trains in the neighborhood of 1800 men. Four special trains arrived during the day from Oregon and California. Men from Washington, Montana and Idaho arrived on regular trains.

The first day in camp was one of what has been typical winter weather. The cold rain, mixed with snow, driven by a north wind, cut the California men to the bone and made them appreciate a little fast marching from the railroad tracks to the warm receiving camps, where a hot fire was kept going in a large heater.

Tomorrow and Wednesday and Thursday will practically clean up the grand receipts. Most of these men will come from Idaho and Montana and the outlying districts of California, Oregon and Washington. The men began arriving at 4 o'clock this morning and will continue to arrive until midnight.

Put Your Money To Work

MONEY has no more right to be idle than men and women. All must work now during the war period. The question is—"Where will my money be safest, and where will it do the most good?"

There is no question about the security of United States Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps. The strongest Government in the world stands back of them.

It is our patriotic privilege and duty to invest in these war time Government securities.

The Government has appealed to the farmers and fruit growers to produce more foods and money is necessary to grow these crops. We are, therefore, making loans to experienced farmers, these loans being secured by a First Mortgage on real estate.

Good land with water in a growing community has been given an added impetus by reason of the strong demand and high prevailing prices of all foodstuffs.

Investors looking for a safe, patriotic investment will find a satisfactory answer in our Mortgage Certificates. These certificates evidence the ownership of First Mortgages on real estate—

MUST SHATTER GERMAN POWER

President Wilson has not Changed His Attitude.

Reiterates Declaration Made in Flag Day Speech.

Letter to be Read in Methodist Churches April 7.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—President Wilson has not changed his attitude concerning a negotiated peace with the Central Powers, as expressed in his Flag Day address, his reply to Pope Benedict and his message to Congress on the declaration of war with Austria, according to a letter he has written to Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of the Methodist Episcopal church, made public here today by the national war council of the church.

Bishop Henderson wrote to the President in behalf of 20,000,000 American Methodists, asking in particular whether his present unwavering purposes was expressed in the following words from his messages:

"The German power, a thing without conscience, honor or capacity for covenanted peace, must be crushed. Our present and immediate task is to win the war and nothing shall turn us aside until it is accomplished."

The President's letter, dated March 25, follows:

"In reply to your letter of March 21, may I not say that you are perfectly safe in using the words which you quote from my messages as expressing my unaltered thought and unbroken purpose? It is always our duty to find out what the expression of a desire for peace from our opponents really means, but unless it means a complete and convincing programme of justice upon which a lasting peace can really rest (and we have had as yet no evidence that it means anything of that kind,) it means nothing."

The President's letter will be read from all Methodist pulpit in the country on April 7 and the national war council announces that all Methodist ministers have been urged to use it as a "basis of a new and hearty backing of the President in the war and for the choking out of all pacifists."

The council also announced plans for collecting a fund to be used "in strengthening the church near the army camps, both with buildings and helpers, so that the soldiers who desire can come into the near by towns and get a homey church service." The church does not plan to open separate buildings in the camps.

POLITICIAN ON TOUR.

Will H. Hays of Republican National Committee to Visit Here in Interests of Third Loan.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican National Committee is to be in Los Angeles April 15. His purpose is not political, but patriotic, for he is going West to boost the third Liberty Loan.

According to the present itinerary, he will take part in Loberty Loan meetings in several of the Western States and will address a mass meeting in Salt Lake City April 6. He will visit as many States as possible and will stop in California only in San Francisco and Los Angeles. It is probable that Chairman Hays will make another trip in the summer, when his purpose will be political, but he says now that the job of everyone is to win the war and that not until peace with victory is assured can there be much thought given to any other project.

BRITISH PUSH TURKS BACK IN MESOPOTAMIA

LONDON, April 1.—British troops operating on the Euphrates River in Mesopotamia continue their pursuit of the Turkish troops.

An official statement issued today by the War Office says the British forces have advanced seventy-three miles beyond the town of Anah, to a point about midway between Badgad and Aleppo.

DANGER LURKS IN THIN BLOOD

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Enrich the Blood Which Quickly Shows in Cheeks and Lips.

The first place that anemia, or thin blood, shows is in the lips and gums and the membranes that line the eye lids. You may be naturally pale and still be healthy but when these membranes lose their bright red color your blood is deficient in quantity or quality.

Thin blood is a danger. It invites disease. The organisms of the blood fight off disease germs. Thin blood means less power to do this. For instance, when you cut yourself it does not heal so quickly if your blood is thin and weak.

The blood circulates throughout every portion of the body except the hair and nails. It takes the nourishment from the food and distributes it to the various muscles and organs; it takes also any medication that is administered through the mouth. The blood is the only means by which medicine can reach the nerves. If the blood is thin its carrying capacity is lessened because it is the red corpuscles in the blood that carry oxygen and other needed constituents to the various parts of the body.

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" give just the information that every mother of a growing girl needs. They are free.

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

STRIKERS TIE UP WAR WORK.

Carpenters Demand Increase of Pay at Norfolk.

Sympathetic Move Calls Out Other Workers.

Leaders Assert Unions are not Responsible.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NORFOLK (Va.) April 1.—Government war work in the Hampton Roads district was interrupted today by a strike of several thousand carpenters and other workers. Plants involved are the Hampton Roads naval base, the army depot at Bush Bluff and the ordnance depot at Pig's Point, all near Norfolk, and the Langley Aviation Field at Hampton.

The carpenters inaugurated the strike for an increase in pay, and at some of the plants a sympathetic strike among metal workers, plumbers and engineers followed. Union leaders said tonight that the strike was not a union movement, but government officials and contractors said that most of the men involved are union men and that they accepted this as evidence that the strike was the result of concerted union action.

Chairman Burroughs of the Norfolk county draft board announced tonight that this board would immediately revise all classifications and that men involved in the strike who have been given deferred classification by the board would be placed in class 1 unless entitled by reasons other than character of their work to deferred classification.

The strike started at the naval base, where leaders of the strikers claimed some 2000 men were out. At Bush Bluff, where an immense army depot is being constructed, 500 carpenters were said to have walked out, followed by men in other trades. All carpenters engaged in building the ordnance depot at Pig's Point were said by union men to have quit work, while some 500 men, principally carpenters employed at Langley Field, were reported to have struck.

Maj. Butler at the army base at Bush Bluff said tonight that a few of the strikers there had been induced to return to work. It also was announced that Maj. Gitchels had been ordered here from Washington to attempt to settle the controversy between the men and the contractors.

DELAY REFUSED.

The carpenters demand a minimum wage of 62½ cents an hour. The strike notice was served Friday on Rear-Admiral Harris, who was in Washington. He wired labor leaders here that the matter had been taken up and asked them to await a decision expected in a few days. This they refused to do.

About 6000 union carpenters are employed on government work in this district.

Although 600 men employed at Langley aviation field and at Fort Monroe, on cantonment work, struck today jointly with those engaged in government work at Norfolk, they already are getting 62½ cents per hour.

STRIKE THREATENED.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Representatives of 60,000 marine workers met here today to decide whether a strike which, it was alleged would tie up traffic in New York Harbor shall be called within forty-eight hours unless a controversy involving wage increases and hours of labor is settled.

SYMPATHY STRIKE MAY CAUSE BREAD FAMINE.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 1.—Kansas City tonight is facing what may prove a serious shortage of bread, as the result of the general strike called last week in sympathy with the walkout of the laundry workers. When workers in local bakeries today joined the general strike, an appeal was made to Herbert C. Hoover, Federal Food Administrator, to use his authority to call the strikers back to work. In a telegram tonight to State Food Administrator Mumford, Mr. Hoover asserted he was powerless to interfere.

Troops passing through Kansas City on troop trains and soldiers in near-by training camps will feel the effects of threatened bread shortage. All but one of the city's larger bakeries shut down today.

LAST OF THE YAQUIS FACE ANNIHILATION.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) April 1.—Gen. Alengrandro Mange, under the direction of Gen. P. Elias Calles, military commander of Sonora, has attacked the remnant of the rebellious Yaquis in Los Burros Canyon, in the Bacetete Mountains, and has surrounded their fortified position there, according to a message from Gen. Calles to Ives G. Lelevier, local Mexican Consul.

Forty-five Yaqui dead were found by the Mexicans. Among the dead were a number of women who are fighting with the Yaqui men. Ten Mexican soldiers have been killed and four wounded, the message said.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) April 1.—Fire starting in the center of a business block today destroyed eight business buildings with a property loss estimated at $300,000.

PLOT TO OBSTRUCT DRAFT IS REVEALED.

CHARGE GERMAN MONEY USED IN INFLUENCING NEGROES TO DISOBEY LAW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

JACKSON (Miss.) April 1.—Charges that German money is being used to encourage Mississippi negroes to evade the selective draft are made in a report filed at the Adjutant-General's office today by F. K. Ethridge, State inspector of local exemption boards.

The report declares it has been almost impossible to get negro registrants to respond to the draft and that C. H. Mason, pastor of a negro charge at Lexington, Miss., known as the "Church of God in Christ," has been preaching pro-German sermons and advising negroes to resist the draft.

The inspectors' reports said the "Church of God in Christ" has headquarters in Los Angeles.

In August, last year, a $10,000 brick church was built at Lexington, for which local negroes furnished only a small part of the building fund, the report says, and also that the pastor, hitherto an obscure preacher, recently erected a $25,000 residence in Memphis.

The headquarters of the "Church of God in Christ" is located at No. 1462 East Twentieth street, Rev. E. R. Driver being pastor. Though admitting that his church was opposed to war, Dr. Driver declared yesterday that the doctrine of its disciples were not pro-German, neither had they received any German money to hinder the draft, as Mississippi officials charged.

Dr. Driver stated that in his sermons here he had urged the young men to join the noncombatant units of the army. He declared that his son had been placed in Class 1 of the noncombatant division of the army after a special ruling by President Wilson exempting members of the flock from war service had been made.

ANOTHER GAMBLERS' WAR ON IN GOTHAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—A man identified as the slayer of Harry Cohen, a gambler, who was shot and killed early this morning in an uptown apartment-house, was brought to the detective bureau tonight. His identification was made by Joseph Edney, a negro elevator operator in the apartment-house.

In giving his pedigree, the man said he was Morris Rothenberg and that he was a waiter and bartender. He denied that he was the principal in the killing of Cohen, or that he was implicated in the shooting. He was locked up, however, charged with homicide.

Cohen, also known as "Harry the Yot," who had promised to reveal the name of the "man higher up" in the prosecutor's anti-gambling crusade. Cohen was shot and killed this morning. Dist.-Atty. Swann immediately ordered the apprehension of Sam Schepps, who was one of the prosecution's star witnesses against Charles Becker, the police lieutenant who was executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, in 1912.

Schepps was arrested a few hours after the shooting.

The circumstances recalled sharply those connected with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, who was shot and killed by gang men, hired by Charles Becker, a police lieutenant. Becker and four men were convicted of murder, and died in the electric chair at Sing Sing.

Up to the time of his arrest, the District Attorney withheld the reason for desiring Schepps's appearance. It was not asserted that he was near when Cohen was shot, but the police declare that he is identified in the inquiry as a friend of a woman, who, with two men, was arrested last week upon information furnished by "Harry the Yot."

Information that the gamblers whom the District Attorney is fighting had gunmen ready to kill any person who played the role of informer was placed in Mr. Swann's possession on Saturday night, the prosecutor announced.

"It is the same old story," Mr. Swann said. "History repeats itself. On Saturday night a man, whose identity I cannot now reveal, came to me and said, 'Boss, you've got us licked.' This man has been a gambler for twenty-five years. He said that the gamblers had gunmen ready to 'get anyone who squealed.' The gambler added: 'If it became known that I am here my life would not be worth a pin.'"

Mr. Swann said this gambler, who was not Cohen, told him the gamblers could summon gunmen within thirty minutes' notice.

Sam Schepps was one of the picturesque figures of the Rosenthal murder case. Dapper, suave, faultlessly dressed, he was an associate of the four gunmen who shot Rosenthal—"Gyp the Blood," "Dago" Frank, "Lefty Louie" and "Whitey" Lewis, who paid the penalty in the electric chair. He was accused by the defense of being an accomplice in the crime. Schepps testified freely for the State in both trials of Becker and in the trial of the gunmen.

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY WATER FLUMES FOILED

MISSOULA (Mont.) April 1.—An apparent plan to destroy the distribution system of the Bitter Root Valley Irrigation Company, upon which a great portion of the Bitter Root Valley depends for water during the growing season, was foiled today by discovery of kerosene and kindling under a big flume near Hamilton.

NEWSPAPERS APPROVE APPOINTMENT OF FOCH

LONDON, April 1.—Unanimous approval is given the appointment of Gen. Foch to be generalissimo of the Allied forces in France by the morning newspapers, including those which have been loudest in their opposition to such a move. Many columns are devoted to details of the career of the French general.

"The appointment," says the Daily Mail, "secured complete unity, a priceless asset on the side of the Allies, and means that the movements of Field Marshal Haig and Gen. Petain will be linked together."

Was There a Bomb?

MOONEY FILES PARDON PLEA.

Serves Formal Notice of Appeal to Governor.

Supreme Court Orders New Date of Execution.

Stephens Still Silent on Wilson's Requests.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Thomas J. Mooney served formal notice upon Dist.-Atty. Fickert here today that he had applied to Gov. Stephens for a pardon from the sentence of death imposed upon him on a murder charge, which grew out of a bomb explosion which killed ten persons and injured forty others here in 1916.

The application was on the regular form supplied by the State and was forwarded late today by Attorney Maxwell McNutt to Gov. Stephens. It followed closely upon the return by the State Supreme Court of a remittitur on the decision of March 1, in which the court upheld the decision of the lower court, which sentenced Mooney to hang, and denied him a new trial.

The pardon was requested on the ground that irregular acts had figured in the proceedings which led to Mooney's conviction, and the application quoted a statement to that effect by Superior Judge Griffin, who presided.

EXECUTION DATE.

A remittitur on the State Supreme Court decision which affirmed the death sentence imposed upon Mooney was sent to the Superior Court here today with orders that a new date for Mooney's execution be set by Judge Griffin.

The remittitur will be handed over by the clerk of the Superior Court to Dist.-Atty. Fickert, in whose discretion lies the time for bringing the document to the attention of Judge Griffin, who explained today that he cannot act until the District Attorney appears in his court and asks that a new date for Mooney's resentence be set. Judge Griffin explained that the District Attorney might appear immediately after the remittitur was in his hands or might delay for weeks and even months before taking action.

APPEAL BLOCKED HANGING.

The original date for Mooney's execution expired while his appeal to the Supreme Court was pending. The case will be in the hands of Gov. Stephens after the second date of execution is set, and Mooney's appeal for executive clemency will be filed then.

Gov. Stephens has maintained his silence concerning the contents of two messages sent him by President Wilson regarding the Mooney case. It is known, however, that the second message asked the Governor to invoke executive clemency on Mooney's behalf.

President Wilson's first message was sent Gov. Stephens immediately after the President's special mediation commission, which investigated the proceedings which led to Mooney's conviction, recommended that he be given a new trial because of alleged irregular circumstances surrounding his first trial which did not appear in the record.

TESTIMONY AT CAPITAL.

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—A portion of the transcript of the testimony given at the trial in San Francisco at which Thomas J. Mooney was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death, in connection with the preparedness parade bomb explosion there July 12, 1916, has been received at the office of Gov. Stephens.

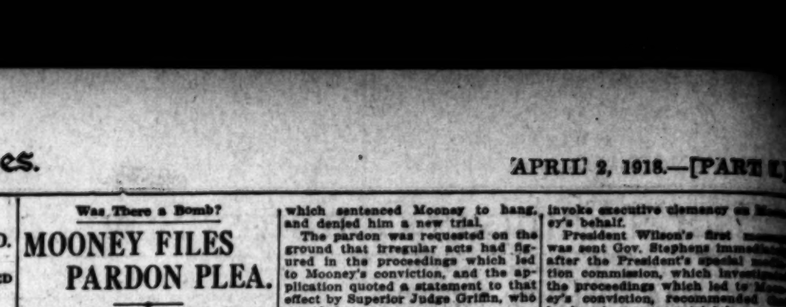

Testimony in the case of Israel Weinberg, another of the bomb-case defendants, who was found not guilty of the charge of murder in one of the indictments against him, also has been sent to the Governor's office.

Mooney's formal appeal for a pardon, which it was announced today in San Francisco had been mailed to Gov. Stephens, was expected to reach here either late tonight or tomorrow.

GOV. HUNT KNITS SCARF.

ROCKFORD (Ill.) April 1.—Mrs. George Hunt of Arizona inspected Camp Grant today and visited Arizona soldiers at the cantonment. The Governor is on his way to a conference at Washington. Gov. Hunt, while here, presented Maj. Harry D. Mishkiff, of Phoenix, Ariz., a woolen scarf which he had knitted.

BERGER TO GET UNLOYAL VOTE.

Pro-Germanism is Issue in Wisconsin Election.

Republicans and Democrats Both Claim Victory.

Showers Predicted to Keep Farmers at Home.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE, April 1.—Showers, according to the weather man, may be looked for tomorrow when Wisconsin voters go to the polls in the momentous special Senatorial election.

In the closing days of the campaign, Republicans, with Congressman Irvine L. Lenroot as their candidate, and the Democrats, led by Joseph E. Davies, predicted that the "disloyal vote" would go to Victor L. Berger, the Socialist candidate, and even admitted that not all of the Berger vote could be counted as pro-German, as the party had attained notable strength in the State before the war broke out in 1914. Whatever Berger polls, however, above his normal strength, will be credited by Democrats and Republicans to the German who remained more for his native than his adopted country.

Mr. Lenroot and his forces have not attacked the loyalty of the Democrats, nor have the latter seriously attacked that of Mr. Lenroot, although he has been called upon to defend his attitude before Congress entered the war. Senator Lodge's assertion that, ignoring Berger, a loyal man was bound to be elected whoever won, apparently has been quite generally accepted by the voters.

Mr. Davies considered it his greatest advantage that in these days, when it is necessary to give the President solid backing, the President has asked Wisconsin to elect him.

The election has been referred to as a test of the loyalty of the State, but Wisconsin politicians are generally insisting that the pro-German vote will be found in the Berger column and nowhere else, and assert that the nation which has displayed so much interest in the campaign can best approximate the so-called disloyal vote by an analysis of the ballots cast for Berger, who stands on a platform which demands the immediate withdrawal of our troops from France, and is said by his opponents to hold a Bolshevik view of bringing about a general peace.

Both Lenroot and Davies have declared for the prosecution of the war to peace by victory and unwavering support of the President. While the Republicans predict a total vote of 400,000 or more tomorrow, the Democrats predict 350,000 and their hope of success is based partly on the possibilities of the smaller vote.

WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—Rains were general over the East and East Central States today. Parts of the South and Northwest were also sprinkled. Temperatures showed little change from yesterday in any direction. Maximum in Chicago was 50 deg., minimum 44 deg. South Dakota and Wyoming varied the programme by reporting snow. Several Canadian stations did not report today, but the weather all over the Dominion is markedly cold.

ARMOUR TO SUPPORT FEDERAL MEAT PLANS.

COMPANY ASSURES PRESIDENT OF LOYALTY UNDER ANY DEMAND.

CHICAGO, April 1.—President Wilson's action looking toward the stabilization of meat prices through the naming of a commission of five members, which was seen as presaging virtual control of the packing companies by the government for the period of the war, was commented upon in the following statement issued by J. Ogden Armour:

"Armour & Co. is unqualifiedly and unreservedly for whatever course the President decided to be the best method whereby to utilize the packing industry as an efficient contributor to a successful solution of the war problems, both at and behind the firing line. Whether the President's decision be to regulate, to control or to take over and operate our plants and properties, Count Armour & Co. among the soldiers glad to salute orders and enthusiastically to obey."

Morris & Co. tonight sent a letter to President Wilson pledging full support and co-operation for any plan the President might decide upon, but adding that government control of packing plants or fixing of prices on live stock and live stock products did not seem practicable.

"We will continue to co-operate with the government along any lines which you may determine upon," said the letter. "However, we do not believe the fixing of prices by the government for live stock on the hoof and the manufactured product is generally is practicable, because we are dealing in a perishable product which must be sold fresh at whatever the market may be, and because the receipts of live stock vary and must be bought and slaughtered promptly."

BIG HOTELS QUIT WHEAT

Rice, Corn, Potato and Barley Flour to be Used as Substitutes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The managements of three of the city's largest hotels notified Ralph P. Merritt, Food Administrator for California, today, that they would cease the use of wheat products in any form in their kitchens beginning tomorrow and continuing until the new wheat harvest was in.

Rice, corn, potato and barley flour are to be used as substitutes.

Roy Carruthers, manager of two of the hotels, said that 20,000 pounds of wheat flour would be saved in one hotel alone.

The announcement of the hotel men today comes as a sequel to their recent participation in the meeting at Washington of 500 hotel proprietors with Food Administrator Hoover.

DRY MEASURE BARRED BY NEBRASKA SENATE.

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 1.—There will be no ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment at the present special session of the Nebraska Legislature until the Senate at some future date votes to reconsider and defeat a resolution passed late today providing that the business of the upper house be limited to the legislation specified by Gov. Keith Neville in his proclamation calling the Legislature together.

As no mention was made of the prohibition question in the Governor's call for the session, adoption of the resolution limiting the Senate's business will prevent the upper house from taking any action on the joint resolution for ratification of the amendment, which was passed by the House earlier in the day. The House voted to ratify the amendment by a vote of 66 to 7. The Senate's vote to prevent consideration of the amendment was 18 to 13.

WILSON PROCLAIMS POWER TO M'ADOO.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson by proclamation today delegated to Director-General McAdoo all powers to operate railroads and contract with them for government compensation, conferred on the President by the railroad act.

This was virtually done when the government assumed management of the roads December 26, but a new proclamation was made necessary by passage since then of the railway measure.

GREATEST NUMBER ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

In Los Angeles The Times regularly prints, week in and week out, year after year, not only a larger volume of advertising, but a greater number of separate advertisements, than any other local newspaper.

This persistent day after day leadership demonstrates that The Times is far and away the most popular advertising medium in Los Angeles.

On March 31, 1918, which was another banner day for The Times, the three local newspapers printed 19,704 inches of paid advertising. Of this volume The Times columns contained 9297 inches.

THE TIMES	9,297 inches
Second newspaper	6,674 "
Third newspaper	3,723 "

Of 5603 inches of popular, quick-action classified advertisements published in local newspapers last Sunday, The Times printed 3233 inches, which is 1534 inches more than the second newspaper and 2533 inches more than the third newspaper.

The foregoing facts and figures, as usual, prove beyond controversy that The Times has the greatest purchasing influence, and is used by more intelligent, discriminating and ready-buying readers, than any other one of this city's newspapers.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand copies of the incomparable Times were printed on Sunday, March 31, 1918. They were read by approximately 350,000 persons.

LONG-RANGE GERMAN GUN AGAIN BOMBARDS PARIS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 1.—The bombardment of Paris by long-range German guns was resumed this afternoon.

Four persons were killed and nine injured by the bombardment, according to the official announcement tonight.

ARCHBISHOP REPORTS.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The official bureau of French information here received the following cablegram from Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, regarding the bombardment of a Paris church by the Germans:

"On Good Friday, at the hour itself of the death of Our Lord, Jesus Christ, whilst the members of our flock were assembled in the churches, the Germans began again to bombard Paris after an interruption of several days. A big shell fell upon one of our churches and the roof collapsed, crushing numerous Christians who had come for divine service.

"We have found at least seventy-five dead and ninety wounded, of whom the majority are women and children. Such a crime, committed under such conditions, on such a day and such an hour, brings up the reprobation of every conscience. In our deep sorrow we have the duty of appealing to the justice of God as we implore his mercy for the victims."

MESSAGE FROM POPE.

PARIS, April 1.—Cardinal Amette, Archbishop of Paris, yesterday received the following telegram from Rome:

"The Holy Father, deploring the fact that the bloody conflict, which already has caused everywhere so much suffering, has again, on the very day of the Savior's passion, found more innocent victims, who are still dearer to his heart, owing to their faith and piety, expresses his deepest sympathy. He sends the apostolic blessing to all faithful in Paris, and desires to know if it is necessary to send material aid to the families in mourning."

The cardinal has received the following letter from Grand Rabbi Israel Levi:

"Your Eminence, I am the interpreter of the feelings of all my French coreligionists in saying that I share in the mourning which has come to so many families devastated by sacrilegious barbarism. We are one in pious indignation at the crime, which seems to have been intended as an insult to what humanity holds most sacred."

KULTUR'S VIEWPOINT.

LONDON, April 1.—Speaking of the loss of life in a Paris church from a shell fired by a long-range German gun, a semiofficial Berlin dispatch, forwarded from Amsterdam to the Central News, says it is to be deplored, but that every church within an attacked fortress necessarily is subject to incidental hits. The responsibility for the security of the inhabitants of Paris, the dispatch says, must rest with the French government.

POPE CONCERNED.

ROME, April 1.—Pope Benedict expressed deep concern on receiving reports today of the occurrence, at the loss of life in the Paris church which was struck by a German shell. The Pope visited Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, who is confined to bed with a cold, and discussed with him the attitude which the Vatican should take, it being felt that the situation has assumed a new aspect, inasmuch as shells from guns instead of bombs from airplanes are being used to bombard Paris.

FORMAL ORDERS ISSUED REGARDING DUTCH SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Formal orders for the taking over of all tackle, apparel, furniture and equipment, including bunker coal and stores, belonging to the Dutch ships in American ports which have been seized by the United States, were issued today by President Wilson. Some of the masters of the vessels removed or attempted to remove navigating instruments, glasses and other equipment when they surrendered possession of their ships.

The navy was directed to take possession of the property and the Shipping Board was instructed to make full compensation to the owners in accordance with international law. The order applies to property already acquired as well as that still to be obtained from the ship's officers.

Holland's protest against the requisitioning of her ships by the United States and Great Britain as published in the official gazette at The Hague and transmitted in news cables, reached the State Department today. Minister Garrett at The Hague cabled the document, which was not sent as a formal protest, although it is regarded here as such. It was handed to Minister Garrett simply as a statement of the government's views.

ARMY WANTS CIVILIAN AID.

Ordnance Department Issues a Call for Experts at Good Pay.

The Ordnance Department of the United States Army has issued an appeal which reached the local Chamber of Commerce yesterday for an immediate supply of high-grade mechanical draftsmen, inspectors of munitions, chemists, accountants, statisticians and clerk bookkeepers. Salaries for the various positions run from $800 to $6000 a year.

The ordnance department is charged with supplying all munitions for soldiers in France, so the appeal, which came from the civil personnel division, indicates that Uncle Sam is about to put his best foot forward in hurrying war material overseas. Among the inspectors required are field artillery ammunition, steel, forgings, high explosive shell loading, powder and explosives, steel mill products, artillery ammunition, engineering material, packing boxes, cartridge cases, assembling and loading, ballistic inspectors, artillery wheels, gun carriage forgings, gun-fire control instruments, machinery and machine tools, cannon (machining operations.)

ENGEL AIRCRAFT CO. CONTRACTS RENEWED.

ACTION FOLLOWS RETIREMENT OF SECRETARY BAKER'S BROTHER.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—The contracts of the Engel Aircraft Company of Niles, O., organized and promoted by H. D. Baker, brother of Secretary of War Baker, have been renewed and reinstated by the War Department.

Following revelations by the Senate Military Affairs Committee in its investigation last January, Secretary Baker announced that he had induced his brother to withdraw from the company, and that the contracts with the government had been cancelled.

It developed in the Senate investigation that the Signal Corps division of the War Department had awarded contracts last October and December to the Engel Aircraft Company, totaling about $900, for army airplanes, notwithstanding a refusal last July to contract with the company because it was a "paper" concern and had not the plant or equipment to manufacture airplanes.

When the Times correspondent inquired at the office of Maj.-Gen. Squier, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, he was informed that the contracts had been reinstated because Secretary Baker's brother had retired as president and disposed of his interests in the company, which now was fully equipped and willing to manufacture airplanes for the government. Other contracts would doubtless be made with the Engel company, it is said.

GERMANS TESTIFY IN AGASSIZ CASE.

TRIAL BEFORE PRIZE COURT AT SAN DIEGO WILL END TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—Testimony of the five German prisoners taken when an American naval vessel overhauled the little auxiliary schooner Alexander Agassiz off Masatlan, March 19, was completed today before the prize court appointed to hear the case. Richard Brandt, who said he was formerly a rancher at Calipatria, in Imperial Valley, testified that he took aboard the Agassiz a shotgun and a revolver. He was asked why he took these weapons if the trip of the Agassiz was only a trial one, as had been declared was the case. He said he took them only for emergency.

Another sailor, Henrik Koppalla, said that the Agassiz carried provisions for six weeks.

United States District Attorney Robert O'Connor will sum up the case for the government tomorrow, when, it is expected, the case of the alleged German raider will be finished.

Does Sleep Fail to Refresh You?

Kidney troubles are very common in our country, partly because of the American habit of making a continued rush of either work or pleasure. It gives the system, especially the kidneys, no time to recover. When the kidneys are weak you are likely to feel all tired out and nervous, and to suffer backache, headache, dizzy spells, sharp, darting pains and urinary irregularities. The kidneys need help. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them for just such troubles.

Another Los Angeles Report

John Francy, 127 E. Fifty-first St., says: "No doubt it was colds settling in my kidneys that caused my back to ache. I was annoyed day and night and my kidneys also acted too often. Doan's Kidney Pills took away the backache and regulated my kidneys."

SLACKER LOSES; TO SERVE OUT YEAR.

CIRCUIT COURT AFFIRMS THE JUDGMENT AGAINST EDWARD PHELAN.

By the action of the United States Circuit Court of Appeal yesterday in affirming the judgment of conviction in the case of Edward Phelan, the Monrovia slacker, who was found guilty by a jury in United States District Judge Trippet's court some months ago, one of the most celebrated slacker cases in the history of the local Federal Court was disposed of. Phelan has been at liberty on a bond of $5000 since his conviction.

Phelan was tried twice on the charge of evading the draft. In the first hearing, before Judge Bledsoe, the jury disagreed. In the second trial, before Judge Trippet, Phelan was convicted. Later he was sentenced to twelve months in the County Jail, a judgment that he must now satisfy.

Phelan claimed that he was born on March 13, 1886, and therefore not subject to registration June 5, 1917. The government charged that he was born July 13, 1886, and therefore had not attained his thirty-first birthday at the time of registration. The government sought to introduce the entry in the Phelan family Bible, showing that he was born in July, but it was ruled out as legal evidence.

The mandate of the United States Circuit Court must be sent here within thirty days, and at that time Phelan must surrender himself and go to jail or forfeit his bond. Since his conviction the young man has been married, but this will not avail him as a reason for exemption under the circumstances.

ANGLERS BUSY IN THE NORTH.

Angel City Sportsmen go After Finny Tribe.

Limit is Caught on Ventura Early in Day.

Many Parties Expected Back in Town Today.

Festive devotees of the fly and makers of the salmon egg will commence dribbling into town by twos and threes this morning from the opening of the trout season in Ventura county, and the districts to the north, yesterday. From all reports available the modern Izaak Waltons have been having a successful session along the Sespe, Ventura River, Santa Paula and in the Matilija and Wheeler's Springs districts. These anglers have jumped the gun, so to speak, on the opening of the local season and will have their tackle in top shape and the old casting arm going better than ever by May 1, when the Sierra Madre streams will be available.

C. R. Browner galloped into town last night with the limit, stating that he had hooked the law's amount of the finny beauties before 9:30 o'clock on the Ventura River. Brown reported that the fish are rather small and the water high and muddy, but that within a week or ten days conditions will be ideal. He ran across several anglers who had landed steelheads.

ENTHUSIASTS.

The following sportsmen registered with local sporting goods houses to wish the opening day and are expected back with their reports by noon today: Dr. E. B. Jones, Joe Welsh, John M. Maltman, "Chief" Herald, I. Gardwood, Dr. Young, Charles Hickok, S. Q. Shannon, J. T. Downs, J. R. Gheselen, John W. Bate, A. W. Fisher, W. J. Wilson, L. C. Lohman, W. A. Banks, Vincent Guercia, W. G. Young J. L. Hantso, Harry Stepler, Dr. C. H. West, William Terry, Lloyd Mangus, Henry Nutt, Leroy Zeller, F. Lenier, T. W. Murdock, Dr. W. B. Barber, Fred Browne, Jim Taig, Harry Phillips and Dr. P. V. K. Johnson.

Parker Dear, one of Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner John Barnett's assistants in the Santa Clara Valley section of Ventura county, telegraphed to the local Fish and Game Commission office yesterday that he had caught a "scener" frying trout Friday on the banks of the stream. Friday is a good day to eat fish, but not when it happens to be three days ahead of the legal season. This mess cost the captor at the rate of about $20 a pound, and he, too, is complaining of the price.

REMEMBER TIME.

All sportsment should bear in mind that the tide tables and sunrise and sunset cards printed up for the year are now incorrect, it being necessary to compute the recent change in time in making use of these documents. High and low tide and sunrise and sunset must all be figured one hour ahead of the time listed on the cards, by anglers and hunters.

PLAN LIBERTY LOAN FIELD DAY FOR NEXT SATURDAY.

ED MAIER yesterday announced a huge Liberty Loan field day for Maier Park, next Saturday afternoon, the entire proceeds of which will go to swell the opening day's total of the third war loan. A programme of sporting events really wonderful in scope will be put on, and a huge sum, it is expected, will be realized. There will be a number of boxing bouts between soldiers from Camp Kearny and sailors from the submarine base, and in addition a number of the local talent will perform. Jim Jeffries will referee and possibly Kid McCoy will perform. These arrangements are in charge of Wad Wadhams and Tim McGrath. Prof. Ito will put on three exhibitions of Japanese wrestling. A bunch of moving-picture comedians will stage a comedy tug-o'-war, and as an especially thrilling attraction army airplanes from San Diego will do stunts directly over the park.

SUBMARINE FIGHTS WILL BE HUMMERS.

A boxing card de luxe is being arranged for the Submarine sport show, which is to be held at Doyle's Vernon arena, Thursday night, April 11, featuring five main event bouts in which five of the best navy fighters will meet five boys from the outside. The affair, which is being given primarily for the benefit of the Submarine Base athletic fund, will furnish an opportunity for several well-known fighters, who have not appeared much in the ring since joining the service, to come back in bouts which will test their mettle. Steve Dalton, Tommy McFarland, Sailor Kramer and Phil Salvadore will be seen in action under the banner of the Submarine Base, while Guercia, W. G. Young J. L. Hantso, Harry Stepler, Dr. C. H. West, William Terry, Lloyd Mangus, Henry Nutt, Leroy Zeller, F. Lenier, T. W. Murdock, Dr. W. B. Barber, Fred Browne, Jim Taig, Harry Phillips and Dr. P. V. K. Johnson.

MOHA RECOVERING.

MILWAUKEE, April 1.—Eddie Moha, the welterweight, is recovering in a hospital in Milwaukee from an operation for removal of a blood clot from his brain. Moha was injured as a result of his recent knockout by Jock Malone of St. Paul. Moha said he never will engage in another boxing bout.

CUBS AND SOX FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, said today all games at his park will start at 3 p.m. To start games at 4 p.m., he said, would be a violation of the spirit of the daylight saving law.

Charles H. Weeghman, president of the Chicago Nationals, announced similar plans.

President Ban Johnson of the American League, announced tonight that the organization would not take concerted action on the proposal to start all games at 4 p.m. under the daylight saving plan. Each club will be permitted to decide the hour for starting its own games, he said.

ALBACORE RETURNS FROM OCEAN TRIP.

The State Fish and Game Commission's sea patrol boat Albacore returned Saturday from a week's cruise among the Channel Islands as far south as Clemente, combining scientific research with a hunt for law violators. Drs. Barton W. Evermann, VanDenburgh, Joseph Maillard, Joseph J. Slevins and Eugene Law of Hollywood were landed on San Clemente, Santa Catalina, San Nicolas, Santa Barbara Islands, where they made a study of the flora and fauna. A survey of the kelp beds was made, and considerable material collected for the commercial fisheries research work being conducted for the State by Dr. William F. Thompson.

FANS SHOULD WATCH THE SKY AT NOON.

Today's game at Washington Park will not be called off on account of rain unless it rains heavily up to the hour of starting. As a rule, the grounds dry very fast, and a clearing sky in the morning would almost insure a game in the afternoon. The grounds yesterday were in excellent condition, and it will take a steady downpour to render them unfit for play.

FIGHT APRIL 16.

OUTFIELD OF SEALS MISFIT.

San Francisco Lacks Full Strength at Start.

Oaks Seem to Have Shaky Infield Bunch.

Sacramento Fans All Look Very Cheerful.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Recreation Park, Mayor Rolph will borrow a baseball cap in order to look as much as possible like a ball player; put on his best smile and hurl a baseball in the general direction of the plate. Behind the bat will squat Chief of Police White, who will catch the ball, if he can.

The Oaks and Seals are to be the contending teams and they will be greeted by a full house, for the advance sales is heavy.

The Seals will not be at full strength tomorrow, for Roy Corhan will not be able to play. He was hit on the left wrist by a pitched ball during the training season at Fresno and he cannot yet grip a bat. Corhan is one of the big cogs in the local machine, for he is a stone wall of defense, and he will be sadly missed.

Herbie Hunter will endeavor to plug up the gap left by Corhan, and if he gives an exhibition of booting such as he put on display last Sunday he will hand the folks a big laugh, even if he does not help win the game. Herb is not a shortstop, and when Corhan gets on the job the long-legged boy will go to the outfield, but in this emergency he will bite deep into his wad of chewing gum and do his derndest—and Angels can do no more.

But the Oaks will be without their regular shortstop, too; so that makes things even. Hollander, the little fellow who beat the Cubs at Oakland, Sunday morning, with a lonny wallop in the ninth, twisted an ankle in the afternoon game, so he will not play tomorrow. One of the numerous Croll brothers from Alameda will hold down the job in the opening game. The Seals have a misfit outfield and the Oaks have a shaky infield—so may the best team win tomorrow.

Line-up and batting orders for the opening game between the Oaks and Seals are virtually as forecasted: It is a bitter pill for Capt. Jerry Downs that Roy Corhan will be unable to go in at short. This leaves Hunter at the infield berth with Pitcher Phillips holding down an outfield job. Downs has picked Casey Smith as his heaver, with Red McKee to catch. Speed Martin will work for Oakland.

AT THE CAPITAL.

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—Sacramento is to be rechristened as the Coast League's lusty newborn tomorrow. For a time, as the fans remained away from the preseason games, it began to look that perhaps the godfathers and godmothers would be on hand. However, they were merely pouting and this evening even the grandmothers were chattering about "our boys."

The Coast Leaguers trimmed the big leaguers this afternoon, 3 to 2, so Sacramento has jumped to the conclusion that a real ball club has dropped in its midst.

MANAGER M'CREDIE of the Salt Lake Bees, who will make their first appearance today. Below, Larry Chapelle, right fielder and former White Sox swatter, known as Salt Lake's "$15,000 Beauty."

HARL MAGGERT IS SOLD TO SEALS.

Centerfielder Harl Maggert of the Los Angeles Club is a Seraph no longer. Just about the time that it began drizzling yesterday afternoon title to Maggert was officially transferred to the San Francisco Seals by Prexy Powers of the Angels. Maggert made a good showing while with the local organization and must have brought a fairly good figure from the northerners. None of the terms of the deal was disclosed.

VERNONITES ON WAY TO CAPITAL.

Bill Essick and his Vernon pets left here last night at 7:30 o'clock for Sacramento, where they open the season with a seven-game series against Bill Rogers's Senators. Manager Essick was in high spirits, having signed Babe Borton to play first base. Borton, he claimed, would add greatly to the club's batting strength. Quinn and De Vormer will be the Vernon battery.

ATHLETIC HERO IS HONORED IN NAVY.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Tedford Cann, 20-year-old champion swimmer of New York University, now in the United States Navy, who was awarded the Congressional medal of honor last February 9 for saving the U.S.S. May, has been commissioned an ensign by Secretary Daniels, according to a cable message received here today by the youth's father.

Cann, with another seaman, Ora Graves, when the vessel sprang a leak, volunteered to enter the bilge flooded with eight feet of water and closed the opening in a pipe connection.

Ensign Cann was champion 100-yard senior swimmer of America when he enlisted in the Naval Reserve last summer. He also holds the world's junior record for 100 yards.

PERCH AND SEALS BAD FOR SURFMEN.

Tempted by the early spring run of corbina and croakers, Charlie Crestat and Frank Kling, well-known clam butchers, shied their sinkers into the surf at Kelly's Slough below Oceanside Sunday, and harvested a nice mess of fish, despite a pest of perch and three big seals, which herded the fish away between the forays of "sea lice." All the fishing was in the evening; the croakers ran about four pounds and the corbina two and one-half mostly. Another good catch was made by the greenhouse at San Luis Rey by a beach fisherman. Surf casters are looking for an early fishing season.

DEMPSEY-COWLER BATTLE IS OFF.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—The bout between Jack Dempsey and Tom Cowler, the English heavyweight, scheduled for April 8 here, was cancelled by Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, today. Dempsey will meet Bob Devere, the Kansas City heavyweight, who is a big drawing card here, instead.

WAGERS GIANTS WILL CAPTURE PENNANT.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—One of the first bets reported here on the coming baseball pennant race was announced today. A supporter of the Giants put up $2500 to $1000 that the New York team will win the National League pennant.

ATHLETES GALORE.

Nearly every prep athlete in Southern California will be seen in action in the Southern California meet to be held at San Bernardino, next Saturday. Although entries have been slow in arriving about 200 embryo record breakers are expected to line up for the trip to the Gate City Saturday morning.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL REVIEWS CADET CAMP.

Eight hundred high school cadets at Camp Arcadia were reviewed yesterday by Adjt.-Gen. Borree, Col. Anita Baldwin, Lieut.-Col. W. N. Hensley, Jr., and Maj. Wishard, commander of the camp.

A sham battle was engaged in, which was won by the students of the Hollywood High School. Following the review, Lieut.-Col. Hensley addressed the youths, praising them for their showing at the affair.

SALT LAKE IN FINE FETTLE

Mormon Nine Looks Good in Practice Stunts.

Chapelle Slated to Make Big Showing.

Wilson of Angels Handles Third Well.

BY EDWIN F. O'MALLEY.

The Salt Lake Bees arrived here yesterday morning in fine fettle. It looks as if McCredie has gotten together a likely bunch of players. The only weakness appears to be in the heaving department, which was badly shattered recently through an automobile accident, which injured Penner and Dubuc, two of his best mound men.

It is hardly likely that Penner or Dubuc will be in the trace again inside of two months. In the meantime, McCredie will have to depend principally on Leverens and McCabe. Leverens is still a holdout, but it is expected he will come to terms in time to pitch against the Angels this afternoon. In case he doesn't McCabe will be on the mound.

The Washington Park grounds were turned over to the visitors at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A fair crowd of local fans was on hand to see the Mormons work out. McCredie ordered only batting practice. The boys certainly did hit the ball and hit it hard.

AT FIRST.

Larry Chapelle, the new right fielder, is a batting fool and with all signs fail, should make a good showing this year. Sheehey, at first, grabbed a few that looked as if they had been shot at the clouds. He also smashed the pill hard, as did Buddy Ryan. Buddy is still high flesh, but appeared to get over the ground as fast as he did last year.

Orr showed as snappy as ever at short and looked ready to duplicate his part in those famous double plays of last season. Cox at third, a new comer, is rather weak in the field, but leans on the ball good and often. Farmer is the same old Farmer of 1917. He lined them out to all corners of the lot. Siglin performed about the same as usual.

McCredie is well pleased with his team and declared that had it not been for the accident to Penner and Dubuc he would have gotten off to a flying start. He expects to make good showing this week but will have to depend on Leverens and McCabe to do the biggest part of the twirling.

STIFF PRACTICE.

The Angels went through a stiff practice in the morning. Red Shellefer did particularly well at second and his arm showed evidence of coming around into good shape. Wilson handled himself nicely at third. Crawford centered most of his work on hitting and batted. Boles was as lively as a two-year-old and Crandall and Fittery looked as if they were ready to pitch in mid-season form.

The game today will start at 3 o'clock, Umpire Frary officiating. The parade before the game will leave the Washington Park grounds at 12:15 p.m., moving through the principal streets of the city. President Powers will endeavor to get Gov. Stephens to dignify the occasion by his presence. Mayor Woodman will toss the first ball over the plate. Members of the City Council will be present in a body.

Salt Lake—Leverens or McCabe, pitcher; Konnick, catcher; Sheehy, first base; Siglin, second base; Orr, shortstop; Cox, third base; Ryan, left field; Farmer, center field; Chapelle, right field.

SCHOFIELD LEADER IN PINEHURST GOLF

PINEHURST (N. C.) April 1.—L. Schofield of Stamford, Ct., led a field of 185 entrants today at the end of the first eighteen holes of the qualifying round of the north and south amateur championship golf tournament here. Schofield scored 39-38. Dr. C. H. Gardner of Providence was second with 42-37. Dewitt Baleh, Cincinnati, Louis Hamilton, Garden City, and L. Pierce, Rochester, Vt., tied for third place, and $6. The remaining eighteen holes will be played tomorrow.

EXPECT TABASCO BATTLES TONIGHT

One of the best battles seen in Vernon in several months is expected tonight, when Young Fritz tackles Phil Salvadore in the four-round main event. Young Fritz, the hard-hitting French boxer, has dropped the "F" out of his name and hereafter be known as Young Fritz started to box preliminaries at Doyle's club about a year ago and has steadily battled his way to the top, until he now ranks with the best 135-pounders on the Coast. His latest victim was Billy Capper.

Salvadore came here from Sacramento a few months ago and engaged in several bouts with the best boxers in the south and never received worse than a draw. He is now enlisted at the submarine base at San Pedro.

Joe Miller and Louie Ross, 138-pounders, will clash in the semi-windup. One of the best bouts of the night is expected, as both are aggressive sluggers. The two preliminaries that complete the card are arranged as follows: Kid Ross vs. Ted Titus, 118 pounds; Young Jordan vs Sailor Hill, 118 pounds; Battling Frankie vs. Kid Chapin, 128 pounds; Leo Lee vs. Kid Blair, 118 pounds.

Dick Donald will referee.

GRIFFITH PARK BUS LINE QUITS.

Scores of Griffith Park golfers were forced to forego their daily round of the links yesterday when the bus line that has been operating between Ivanhoe and the Griffith Park course ceased operations. Van M. Griffith, owner of the line, announced that the business has not been profitable for nearly three years, many of the customers making the outward trip on the bus, but returning to the city with other golfers who had brought their own machines. Several schemes are on foot to restore the use of the links to those without automobiles. One project calls for a bus line running from First street out Vermont avenue to Griffith Park. The Park Commissioners will probably take the matter before the City Council today, according to several prominent players who have been working upon the matter.

NEW LEAGUE WILL BE BORN WEDNESDAY.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—The new International League, which was born last week after the vote to suspend operations by the club owners of the old organization, will assume definite form Wednesday. At that time a meeting of the four club owners who have been granted franchises in the new circuit will be held at the International League offices here.

At present there seems to be plenty of material for an eight-club organization, which will include the three clubs of the International League, Baltimore, Toronto and Rochester, the residue of the New York State League and Jersey City. Up to date there have been six applications for membership.

MEET TONIGHT TO PLAN FOR TOURNEY.

The A.A.U. Track Committee will hold a meeting at the L.A.A.C. this evening to send out entry blanks for the annual A.A.U. meet, to be held at Bovard Field, April 13, and decide other matters of moment. At present it appears that the A.A.U. event will be the cream of the season. Kilby, the record-smashing phenom from Redlands, and Adkinson of Pomona, have been signed up for a return duel in the 440, while effort is being made to list Fosberg of Arizona, sensation of the conference meet, in the distances. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be put up for each item on the programme.

THIRD ROUND OF PREP BASEBALL.

The prep baseball season will get away to the third round of play Friday with four games on the programme. The battles slated are: Poly vs. Pasadena at Pasadena, Whittier vs. Long Beach at Long Beach, L. A. vs. Lincoln at Lincoln and Jefferson vs. Hollywood at Hollywood. Manual holds the bye.

BILLIARD PLAYERS BUYING AMBULANCES.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—The committee in charge of the billiard players' ambulance fund predicts that by early summer the fund will reach its goal—$300,000. The money will be spent for motor ambulances, which will be hurriedly sent to France, so that they may be received in time to take part in relief work during the heavy fighting expected on the western front this summer.

The fund is now rolling in smoothly. Reports received from Western and Southern States say that satisfactory progress is being made and that all sections will make good with their quotas. Up to date the net collections in New York City amount to about $4000. This sum was raised from returns of several volunteer exhibitions of star players and many small individual contributions.

BEST HORSES FOR KENTUCKY RACES.

LOUISVILLE, April 1.—With twenty imported thoroughbreds among the seventy 3-year-olds entered in the Kentucky Derby, and an equally large percentage of foreign horses engaged in other important stake races this year, the campaign now at hand promises to throw further interesting light on the relative merits of French, English and American runners.

Never have the foreigners constituted such an important element as at present in American racing. In the all-aged class are Omar Khayyam and Hourless, and everybody expects to see something like top weights assigned to them in the big spring handicaps like the Metropolitan and the Brooklyn. The 3-year-old division includes Sunbriar and War Cloud, while the training stables are full of well-bred 3-year-olds from French and English studs that have yet to show their class.

Wilson handled himself nicely at third. Crawford centered most of his work on hitting and bunting. Boles was as lively as a two-year-old and Crandall and Fittery looked as if they were ready to pitch in midseason form.

The game today will start at 3:30 o'clock, Umpire Frary officiating. The parade before the game will leave the Washington Park grounds at 12:15 p.m., moving through the principal streets of the city. President Powers will endeavor to get Gov. Stephens to dignify the occasion by his presence. Mayor Woodman will toss the first ball over the plate. Members of the City Council will be present in a body.

Salt Lake—Leverenz or McCabe, pitcher; Komnick, catcher; Sheeley, first base; Siglin, second base; Orr, shortstop; Cox, third base; Ryan, left field; Farmer, center field; Chapelle, right field.

SCHOFIELD LEADER IN PINEHURST GOLF.

PINEHURST (N. C.) April 1.—L. Schofield of Stamford, Ct., led the field of 135 entrants today at the end of the first eighteen holes of the qualifying round of the north and south amateur championship tournament here. Schofield made 79-38. Dr. C. H. Gardner of Providence was second with 42-37. Dewitt Balch, Cincinnati; Louis B. Hamilton, Garden City, and L. B. Pierce, Rochester, Vt., tied for third place, and 86. The remaining eighteen holes will be played tomorrow.

EXPECT TABASCO BATTLES TONIGHT.

One of the best battles seen at Vernon in several months is expected tonight, when Young Fitz tackles Phil Salvadore in the four-round main event. Young Fritz, the hard-hitting French boxer, has dropped the "t" out of his name and will hereafter be known as Young Fiz. Fitz started to box preliminaries at Doyle's club about a year ago and has steadily battled his way to the top, until he now ranks with the best 135-pounders on the Coast. His latest victim was Billy Cappelli.

Salvadore came here from Sacramento a few months ago and engaged in several bouts with the best boxers in the south and never received worse than a draw. He has now enlisted at the submarine base at San Pedro.

Joe Miller and Louis Rees, husky 128-pounders, will clash in the semi-windup. One of the best bouts of the night is expected, as both are aggressive sluggers. The other preliminaries that complete the card are arranged as follows: Kid Mendez vs. Ted Titus, 118 pounds; Chief Jordan vs Sailor Hill, 158 pounds; Battling Frankie vs. Kid Denby, 125 pounds; Leo Lee vs. Bishop, 118 pounds.

Dick Donald will referee.

Conspiracy.

I.W.W. CHIEFS DENY CRIMES.

Defendants at Chicago Plead not Guilty.

Trial Under Espionage Act Begun in Court.

Poets, Lumberjacks, Authors in Accused Bunch.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—Leaders and organizers of the Industrial Workers of the World, more than 100 in number, entered pleas of not guilty today at the opening of the trial in which the government will attempt to prove that the defendants violated the espionage act, plotted to destroy industries, and conspired to hamper prosecution of the war.

With but one exception, all of the 113 defendants were in court when Federal Judge Landis ordered their names called for formal pleading. Albert Kimball, who was out on bail, was reported seriously ill.

Examination of prospective jurors will be continued when court reconvenes tomorrow. Nineteen veniremen were excused today, some pleading that they were engaged in food production. A panel of 100 veniremen called for today will be supplemented by fifty more tomorrow.

REUNIONS.

Poets, lumberjacks and political writers and speakers were among the defendants, who, manacled and heavily guarded, were brought into the courtroom in groups of ten. Their raiment, including overalls, flowing ties and fancy waistcoats, puzzled crowds of spectators, only a few of whom gained entrance to the courtroom. Former associates of the defendants staged striking reunions, some falling into embraces.

George F. Vandeveer, chief counsel for the defense, said tonight witnesses had been called by the defense from all parts of the country, with a view to proving the I.W.W. is simply an organization of workers. The defense will attempt to show by these witnesses that while the organization feels that the present political system is too slow in industrial and social reforms, there has been no attempt to cripple industry or block war plans.

ACCUSED SICK.

After formal pleas of not guilty had been entered and the case against one defendant dismissed, Judge Landis adjourned court to permit physical examinations of J. A. McDonald, a Seattle editor, whose counsel said he was too ill to stand trial, and Kimball, who was reported sick at home. McDonald was in court, but his condition was such that his removal was made necessary.

Because of lack of evidence, the case against Arturo Giovannatti, one of the editors of The Masses, and a leader of the Lawrence (Mass.) textile strike, was dismissed.

Unusual precautions to prevent a possible outbreak on the part of defendants were taken as manacles were removed. The prisoners were searched for weapons.

There was a round of hand-shaking when William D. "(Big Bill") Haywood, general secretary-treasurer of the I.W.W., took his place among the group of prisoners. Some difficulty was found in making a few of the prisoners keep their heads bared.

EVIDENCE.

Hundreds of witnesses have been summoned, and tons of literature, seized by the government during raids on headquarters of the I.W.W., are stored in the Federal Building ready to be used at the trial.

Early in September raids were made by the United States Marshals on I.W.W. headquarters in various cities of the country, and many members of the organization arrested, and much documentary evidence obtained. Three weeks after the arrests, indictments against 166 persons admitting membership in the I.W.W. were returned by the Federal grand jury in Chicago. Forty have not been arrested, ten have been dismissed, and separate trials have been granted to three of the accused, including Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, of New York.

BOY EMBEZZLER OF PITTSBURGH CAUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Louis Beck, 19 years old, was arrested here today on a charge of embezzling $16,000 from the Adams Express Company in Pittsburgh, where he was employed by the express company in a confidential capacity. Beck admitted his identity and confessed the theft, according to the police.

Beck disappeared from Pittsburgh with the money last February, the police here said. According to the statement the police said he gave them all the stolen money except $200 taken from him by pickpockets in a Chicago passenger station.

GERMANS PROTEST RED GUARDS' MOVEMENT.

LONDON, April 1.—Germany has protested to the Russian government against the continuation of the movement of Red Guard forces from Russia to Finland, and asks the withdrawal of such rear-guard detachments as have passed the frontier, according to a wireless dispatch from Berlin today.

The punishment of the "guilty" in this connection is asked, as well as preventive measures for the future. Germany will take the necessary measures herself if the Russian government is "not able to fulfill its obligations" in this respect, the Russian authorities are informed.

WAR STAMP SALES REACH $150,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Sales of war savings and thrift stamps in March were $64,000,000, and brought the total receipts from that source in the four months since the war savings campaign started to $150,000,000. Officials estimated, however, that actual sales, some of which have not been reported, had been about $180,000,000.

War savings workers are planning on making special efforts during the Liberty Loan campaign, which opens Saturday, to sell more than them by 11 to 2.

Kelly-Springfield

BIG—STURDY—OVERSIZED

CORD TIRES

We found out what Kelly Cords would do before we offered them for sale. The experimenting was all ours. The pleasure is all yours.

We made our tests with 500 Kelly Cords. If there was a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Tires, it would have interfered. We subjected those tires to the most inhuman treatment we could think of. We drove them over heavy, icy, rutty, winter roads, day and night, on cars weighted up to 5200 pounds, until we wore them out. We then averaged up the odometers and got over 12,000 miles for the 500 tires. You are not buying a new untried tire when you buy Kelly Cords. You are getting a seasoned veteran. They add new luster to the name "Kelly-Springfield."

bank of the Somme about the same period of the day and these also met with failure.

Sanguinary engagements in which the combatants again came to close fighting and individual combats took place about the Lassigny sector.

CAUGHT IN SHELL TEMPEST.

Here the French field artillery caught the advancing German columns under a tempest of shells, which drove them back, but only after the ground was strewn with hundreds of bodies.

At Piemont, two German divisions, which had received strict orders to execute an advance whatever the cost, and capture a height, found themselves confronted by a French division which would not give way before the fury of the German attack. For a moment the French were forced back, but took breath and came at the enemy again with such a rush that the Germans were driven from the height, leaving 700 prisoners, including twenty officers, in the hands of the French.

At no period of the war has the fighting been so fierce. The Germans intended at any cost to reach and destroy the railroad communication at Amiens connecting the north and south. Today, the eleventh day of the battle, they find before them a solid wall of Allied troops which daily is becoming firmer, as artillery is advancing from all trains to support the infantry, which has stood the entire shock up to the present.

ALLIED AVIATORS WIN PLACE.

A word must be said for the Allied aviators, who, from the beginning of the battle, have worked incessantly, taking the place of cavalry for reconnaissance and often descending to an altitude of 100 feet or less to attack with machine guns the advancing infantry. Their daring seemed to have an almost paralyzing effect on the German foot soldiers, but often when the airmen returned to the airdromes to obtain more ammunition their airplanes were found to be riddled with bullets.

It appears that certain of the German forces possess many tanks, but so far they have been utilized very little. A captured order shows that five of these were placed at the disposal of one division, while prisoners declare that a large number of tanks have been constructed since last fall. These vehicles comprise small tanks, ten tons in weight, and eight meters long, three meters wide and three and one-half high, and land cruisers fourteen meters long, four wide and four high, with a speed of from seven to fifteen kilometers. They are armed with cannon and machine guns, as well as flame-projectors. They are provided with doors and apertures which can be hermetically closed, so as to allow them to pass through gas clouds.

It is believed that the Germans intend to use these tanks to follow the first waves of infantry and deal with the resistance on the center.

ENEMY THROWN BACK.

BRITISH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, April 1.—The Germans last evening made two attacks in quick succession against the British lines west of the town of Albert, but on both occasions the enemy was thrown back.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Germans made a heavy attack between Moreuil and Demuin. Fierce fighting followed. The attacking troops gradually forced their way forward until they penetrated the large forest lying northeast of Moreuil. A little later the Germans were reported to be entering Hangard and to be moving westward along the Luce River.

Along the northern part of the battle front there has been a good deal of fighting, but nothing in the nature of an extended struggle.

FIRST RUSH STOPPED.

LONDON, April 1.—The reports from the battle front this morning are regarded as favorable for the Allies, and the belief is held that the first onrush of the enemy has been stopped. He is engaged in the process of consolidating his positions and bringing up his heavy artillery, and it is expected that when this work has been completed another big blow will be delivered with all the energy which he still has.

With strong reinforcements on the ground and with co-ordination in command, the hope is expressed here that the Allied line will prove impregnable and that the Germans will dash themselves against it in vain.

The number of machine guns taken by the British in their attack near Serre on Saturday was 109.

The Germans made two attacks on British positions in the western outskirts of Albert last evening and in both cases were repulsed, the War Office announces.

South of the Somme the enemy persisted in his attempts to advance along the Luce and Avre valleys and made but little progress.

The attack yesterday afternoon by means of which the Germans managed to penetrate to the wood northeast of Moreuil was pressed by forces which moved forward in clouds from the direction of Vrely and Bouchoir. Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports. The British artillery concentrated on them, but their impetus took them into the wood.

Since the extreme southerly part of the British line was slightly pressed back on Saturday morning it has apparently maintained its new position, the correspondent states.

The two attacks delivered west of Albert last evening came at an interval of only a quarter of an hour, at 6:30 and 6:45 o'clock. Though the assaults were launched determinedly they were beaten back with heavy losses.

From the Somme to the Ancre it was comparatively quiet yesterday and last night. Southward there was a good deal of desultory fighting, often of violent character. Counter-attacking north of the Luce River, the British succeeded in restoring their line between Aubercourt and Marcelcave.

ASSAULTING WAVES BREAK.

PARIS, April 1.—The battle continued with great violence last night in the sector north of Montdidier, large bodies of troops being thrown in by the Germans, the War Office announces. The French and British troops broke up the assaulting waves.

Farther south the fighting was no less violent, the Germans making incessant attacks in an effort to capture Grivesnes. The French retained possession of the town and inflicted heavy losses on the Germans.

BANKERS MEET TO PLAN LOAN DRIVE.

MARY PICKFORD HAS HONOR OF BUYING FIRST BONDS IN LOS ANGELES.

One hundred and fifty Los Angeles bankers attended a dinner at the Alexandria last night, given by Stoddard Jess, president of the First National Bank, who has recently returned from a tour of eastern cities, observing financial conditions and obtaining information which will be of great value in the successful completion of the third Liberty Loan.

The dinner was given as a preliminary get-together meeting of the financial heads of the various banking houses, those in attendance being assistant cashiers up to presidents.

Addresses were given by T. S. Stephens of the Blyth-Witter Company; Henry S. McKee, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee; Harry Haldeman and Mr. Jess.

While none of the members present would divulge the exact details of the meeting it is understood that specific plans and pledges were made which will assure the success of Los Angeles' $23,000,000 allotment.

To Mary Pickford goes the honor of purchasing the first Liberty Bond of the third loan here, the film star having given to Chairman George G. Greenwood a check for $100,000 yesterday, just previous to leaving for the East. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin, in answer to the government's request, will tour the East and Middle West in behalf of the loan. They left yesterday for Washington.

Every citizen of Los Angeles is requested to fly an American flag next Saturday by Chairman H. S. McKee of the Liberty Loan Campaign Committee, commemorating America's entrance into the war a year ago. A gigantic parade will be held at 11 o'clock on Saturday. In this 5000 sailors and soldiers from Fort MacArthur and the Naval Training Station will take part. Military bands and military music will be the order of the day. Ten magnificent floats will be prepared which will bring to Angelenos the reality of the war. The Boy Scouts, the Knights of Columbus and the Y.M.C.A. will assist in making the pageant one of the biggest ever held in Los Angeles. A mammoth tank and an armored car will lend a warlike air to the affair.

POLICE CRITICISED IN RAID ON EAGLES.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WANTS TO KNOW WHY SOME OFFICERS ESCAPED.

Eleven police officers and officials testified at the grand jury investigation yesterday into unlawful gambling, which resulted in a raid early Sunday morning on the Eagles' Hall, No. 320 South Main street. Those called to the stand were Chief of Police Butler, Sergt. Charles Jackson, Hiram J. Wambold, executive secretary of the police department; Sergt. William Hackett, Patrolmen Longuevan, Sweetman, Bergman and Miller, representing the purity squad, and Police Detectives James McNamara, who is president of the local lodge of Eagles; James Bean and Herman Cline.

Detectives McNamara, Bean and Cline are said to have been present when the purity squad descended on the lodge, confiscated a number of gambling outfits and placed members of the lodge under arrest on a charge of gambling. It is declared the raiders failed to notice or arrest the police detectives who were there as guests when the raid took place.

Dist.-Atty. Woolwine issued a statement yesterday in which he severely criticised the police department gambling squad for placing under arrest Detective Cohn, connected with the investigating department of the District Attorney's office, and overlooking other police officers present.

"Mr. Cohn," Mr. Woolwine declared, "was arrested, I am informed, and I will see that he is accorded the same treatment as any other person charged with an infraction of the law. On the other hand I have been credibly informed that four other police officers were overlooked when the arrests were made."

WILLIAM J. FLYNN'S HERE TO VISIT SON.

William J. Fynn, former chief of the United States Secret Service, is at the Alexandria on his way to San Francisco, where he will visit his son, W. W. Flynn, an ensign in the navy. Mr. Flynn, while not now active in the government service, has furnished the government with much valuable information on the activities of German spies in this country since his retirement.

ADVENTISTS DONATE MILLION TO CHURCH.

FINANCIAL REPORT IS MADE AT GENERAL CONFERENCE OF DENOMINATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The financial report at the general conference of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, rendered here today by W. T. Knox of Washington, D. C., treasurer, showed gifts of $1,007,970.84 for foreign missions during 1917, an average of 25 cents per week for each member.

Sabbath schools of the denomination contributed $449,625 for foreign missions.

Total funds contributed by members of the denomination amounted to $3,980,491, it was announced, an increase of more than $500,000 over 1916. The total valuation of all church buildings and denominational institutions was reported as $15,284,217.

Prof. Frederick Griggs of Washington, D. C., secretary of the educational department of the general conference, reported an enrollment of 36,142 in denominational schools, of which 19,925 were in elementary grades. The total enrollment four years ago was 24,491.

coming from, or even the directions in which the movements are being made. It may not be many days, however, before the United States will know. It is probable that the first news will come with the report of the American forces in action, but when that may be is another subject which cannot be discussed.

Whenever it is, it is certain that the troops will give a good account of themselves, for they are husky, hardy, trained and completely equipped and on their toes for a clash with the enemy. If this clash should be in the open the troops will like it all the better, for they say: "That's our game."

EAGER FOR FRAY.

All are determined to get into the fight if possible. The correspondent saw men on the march, limping along but refusing to drop out for fear that they might be left behind. If there was a single straggler in the long marching lines today he had effectively hidden himself.

A deluge of gas, shrapnel and high explosive shells fell on certain portions of the American sector northwest of Toul for four hours last night and this morning. A number of towns, trenches and roads were targets for the enemy, who began firing before midnight. First one place was "strafed" and then another. At one location alone 4000 shells, 2000 of which were gas projectiles, fell.

RETALIATION.

Two American patrols entered the enemy lines last night. Both found the belts of wire heavily electrified, one reporting that the strands of wire were connected with interrupters, which gave off sparks as a warning to the enemy sentries.

One especially active point is in the town of Pannes, at which the American gunners do not shoot because French civilians are still there. As many as a thousand Germans have been seen there at one time during the last few hours. Vehicles on roads back of the American lines were shelled by Germans this morning.

GRATEFUL FOR AID.

LONDON, April 1.—An official announcement issued here tonight says:

"As a result of communications which have passed between the Prime Minister and President Wilson, of deliberations between Secretary Baker, who visited London a few days ago, and the Prime Minister, Mr. Balfour and Lord Derby, and consultations in France, in which Gen. Pershing and Gen. Bliss participated, important decisions have been received by which large forces of trained men in the American army can be brought to the assistance of the Allies in the present struggle.

"Throughout these discussions President Wilson has shown greatest anxiety to do everything possible to assist the Allies and has left nothing undone which could contribute thereto.

"This decision, however, of vital importance as it will be to the maintenance of the Allied strength in the next few months, will in no way diminish the need for those further measures for raising fresh troops at home, to which reference already has been made. It is announced at once because the Prime Minister feels that the singleness of purpose with which the United States have made this immediate and indeed indispensable contribution toward the triumph of the Allied cause should be clearly recognized by the British people."

TO RECOVER FROM GAS.

VICE IN PHILADELPHIA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Secretary Daniels expressed the hope today that he would not be compelled to take severe action to curb alleged vice conditions at Philadelphia. A report to the secretary from Chairman Fosdick of the Training Camps Activities Commission, made public last night, declared the situation at Philadelphia was worse than at any other naval training camp or navy yard and charged the police and other officials with corruption.

It was pointed out that many difficulties would be experienced in picketing a city of the size of Philadelphia with marines and also that the President has power to create dry zones to protect either army or navy camps. There appeared to be little doubt that a zone order might follow if the city officials did not act.

SHAW TO SPEAK FOR NEW LOAN.

Will Tour South and Central West for Liberty Bonds.

Teuton Composers Absolutely Barred from Programme.

Alleged Burglar and Spy is Taken at Pasadena.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 2.—Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, has been chosen as one of the national speakers for the third Liberty Loan drive, he was notified by telegram yesterday from Charles F. Horner, chairman of the speakers' bureau. Mr. Shaw was chosen on advice of W. G. McAdoo, present Secretary of the Treasury, the telegram stated. He will leave here today for Evansville, Ind., where he will make his first speech April 6.

Mr. Shaw will speak in the South and Central West. A tentative itinerary includes the cities of Wichita, Dallas and New Orleans.

"Sometimes I feel that I would like to do my bit in the trenches with a bayonet—maybe I couldn't bayonet a few Germans with satisfaction," Mr. Shaw said with feeling at the Hotel Maryland, where he has been a guest. "But it is for every man to do his biggest bit wherever he may, and I will do my best in this work, happy to have the opportunity."

NO HUN TUNES.

There will be Russian, French, Italian, American, Dutch and African composers represented in an ambitious concert to be given this evening at the palmroom of the Hotel Maryland, under the direction of Miss Grace Adele Freebey, and by the pupils and faculty of the Maryland Conservatory of Music. But German music has been entirely eliminated.

Lovers of music are awaiting the concert with interest. So strictly has been drawn the German line that the biography of R. Kreutzer was consulted, and the programme bears the information that he was born at Versailles in 1766. Miss Freebey, who arranged the programme, says German music is not in the least interesting for the present.

FIREMEN DANCE.

Firemen's uniforms of blue were much in evidence at the Hotel Maryland last night, where the annual ball of the Pasadena department, with a huge crowd of guests, many of them from the Los Angeles department, was held as a benefit for the free-wool fund of the Army and Navy League and the firemen's relief fund. Over a thousand dollars will go into both funds as the result of the affair, according to members of the committee.

TAKE ELEVATOR BOY.

A master burglar, as well as one of the pawns in the German spy system, has been captured and is on his way to prison, according to Chief of Police Kelly of Santa Barbara, who came here yesterday to take back Thomas S. Pellier, aged 23, to face a charge of burglary. Pellier had dropped out of sight for three weeks, says Chief Kelly, until his arrest here, where he was employed as an elevator boy in a local hotel, and is sought both by the army intelligence officers and the police.

In Pellier's room was found a complete set of burglar's tools, including several master keys and two revolvers. One of the keys was a counterpart of the key for the room of Mrs. C. L. Weatherwax in the Hotel Potter at Santa Barbara, from which it is alleged that Pellier stole a diamond brooch valued at several hundred dollars and which he sold at Santa Barbara for $100.

UNDER SUSPICION.

Detectives have had Pellier under suspicion for several days, and in checking his references, discovered his description in the hands of the police. Locked in the City Jail, Pellier admitted selling the brooch, and was trapped by Chief of Police McIntyre into a partial confession when he admitted that he knew what room it had been lost from, and was shown the key found in his possession which fitted the lock.

Pellier was sent to the Hotel Potter by Germans higher up in the spy system, according to Chief Kelly, who believes that the jewelry thefts were only secondary. The man under arrest speaks three languages, and despite his innocent and youthful bearing, is said by the police to be a clever worker.

RARE BOOKS.

Book lovers will have an opportunity to revel in a unique loan exhibit for the benefit of the Pasadena Chapter of the Red Cross to be held at the Hotel Maryland, April 4 and 5. George M. Millard, a book connoisseur, and T. J. Cobden-Sanderson of London, who is known as the world's greatest book-binder, have loaned many valuable specimens to the collection, some of which date in the fifteenth century. A complete Bible in medieval French, once in the library of Diane de Portiero, and many other interesting volumes will be shown.

STAGES FALL TO WIN WIFE BACK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, April 1.—William Chisholm, who fell fifteen feet from an electric power pole on which he was at work and sustained severe injuries, deliberately staged his accident, according to a confession made to detectives for the Mt. Whitney Power and Electric Corporation, by whom he was employed.

Chisholm, according to the investigators, said he had been unable to induce his wife to come from Colorado to join him here, and thought she might be induced to do so through sympathy for him. He admitted he overdid the part and that he hurt himself very much worse than he intended.

Investigation after the accident showed that Chisholm's safety belt had been cut partially through, and the investigation was proceeding on the line it had been done by an enemy of the injured man when the confession was made.

FLOOD CONTROL IS MAKING PROGRESS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, April 1.—After interviewing 50 per cent. of the property owners between Anaheim street and Ocean avenue, G. E. Gardner and A. O. Kalleher, representing the Los Angeles county Supervisors, gave a most encouraging report on the progress being made to secure the route for the proposed flood control channel at a meeting of the Long Beach Harbor Industrial Association this afternoon.

Mr. Gardner stated that with very few exceptions the property owners holding land on the right of way seemed anxious to dispose of their interests at a fair price and do all in their power to speed up the flood control plans, which will mean a saving of thousands of dollars annually to this community.

FAIR PRICE ASKED.

The county investigators stated, however, they found a few who indicated they would take advantage of the situation and endeavor to hold up the proceedings by asking a prohibitive price on their holdings, thus necessitating condemnation action.

Another conference on the flood control situaton will be held Tuesday morning, when the Flood Control Committee of the Chamber of Commerce meets with the Harbor Industrial Association.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Seized with an attack of heart failure as she was lowering a window at her home at Seventeenth street and Cerritos avenue, Mrs. Eliza A. Barker died suddenly today. Mrs. Barker was 59 years old and had resided in Long Beach for fourteen years.

She leaves a husband, Robert Barker; a brother, B. J. Coons, and sister, Mrs. Carl, all of Long Beach. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Simpson & Byrum undertaking parlors. Interment will be made in Sunnyside Cemetery.

Upon recommendation of a committee consisting of T. J. Deeble, C. A. Bonar and L. G. Stone, the Long Beach Realty Board today voted to join the National Real Estate Association.

VISITING JAPANESE OFFICERS HONORED.

COUNTRYMEN DECLARE GALA DAY AND ALL INDUSTRY COMES TO STANDSTILL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 1.—A gala week of celebrations is promised for the Japanese residents here following the arrival this morning of a large body of Japanese naval officers, cadets and men. All Japanese industries immediately shut down and the celebration began. Several hundred Jap fishing boats, gaily decorated with flags of the Allies, paraded about the harbor.

The visiting naval officers were entertained at a luncheon today at the United States Naval Training Station at the outer harbor, after which the parties left for Los Angeles, where they visited Mayor Woodman and the City Council. In the evening the party witnessed the great war picture, "Hearts of the World," at Clune's Auditorium.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will entertain the visitors Tuesday at a dinner, and on an auto trip to the Cawston Ostrich Farm and Pasadena, and on the following day Consul Oyama, the representative of the Japanese imperial government in Los Angeles, will entertain the officials.

The programme for the reception of the navy men has been completed up to Thursday, when the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce will entertain on an auto and boat ride about the harbor. Point Fermin and Fort MacArthur will be visited, after which the Japanese canneries and the ranches will be visited. A dinner will be held in the Hotel Virginia in the evening.

HANDS BADLY BURNED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 1.—Mayor F. L. Berkley was severely burned today when a can of gasoline, which he had drawn from the tank of his car, came in contact with the ignition wires and exploded. His right hand was so badly burned that he will be unable to operate the car for several days.

DROP PUBLICATION OF SCHOOL PAPER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 1.—Seniors of the Santa Monica High School have voted to do away with the publication of the school annual, the Nautilus, this year, in order that the sum usually devoted to that end may be given to the Red Cross and other funds for the welfare of our soldiers. The sum spent on the Nautilus usually amounts to between $500 and $600. It is possible that some of the next issue of Liberty Bonds will be purchased with part of this money.

In order that the class play, "The Melting Pot," may not interfere with the date of the formal opening and dance in the Bay Cities Red Cross Chapter House on Ocean avenue, on April 12, the play has been postponed until April 18, 19, 20. The amount usually derived from the sale of tickets to the class play goes into the cost of publishing the Nautilus.

NAME CHAIRMAN FOR THIRD LOAN DRIVE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, April 1.—Fred Hadley, president of the First National Bank of Whittier, will be chairman of the Third Liberty Loan Committee. Mr. Handley was chosen at a recent meeting of the committee, while Judge Madison T. Owens is chairman of the Organization Committee, and Peter McLaren chairman of the Publicity Committee. The recent death of Dr. J. Allen Osmun, chairman of the First and Second Liberty Loan Committee, necessitated the reorganization. In each of the two former loans Whittier went over the top. It is the general belief that the community will rally easily to the call of the nation on April 6, and raise the full quota of bond money or more.

CELEBRATE FOUNDING OF FAMOUS MISSION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, April 1.—The one hundred and thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the San Buenaventura mission here was celebrated with interest yesterday in various ways.

At the sunrise service conducted at the cross on Mission Hill a vast crowd attended and listened to ceremonies and observances befitting Easter morning, and in commemoration of Rev. C. H. Lawrence, who died at the cross at the ceremonies last Easter, memorial services were said. Special Easter music, an address given by Rev. Frank C. Edwards and an original poem read by Thomas P. Swift were numbers among the programme.

ALHAMBRA BAPTISTS PLAN NEW CHURCH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, April 1.—The Alhambra Baptist association, which started plans last fall for construction of a $25,000 church building at Sixth and Main and then delayed construction on account of war conditions will now proceed with the work and ground will be broken next week for the foundation.

At the Easter services in the old church, Sunday morning the members of the congregation pledged $20,000 for building purposes. The result is very gratifying to the church when it is considered that the members have all given liberally to the Red Cross, Y.M.C.A. and other war work. The new church will be the finest in the city.

LICENSED TO WED AT SANTA ANA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Marriage licenses: Horace G. Saunders, 26, Pocatello, Idaho, and Doris Miller, 23, Boise, Idaho; C. M. Mears, 46, and Katherine Ford, 30, both of Los Angeles; Robert H. Hunsaker, 25, and Alice L. Bullington, 18, both of Los Angeles; Jose Silva, 40, and Amelia Rivera, 17, both of Anaheim; Roy W. Cotant, 36, and Sara E. Richards, 47, both of Los Angeles; Elsier La Male, 40, Sacramento, and Helen G. Rigney, 32, Denver, Colo.; George W. McKee, 20, and Nellie Nelson, 20, both of Los Angeles.

MAN CHARGED WITH GIVING BOYS LIQUOR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 1.—H. E. Manatt has been arrested on a charge of giving liquor to two Orange boys, Everett Melton and Raymond Arguello. The charge grew out of the testimony given at the preliminary examination of John Richards, a rancher, who was charged with mayhem in that he was accused of having bitten Manatt's nose until the end barely hung by a bit of skin. The defense desired to show that Manatt was an undesirable character, and Melton and Arguello were put on the stand. Manatt formerly had a barber shop here. The fracas in which Manatt's nose was bitten occurred at 1 o'clock in the morning as Manatt, Richards and others were shaking dice on the pavement by the light of an automobile headlight.

SANTA ANA WOMEN PLAN WAR GARDENS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Through a co-operative scheme being worked out by the Santa Ana Farm Center and the Women's Council of Defense, a large number of vacant lots in Santa Ana are to be cultivated and made to grow garden stuff. Correct data as to the location and ownership of vacant lots are being gathered by the women. R. K. Bishop was appointed as director and adviser, and Miss Grace Whited of the High School faculty is urging co-operation among students. Over 120 boys pledged Farm Advisor A. R. Sprague their support in the movement.

TEN INJURED WHEN BUS TURNS TURTLE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 1.—Ten people were hurt here this afternoon when a Point Firmin jitney bus turned over after colliding with an ice truck. The injured were taken in ambulances to the military hospital at Fort MacArthur for treatment. The most seriously injured is Mrs. Walton H. Vanice of No. 560 Shepard street, Point Fermin. All will recover. The machine was driven by Tony Grant of No. 675½ Tenth street, who was also injured.

BIG LAND OPENING AT SALTON SINK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALIPATRIA, March 31.—The date of the formal opening of 8000 acres of land recently covered by the waters of Salton Sea is announced for April 24, but filings may be made beginning with April 5. Much of this land has already been taken possession of by squatters. In fact most of it has been formally appropriated ever since the receding of the sea exposed it to the sun's rays.

The rumor that the Land Office would give a preferential right to squatters on the land does not reflect unanimous legal opinion, as some land attorneys hold to the belief that persons hereafter making settlement in compliance with Federal regulations will prevail over those who, under this same opinion, are looked upon as having violated the government's withdrawal.

FARM BUREAU TO BE REORGANIZED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALIPATRIA, April 1.—The meeting to be held at the schoolhouse Friday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Calipatria farm center will be directed by Farm Adviser C. E. Sullivan, who will talk on the livestock market department of the farm bureau. He will be assisted by J. P. Hertel, who will discuss the question of silos in Imperial Valley. The farm home department will be dealt with by Mrs. Della J. Morris. Officers will be elected following a four-minute war talk on conservation.

DESERTION CHARGE MADE THROUGH ERROR

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 31.—James L. Comfort, who was sent to Camp Lewis last September by the local board, and who since that time has been wanted by the police and officers all over the country, is not a deserter and has been cleared of the charge according to a message received from Camp Lewis by the local board.

Soon after the contingent arrived at Camp Lewis Comfort through some error in book-keeping was said to be missing and he was classed as a deserter. Notice was sent to the local board that he had not arrived at the camp and it was supposed that he left the train somewhere between Redlands and Camp Lewis.

But it has been found that he has been in the service there all the time and was accepted for the army on October 27. He is in the Three Hundred and Fourteenth Infantry.

NO BIDS SUBMITTED FOR CARRYING MAIL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 31.—Recently the government asked for bids for carrying the United States mail by automobile from Los Angeles to Redlands, but no response was received to the call for bids and no decision has been reached by the department. Most of the cities along the route were luke warm about the proposal, as they did not believe the new route would be of great value.

This innovation in the carrying of mail has reached a successful culmination in several eastern localities, and the department has been anxious to establish it in California, where the good roads would provide the most ideal condition.

It is believed that the department will again take up the matter and establish the service.

SPEED COP MAKES BIG LIQUOR HAUL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, April 1.—When Speed Officer Roberts took Frank Irmi, a ranch hand, into custody for violation of the traffic rules he made an unexpectedly important capture. When Irmi was escorted to the County Jail to arrange for cash bail to effect his release, a casual search of his machine revealed ten barley sacks hidden in the tonneau, each containing a dozen quart bottles of a well-advertised brand of whisky.

Now two charges are pending against Irmi, one of speeding, and the other of violating the local liquor laws.

DONATE STEERS FOR RED CROSS BENEFIT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, April 1.—John Wilcox, R. McDarment and other of the members of the Cattlemen's Protective Association of the Porterville district, have begun a movement whereby each of the hundred beef producers in the organization will donate a steer to be sold for the benefit of the local Red Cross. Already, it is announced, the gifts approximate a carload of the animals.

Beef being sought is of the highest class and the resulting sale should add many hundreds of dollars to the finances of the Red Cross organization.

MAJ. MITCHEL TO SPEAK.

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—The local Liberty Loan campaign will be formally started Saturday when Ex-Mayor John Purroy Mitchel of New York City, now Maj. Mitchel, in training here for his license as reserve military aviator, will make the principal address. It will be Maj. Mitchel's first public address since he ran for re-election as Mayor of New York. The meeting will be followed by a parade.

Capt. Henry D. Field

NOTED CIVIL WAR HERO PASSES AWAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 1.—Capt. Henry D. Field, who was an officer in the troop of Michigan cavalry that captured Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, when the latter was attempting to escape in the closing days of the Civil War, died today at his Ocean Park residence, No. 129 Fraser avenue, aged 76 years. The late captain was a pioneer resident of the Ocean Park district, his handsome residence being the second one to be erected on Fraser avenue. He was one of the best known and most popular men in the entire Santa Monica Bay district, and his death, after a long period of ill health, has cast a pall over the entire community, including Venice, Santa Monica and the Ocean Park district.

PROMINENT BANKER.

Capt. Field was widely known in banking circles throughout the country. He came here from Chicago in 1898 after retiring from active banking business there. At the time of his death he was still a director of the Chicago First National Bank, one of the largest financial institutions of the country. He was one of the few to be honored with a life membership in the Apollo Lodge, F. & A.M., of Chicago, in token of which he was presented with a solid-gold membership card. He was Past Grand Master of that lodge and Past Generalissimo of Apollo Commandery, Knights Templar. He was an active member of the Santa Monica chapter of the order, and a member of the Blue Lodge.

PAST COMMANDER.

The captain was a Past Commander of the George H. Thomas Post, G.A.R., Chicago; Past Adjutant-General of the State Grand Department, G.A.R. of Illinois, and up to the time of his death an active worker in the G.A.R. His war record began with his enlistment for three months with the First Michigan Infantry. He re-enlisted in the cavalry, serving with credit through many of the most sanguinary battles of the civil strife, and was mustered out of the service as a captain in the Fourth Michigan Cavalry. It was while he was a lieutenant in this command that it captured the head of the late Confederacy. Capt. Field was badly wounded at the first battle of Bull Run. This did not deter him from again entering the service at the first opportunity.

The only local office held by the captain was that of trustee of the Santa Monica public library, which he held at the time of his death.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the funeral chapel of the O. A. Kirkelie Company, Ocean Park. Later the remains will be cremated at Rosedale. The funeral services at the Kirkelie chapel will be under the joint auspices of G.A.R. and Masonic organizations of the Bay district.

The captain had no children. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Mary A. Field, of this city.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR CITRUS PACKERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 31.—The citrus fruit packing-houses of this district are preparing to change over to the eight-hour work day basis as required by the Industrial Accident Commission. There will be regular hours maintained so far as possible and when employed overtime the help will receive adequate compensation.

The commission has decided that a minimum wage of $10 a week must be paid to the experienced helpers, and a minimum of $8 a week to inexperienced. In most of the packing-houses the wage runs more than this during the busy season and the packers say that there are but few times when strict hours cannot be observed.

There will be no trouble caused by the change this year because of the short crop.

CUPID SLOWS UP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Business is falling off for Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox and the parsons who get some of the marriage business that come this way. During February and March of last year 219 licenses were issued here. During February and March of this year the total was 157.

FINGERS CRUSHED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, April 1.—Erwin Harbin, 20 years old, had three fingers on his left hand crushed while at work on a rig on the Davis lease. After being given emergency treatment here he was sent to San Francisco. He is the son of C. E. Harbin of the Reward Oil Company.

TRUSTEES ELECTED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, April 1.—The voters of the Olig school district elected Charles F. Smith of the Associated Oil Company and a former resident of Los Angeles, a member of the board of trustees to serve for a term of three years. The other trustees are John A. Pickle, superintendent of the Jewett Oil Company, and F. E. Lockhart.

George W. Templeton was elected trustee of the McKittrick school. Eugene Fairbanks and Harry B. Phelan are the other members. Mr. Templeton was chosen to fill the vacancy occasioned by the expiration of the term of office of Robert J. Mull.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, April 1.—The municipal election to be held April 8 will be very quiet, there being only one contest. Clarence Trueblood, incumbent, and Edward C. Butterfield are candidates for the City Clerkship. Mr. Trueblood is serving now his second term, and Mr. Butterfield is a former City Clerk. For Treasurer, Richard Pearson is a candidate to succeed himself. S. H. Bell and L. C. Davisson are candidates to succeed themselves as members of the Board of Trustees. L. H. Denney is a candidate for Trustee for the short term to succeed Truman C. Berry.

FREE CHAUTAUQUA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALIPATRIA, April 1.—A free Chautauqua for Sunday, April 7, will be the Calipatria attraction. Originally it was intended to hold service under the big top, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday only, but inasmuch as all subjects to be treated by speakers and lecturers will be of a patriotic nature as an aid in winning democracy for the world the local committee has decided to throw the doors open wide Sunday and invite the entire valley to be present and imbibe conservation, economic and preparedness arguments.

OFFICER RESIGNS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 1.—Sidney Smithwick, former Deputy Sheriff and jailer, has resigned as a Santa Ana policeman to go to Riverside in the government employ in policing the camp at the new aviation field.

APPROPRIATE MONEY FOR A NEW SCHOOL.

The Board of Education last night adopted the recommendation of the Committee of the Whole providing for the appropriation of $100,000 from the building fund for the purpose of erecting a twelve-room school building on the southerly portion of the Seventh-street school site, and $50,000 for the purpose of erecting and equipping bungalows, the location of which will be recommended later by the Building Committee.

The sum of $75,000 was also appropriated for the purpose of making sanitary improvements in various school buildings.

WOMEN ARE ARRESTED AT HALL OF RECORDS.

ATTORNEY'S WIDOW ATTACKS DETECTIVE—PLACED IN COUNTY JAIL.

Two women were taken into custody and sent to the psycopathic ward of the County Hospital for observation as to their sanity after having created a disturbance in the District Attorney's office yesterday.

Mrs. Evelyn Sparks returned to the Hall of Records yesterday morning after having threatened Saturday to "blow up" Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and the Hall of Records, and made a vicious attack on Detective Smith of the District Attorney's office with a heavy cane. She was immediately taken into custody and sent to the County Jail.

A few minutes later Mrs. Mary J. Armstrong of No. 2126 Pasadena avenue requested an interview with Mr. Woolwine with regard to a certain Los Angeles doctor, who, she said, used a poisoned needle on her. The woman rambled on in such an incoherent fashion that she was escorted to the County Jail and later sent to the County Hospital.

Mrs. Sparks, who is also known as Marcelle Sparks and claims to be the widow of a formerly prominent Los Angeles attorney, entered the District Attorney's office shortly after 10 o'clock and asked to see Detective Smith. She was shown to his office and immediately opened on the detective with a torrent of abuse. Before anyone could stop her she swung her cane, striking Smith in the face. Following her arrest the woman was searched at the County Jail and a big jackknife was found in the folds of her dress.

ENLISTMENT SAVES HIM FROM THE LAW.

United States Commissioner Hammack, yesterday dismissed the case against Elbert McGowan, charged with impersonating a naval officer, it being the understanding that McGowan had enlisted and been accepted by the naval authorities.

McGowan, it developed, had been in the navy, but was dishonorably discharged for overstaying a shore leave. The specific charge against him was, that while under the influence of liquor, he had borrowed $2.50 from the manager of the Glenn L. Martin airplane factory by representing himself as a naval officer.

TO GIVE CIRCUS FOR THRIFT-STAMP DRIVE.

The War-Savings Society of the Lyon-McKinney-Smith Company will give a circus next Saturday night at No. 727 South Hill street. The employees of the store have been working energetically for the past two months on the thrift stamp drive, and clever "stunts" are being prepared and rehearsed. Music, clowns, wild animals, side shows, picture shows, fortune telling, peanut and popcorn will be on the programme. All the members of the society will be dressed in costume and every effort will be made to give the audience a thrift stamp's worth.

Calomel Loses You a Day's Work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone Instead

Read my guarantee! If bilious, constipated or headachy you need not take nasty, sickening, dangerous calomel to get straightened up.

Every druggist in town — your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.

When you use medicated sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh, you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again.

Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store to-day, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century.

S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case without charge by writing to Medical Director, 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

WE CURE

Piles, Fistula

And All Rectal Diseases Without an Operation

For twenty-five years we have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time our experience has enabled us to develop a method that is superior to others. We cure without surgery, and our patients are not confined in bed and seldom lose a moment's time from their business.

Our method is not a "home cure" nor a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatments administered under the most rigid antiseptic conditions in our office.

Drs. White and Wainwright:

Put me down as a real friend of your treatment of Hemorrhoids. I suffered for twenty years. I came to a point where I could not do justice to my business as a jeweler. I was almost down and out. Now I am well and feel elastic and contented. I can now do my work with pleasure. I am happy. For all this I give you the credit.

We solicit old, severe and obstinate cases of fistula, prolapsus, fissure and ulceration that have heretofore resisted all treatments employed. If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, we invite you to investigate our method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of our cured patients. If you will call at our office we shall be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people we have cured, whom you may interview in regard to our treatment.

ONE OF THE MOST PERFECTLY BUILT AND CONVENIENTLY ARRANGED HOUSES IN ALL LOS ANGELES. 13 LARGE ROOMS.

East front lot, 75x180; paved street. All the surrounding houses are new. This place was built by the owner for his own home by day labor, and he never thought of selling it until recently. Consequently no expense was spared. The ARCHITECTURE is exceptionally pleasing to the eye and thoroughly individual. The exterior is of white plaster, which has been treated with three liberal coats of lead and oil. The whole lower floor is of PIANO FINISH, the living-room and library in GENUINE TOBASCO MAHOGANY, and the dining-room in OLD ENGLISH OAK; large reception hall in WHITE ENAMEL, with handsome stairway. The PIANO finish on the woodwork in these rooms is beyond compare; together with all the decorations, was done by the most exclusive decorating house in Los Angeles. Also large sun parlor off library and breakfast-room. Pass pantry, kitchen and screen porch unsurpassed in beauty and equipment. Maid's room and bath off screen porch. Exceptionally large and beautiful bedrooms, solarium and sleeping porch upstairs. Two wonderful tiled baths of latest design, including shower and sitz bath. Two-story garage to accommodate two cars, with billiard-room and chauffeur's quarters (room and bath) above. BOWSER gasoline filling station. Also separate Jap house. The landscaping includes rose garden, rare shrubs, trees and flowers.

Courtesy to agents. Open for inspection from 10 to 4 daily, except Sunday.

There will be a lecture at noon every day this week except Saturday on subjects relating to war gardens.

Course in Harmony.

A university extension course in harmony will be organized on Thursday, at 4 p.m. in Room 309 of the Polytechnic High School. Frank L. Anderson of Polytechnic and also a member of the 1918 faculty of the summer session at Berkeley will give the instruction. Students will be taught to think music and to be able to write what they think. The fee for the course of fifteen hours is $5.

Jewish Passover Services.

The concluding festival of the Jewish-Passover Easter I will be observed at Sinai Temple, Twelfth and Valencia street, this evening at 8. Dr. Adolphe Danziger will speak. On Wednesday and Thursday mornings, at 10, Dr. Messing of Indianapolis, Ind., will occupy the pulpit. Services will be conducted by Rev. J. Weinstock of Congregation Sinai, assisted by the choir.

Work for Red Cross.

Red Cross work will be the special feature of the Business Women's Council at the Y.W.C.A. this evening. At 6:30 o'clock Miss Babson will hold the usual Bible study, which will be followed by a series of brief reports of the council's work during the past month. The remainder of the evening will be spent with Red Cross work, while Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Shuster entertain informally with a musical programme. All young women are welcome.

For Appomattox Day.

The fifty-third anniversary of the historic conference between Grant and Lee at Appomattox Courthouse, Va., will be commemorated Saturday, under the auspices of the Los Angeles posts of the G.A.R., at Sycamore Park. An appropriate programme in conjunction with the usual basket picnic feature of the exercises, has been arranged. All patriotic bodies, including the Sons of Veterans, the Spanish-American War Veterans, and the various women's auxiliary organizations, are invited to participate.

For Head Consul.

I. I. Boak of Denver, Head Consul of the Woodmen of the World, will be the guest of honor at a reception to be given by Fremont Camp No. 466, W.O.W., in its hall at No. 727½ South Hill street, this evening. Mr. Boak is not only prominent in fraternal circles, but also had a prominent part in the preparation of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Insurance Act, under the provisions of which the United States government is insuring thousands of its soldiers and sailors in the present war.

HINGES ON MEANING OF WORD "AWARE."

DRAFT CASE DEMURRERS ARE OVERRULED AND PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY FOLLOW.

At the second hearing, yesterday, of the charge against Maurice S. Hellman, George A. J. Howard and Daniel O'Keefe, that they had made false affidavits to the effect that Edward B. Murray was the sole dependent of his parents, Charles and Margaret Murray, with a view to having him exempted from the draft, United States District Judge Bledsoe overruled the demurrers to the information. All three then pleaded not guilty and the case was placed on the May calendar for setting.

J. Wiseman McDonald appeared for Messrs. Howard and O'Keefe, and argued that the information is faulty, in that it did not charge that the elder Murrays were dependent upon the financial support of their son. The court said there was nothing in the point and overruled the demurrer.

Max Lowenthal, in behalf of Mr. Hellman, argued that his client had made an affidavit setting out that he was "aware" that the Murrays were dependent upon the support of the son, Edward B. Murray. Mr. Lowenthal discussed at some length the meaning of the word "aware," and the judgment of several dictionaries and encyclopedias was invoked, to say nothing of a decision of the United States Supreme Court, where, it was said, the meaning of the word is declared.

Judge Bledsoe gave the authorities a critical examination and informed Mr. Lowenthal that in his opinion the Supreme Court opinion had nothing to do with this case. After the court disagreed with the attorney the demurrer was overruled.

ONCE POPULAR ACTOR DIES OF PNEUMONIA.

JOSEPH GALBRAITH WAS LEADING MAN AT OLD BELASCO THEATER.

Joseph Galbraith, who fifteen years ago was leading man at the old Belasco Theater and one of the most popular actors in the city, died yesterday of pneumonia. He was only 39 years old, but his career as an actor practically ended with his marriage ten years ago, which ended in a divorce. Afterwards he played in the movies for a while and for a few months at the Burbank Theater, but never regained his former popularity.

During the last few months he had been engaged in writing a vaudeville sketch, which he hoped to take on the road, but had not completed it when he was taken ill. He had lived for some time in apartments on West Ninth street, and only a trained nurse and his wife's cousin, Harry Sternberger, were present when he died.

The body was removed to the parlors of Booth & Boylston, where it will remain until word is received from relatives in the East regarding funeral arrangements.

LEAVES FOR EAST.

Morris B. Cope, first-class pharmacists' mate and son of Mrs. Mary E. Cope of the probation office, leaves today for special training in the naval base hospital at Norfolk, Va. He has been attached to the naval recruiting office in this city.

BATHE INTERNALLY

Over 500,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be; and that the poison from this waste circulated through the blood pulled us away down below par and was responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine for the most chronic and serious diseases has caused Americans to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade," you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisonous waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see it at The Owl Drug Co., or ask them for "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given free on request.—[Advertisement.

Barber Gives Recipe For Gray Hair

Tells How To Make a Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy.

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who has been a barber in New York City for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs only 25 cents, and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in one ounce of water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair; that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt; can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid—enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After Canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.

Says the Mayor.

GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE OVER POWER SYSTEMS.

Commandeering Distributing Lines to Save Fuel Oil a Feature of Big Proposed Loan to City.

GOVERNMENT control and operation of the private electrical distributing plants of Los Angeles, with the "juice" thereby purchased from the municipality, is one of the important features of the plan whereby the United States government proposes to finance our aqueduct power programme, according to Mayor Woodman. This developed yesterday, in connection with the proposal that the government, under provisions of the financial corporation bill, now before Congress, loan to Los Angeles the sum of $1,500,000 for a period of five years, for the purpose of developing 20,000 horsepower at the proposed power plant No. 2, in San Francisquito Canyon.

That the general situation as to the manner in which the power thus generated could be best utilized has been given considerable attention by city officials and representatives of the government, also developed, and the conclusion apparently has been reached that the most practicable way is for the government to use its own power to take over the distributing systems and operate them, under the same principles involved in its handling the railroads of the country.

"I believe if the proposed loan is carried through," said Mayor Woodman yesterday, "the government will simply step in and say to the corporations owning or controlling electrical-distributing systems, that it will take them over and operate them, and that an arrangement will be made for the purchase of current therefor from the municipality."

The Mayor points out that this would at once provide a practical way for the 20,000 additional horsepower which it is proposed to develop at power plant No. 2, and at the same time would accomplish the most important purpose of saving a vast amount of fuel oil that is needed for the operation of ships and other industries urgently needed to advance the government's general war programme.

"The government is using every means all over the country to effect the saving of fuel oil," said Mayor Woodman. "Los Angeles is in the unique position of offering a great opportunity to increase this saving, through the development of more electric power that can be used in place of steam-generated power. The government wants to save fuel oil; the city wants to develop its hydroelectric power. The government apparently is willing to provide the money, and I believe there is no question, if the proper contract for the power can be provided, that the city will want to borrow the money and proceed with the power development.

"I have advocated a realignment of the power-distributing business of this portion of California, and believe that it will work right into this general plan. I have suggested that the power companies that are developing electric energy in the central portion of the State and in the mountains aligning the great San Joaquin Valley, arrange to provide great transmission lines that will extend the length of the San Joaquin, reaching all the important towns therein; that the cities themselves acquire the local distributing plants, and secure their supply of current from this main transmission line. That would use a large amount of electrical current that at present is brought into Los Angeles, and would open the way here for a more extensive use of municipal current.

"The government has the power

Secretary of Interior Lays Political Rumor.

Though Ill, He'll not Desert Wilson Cabinet.

Makes His Position Clear in Letter to Friend.

The persistent report that Franklin K. Lane would resign his position as Secretary of the Interior to become a candidate for Governor was given a quietus yesterday, when a letter was received here from the Cabinet officer, stating unequivocally that he will not desert the national administration.

The letter was written to Mr. Lane's most intimate friend in Los Angeles, and was in answer to a direct inquiry as to whether the Secretary of the Interior is considering the gubernatorial race.

Secretary Lane's name has been mentioned often of late as a possible gubernatorial candidate. It was known that he had been ill and that his physician advised that he return to California to escape the rigors of Washington weather. However, few who know Mr. Lane believed he would give up his responsible position when the country needs him so badly to return to his own State to enter a political fight.

The announcement that Mr. Lane will not be a candidate will be pleasing news to some of the men who have gubernatorial aspirations. That Mr. Lane would make a formidable candidate everyone admits. Now that he is not to be further considered, the Democratic fight no doubt will be waged by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and Francis J. Heney.

NAMES CO-RESPONDENT.

Wife of President of Chemical Company Files Suit for Divorce Here.

Charging infidelity, Mrs. Mary M. Hawley, wife of Arthur G. Hawley, president of the Burlingame Chemical Company, living at No. 1230 West Fifty-second street, yesterday filed a suit for divorce in the Superior Court, naming Mrs. Hatty Kuilerman, a well-known Santa Barbara woman as co-respondent.

According to John F. Foley, attorney for Mrs. Hawley, the petition is based on an episode which allegedly transpired last Monday night at the Arlington Hotel, Santa Barbara. Upon information supplied by a friend, Mrs. Hawley engaged detectives who are said to have obtained the evidence set forth in the petition.

The Hawleys were married in San Francisco in 1899, having come to Los Angeles ten years ago. In her petition Mrs. Hawley asks $75 a month alimony, appraising her husband's estate at $50,000.

PASTOR'S SON ENLISTS.

THEODORE S. LEE LEAVES FOR FORT M'DOWELL TO JOIN ARTILLERY UNIT.

Theodore S. Lee, 19 years old, and a son of Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of the Christ Episcopal Church, left yesterday afternoon with sixteen other volunteers for Camp Fremont, and from that point Mr. Lee will be transferred to Fort McDowell, San Francisco. He was a former student of the Los Angeles High School, in his senior year, but was given his diploma on entering the service in the field artillery.

The men left last night on the 5 o'clock train and were sent off with a cheer by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission, Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson being chairman for the day. She was assisted by Mrs. L. U. McClure, Mrs. Clyde Mathews, Mrs. G. C. Finks, Mrs. O. E. Walberg and Mrs. John L. Buttler of the Supply Committee.

BEGINS SECOND TERM.

United States Marshal C. T. Walton entered upon his second term yesterday, and all of his deputies were reappointed and took the oath of office. There will be no present change in the list of deputies, it was stated.

FILM FIRMAMENT'S BRIGHTEST STARS TWINKLE IN NAME OF THE RED CROSS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

AH, BUT it was a dazzling picture, April Fool's Night at the Kinema Theater, with the lobby crowded with beautiful blondes, all petite, all famous, all dressed with that ineffable skill that shows off every delightful curve and dimple, a wondrous galaxy of those picture stars that men worship on the screen the world over, all there in the flesh, smiling—and giving away posies and programmes. Not selling them, mark you, for no charmer looks quite so charming selling things, but bestowing favors, ah ——

Frank Keenan made the preliminary address. Waxing dramatically emotional as he shouted descriptions of German atrocities, calling up visions of rivers of blood and tortured women and children; shouting ferociously when he touched upon German spies; damning all and every one who had caused this war, he forgot the time, which was fleeting fast, and at 10:30 p.m., he was still hurling mighty diatribe at his bewildered and erstwhile effervescent audience. They all thought they were doing their duty, but Frank thought otherwise, and hurled invective at their affrighted heads. Giggles ceased, hearts palpitated, eyes stared wildly—it wasn't turning out to be quite the gay and frivolous All Fool's party they had expected.

THE FLUTTERS.

So we must return to that palpitating lobby for the flutters. Juanita Hansen, enframed in an immense basket of flowers, with an array of the most bewildering side curls; Mary McIvor in angel white and starry spangles; Charlie and Mrs. Ray, the latter looking positively divinized in real life; Bill Desmond, feeling frightfully important, and showing a gray hair or two; Norman Kerry, oh, so radiantly handsome, picking up pins for languid Edna Purviance in seductive black, but doubtless thinking of Constance Talmadge, to whom he is very much rumored engaged. And Robert Gordon, blue-eyed and blond, and Earl Williams, gentle and intimate, and all of them marcelled to kill. And Al Levy rushing upstairs with two big bundles of napkins under his arms and brushing Mrs. Faulkner of the million-dollar fur coat comfortably out of his way. And piquant Louise Huff, a soft, pinky fairy, and Mae Murray, gorgeous in a leopard skin, and Mildred Harris autographing a programme for a new and innocent-looking bridegroom. And Robert Leonard, plumptical, polished, portly; Wilfred Lucas, still under the impression he was directing, and ordering society dames to check their coats, with a "register-patriotism-we-need-your-money-damn-you" sort of expression. And Mrs. Thomas Ince and Mrs. George Beban, wondering what could have happened to their hubbies. And Vera Lewis, faithfully followed by her press agent, intent upon pointing out her charms. And Mary MacLaren, the only picture maid in Red Cross costume—ah, yes, and that reminds me, the society dames responsible for this hilarious event were all in sweet angelic Red Cross dress—no competing with the little picture girls for them. Mrs. J. M. Danziger, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Raymond Bradford, Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Samuel Storrow, Mrs. J. C. Black—oh, it was subtle of them, for there is just a something about that costume which is more seductive than spangles, more gorgeous than ermine and diamonds.

Mrs. Earle Remington got mixed up with the picture sirens, though, for she was radiant in a Spanish costume, and they wondered if she was Geraldine Farrar or Theda Bara, and Miss J. Stuart Blackton was in black evening dress and playing the gracious duchess, making anguished, shy, retiring picture roses feel at home and come out of their shells.

THOSE HUSBANDS.

There was one "pocket" of beautiful, handsome, modest-looking men who held aloof and seemed to fear too much admiration. Famous actors, all, they must have been, as you will see by their names—J. M. Danziger, Ray Bradford, Dr. Ralph Williams, A. L. Faulkner, A. L. Cheney, Earle Remington, Robin Hayne, J. S. Blackton, I. W. Rogers, Frank Griffith, J. C. Black and Samuel Storrow. Somebody told me they were mere society husbands, but you could never get me to believe it.

And somebody dared to ask Priscilla Dean her name. Fancy not knowing her. "Priscilla Dean!" she snapped—and she looked so much too lovely to be able to snap.

And there was Bayard Villier, now an affluent author, buttonholed by an old San Francisco sweetheart, reproaching him for embonpoint. And expecting him to laugh, too. And little Amy Bush was there, daring to compete with picture queens in sartorial effect. And Mme. Mariska Aldrich Davies, later to sing "Uncle Sam has His Arms Around the World," keeping an eye on bride-

Where's Halstead?

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE REVEALED BY A LEGACY.

THE story of nearly five-years' fruitless search for some trace of Henry D. Halstead, foreman of a Riverside cement company, who disappeared in this city September 8, 1913, came to light yesterday, when it was announced that a legacy of $40,000 depends upon finding him or learning his fate.

This legacy was left Mr. Halstead in the will of his father, William De Forest Halstead, a prominent oil man in Milwaukee, who died two years ago. The estate was valued at $100,000, the son, Henry D. Halstead, being given $40,000, and a similar sum bequeathed to his sister, Mrs. Sarah M. Dixon of New York. Her two children, D. H. and R. N. Dixon, were given legacies of $10,000 each.

On that September day in 1913, Mr. Halstead came to Los Angeles to be treated for his eyes. He went to the office of Dr. Leon W. Mansur, then in the Bradbury Building, with orders to report for treatment every day. He failed to appear the following day and was never heard of since.

Attorney L. S. Arnold, who represents the estate in this city, states that every effort has been made to find a clew, but without avail. Mr. Halstead left money in a Riverside bank. His domestic relations were happy. He had a wife and five children, who have not given up hope of locating him.

If at the end of seven years, Mr. Halstead is not found, the legacy will be distributed by law, Mr. Halstead being declared legally dead.

HEIRS SUE FOR GREAT RANCHO.

Early California History will Feature Trial of Suit.

Prominent Spanish Families Plaintiffs in Action.

A suit claiming title to 25,000 acres, forming part of the great estate of Francisco Sepulveda, who died in 1853, and now alleged to be worth several million dollars, was filed yesterday by the heirs of Don Sepulveda against the Santa Monica Mountain Park Company, the Santa Monica Land and Water Company, and other heirs of Don Sepulveda, numbering, both plaintiffs and defendants, about 100 persons.

The Santa Monica Mountain Park Company is claiming title to the entire 25,000 acres. The claimants allege that the park company owns only about a one-fifth interest in the land, which was formerly deeded to Col. Robert S. Baker in 1872, by only two of the Sepulveda heirs. The claimants ask that the estate be partitioned between the plaintiffs and the defendants in accordance with their respective rights in the tract.

The complaint was prepared by Attorneys Drew Pruitt, Rufus C. Porter and George A. Boden, and the trial will necessitate digging back into the musty records of Spanish days. Don Sepulveda came to California from Mexico in 1301. He was a native of Spain, and acquired from the Mexican government in 1828 two grants of land, known as the Rancho San Vicente y Santa Monica, bordering on the Pacific Ocean near what is now Santa Monica. This tract contained 45,000 acres.

LONG LITIGATION.

Don Sepulveda was for many years in constant litigation with other persons who had claims to Mexican grants, but was a successful litigant, and the United States confirmed the title to this almost principality after his death by granting a patent to the widow, Ramona Serrano Sepulveda, and her heirs in 1881, but also after her death.

The couple left ten children, Ascension, Concepcion, Ramona, Vicente, Encarnacion, Juan Marie, Jose del Carmen, Fernando, Jose Dolores and Jose. Don Sepulveda, in his will, bequeathed the estate to his wife, but through neglect, it is alleged, the will was never probated, although it was filed among the probate records of this county.

The eastern portion of these Mexican grants was disposed of by Don Sepulveda prior to his death. These lands lie south and east of Santa Monica Canyon, the cities of Santa Monica and Sawtelle being built upon them. The larger portion of the grant borders on the Pacific Ocean, and lies north and west of Santa Monica Canyon. About 25,000 acres in this latter tract were not disposed of, but passed by inheritance to the widow and the ten children.

The widow died in January, 1870, and the 25,000 acres became the property, it is contended, of the ten surviving children by the laws of succession of this State, in September, 1872, the two eldest Sepulveda heirs, Jose del Carmen and Jose Dolores, conveyed their interest by deed to Col. Robert S. Baker, who was then a large real estate operator in this city. The deed purports to convey the entire interests of the other eight Sepulveda heirs to Col. Baker without their knowledge or consent.

Col. Baker subsequently conveyed this land to the Santa Monica Land and Water Company, which conveyed it to the Santa Monica Mountain Park Company, the principal defendant in the action.

The statute of limitations raises the principal legal issues in the litigation. It is contended that the vast tract lies principally in the Santa Monica hills and mountains bordering on the Pacific Ocean, lying north and west of the Santa Monica Canyon. So far as known by the claimants, as alleged, the lands have never been inclosed, used or in the actual possession of any one since the deed by Jose del Carmen and Jose Dolores Sepulveda to Col. Baker.

The Sepulveda litigants constitute many of the wealthy, influential and leading citizens of Los Angeles and Southern California, including the Sepulvedas, Rimpaus, Ricos, De la Guerras, Cotes, Lagos, Garfias, Yorbas, Vejars, Carillos, Alvarados, Bernards and Lopez.

ALIEN FASTS LONG.

German Who Says He Won't Eat Anything Raised in America is Taken to County Hospital.

John Boya, a German alien who was arrested at Long Beach several days ago, was brought to Los Angeles yesterday and placed in the County Hospital for treatment, following a self-imposed fast, the prisoner having refused to eat a mouthful during the three days that he was in the City Jail at Long Beach.

When brought before Special Agent Keep of the Department of Justice yesterday, Boya was so weak that he fainted away and had to have medical attendance. He denounced the United States in the bitterest and most vehement terms and swore that he would eat nothing that was raised in this country or had been purchased with American money. Boya is 35 years of age and has been known at the beach city for some time on account of his pro-German proclivities.

John Schultze, 37 years of age, similarly charged with Boya, was brought from Long Beach at the same time. He was committed to the County Jail.

POLITICAL JOB, SAYS BROLASKI.

Will not Fight Extradition to New York.

Indicted in East for False Advertisement.

"This trouble was created by political enemies who have stirred up a hornet's nest in New York City with a view to defeating me at the coming election for Mayor of Redondo Beach," declared Harry Brolaski, Mayor of the beach city, when taken into custody yesterday on telegraphic advice from Inspector Cray of the New York police department stating Brolaski was wanted on a charge of having embezzled $300,000 from a motion-picture company.

"I shall go to New York City to answer this charge immediately after the election, on April 8, at Redondo," Brolaski asserted. "My political opponents will not have the pleasure of missing me from my customary haunts at next Monday's election.

"There is more behind this infamous attack on my character than most people are aware of. It also has to do with the construction of a shipbuilding plant at Redondo, which proposition has been opposed by mysterious personages out here and in the East."

TO GO AFTER ELECTION.

Brolaski was taken into custody by Detectives George Home and Herman Cline and was released on his own recognizance following his arraignment before Justice Palmer. The preliminary hearing of the case was set for April 10, Brolaski being represented in court by Attorneys Frank Domingues and Milton M. Cohen.

Attorney Domingues announced that his client would make no attempt to fight extradition to New York, and would go willingly after the Redondo election.

According to dispatches from New York, Brolaski was indicted by a grand jury there last Thursday on a charge of publishing a false financial advertisement. Brolaski is a member of the firm of R. S. Davison & Co., a New York brokerage concern, selling agent for stock of the Standard Film Industries of which L. B. Jennings, under arrest in New Orleans, is president. The indictment of Brolaski and Jennings followed an investigation by Mrs. Merion K. Clark of the New York State Industrial Commission into the methods of the Standard Film Industries in selling stock.

DIDN'T PAY RENT.

The concern, it was stated, was dispossessed from its New York headquarters a few days ago for nonpayment of rent.

Brolaski declared here yesterday he had no knowledge as to what constituted the charge of embezzlement against him, other than that it possibly had to do with sales of stock all of which, so far as he was concerned, have been of a legitimate character, he said.

"The reputation of this company," he continued, "is of the best, having among its official heads such well-known names as Anthony J. Drexel of Philadelphia, Philip O. Mills, nephew of John P. Archibold; L. B. Jennings and Elliott Norton, one of the foremost attorneys in New York City."

BELGIAN TO LECTURE.

Architect who Designed Cathedrals Later Destroyed by Germans, will Talk Here.

Annually the Archaeological Institute of America confers upon some well-known scholar the honor of addressing its branches throughout the United States under the name of the Charles Eliot Norton memorial lecturer. Distinguished architects and artists have been so honored in the past, and on next Friday evening, at Symphony Hall, the local branch of the Archaeological Institute of America will have an extraordinary meeting to welcome Prof. Victor Horta, member of Royal Academy of Belgium, professor of the University of Brussels, Belgium, who was entrusted in 1913 with the scientific reconstruction of civic buildings and cathedrals in Belgium.

The distinguished architect, scientist and scholar will address the Los Angeles society upon "The Cathedrals and Civic Buildings of Belgium and Northern France," complementing his intimate knowledge of those edifices by over 200 lantern slides representing the architecture of Belgium so generally destroyed by the German invasion.

CARRIE NATION FILM SPOILED.

Motion Picture Plan to Embalm End of Saloons Stopped by Police.

That Police Chief Butler forestalled a movement to "Carrie Nation" a Main-street saloon Saturday night for the making of a split reel of news pictures portraying the "last night of the Los Angeles saloons," was made known in police circles yesterday.

A prominent film concern purchased the fixtures of a Main-street saloon early last week and made arrangements to have twelve actors and actresses enter the place at midnight. They were to wield shimmering tomahawks with which they were to shatter the mirrors and split the bar mahogany into kindling wood.

Getting a quiet tip on the outside, Chief Butler communicated with a director of the film company and served notice that he'd have twelve patrolmen on hand to round up everyone who participated in the raid. Thereupon the director abandoned the scheme.

WATTS WETS COLONIZE, IS CHARGED IN SUIT.

ACTION FILED TO CANCEL ALLEGED FALSE REGISTRATIONS.

The charge that voters have colonized in Watts for the anti-liquor election to be held next Monday was made in a complaint asking for the cancellation of false registrations in that city, filed by M. H. Mills, a taxpayer, yesterday, through Attorneys Tanner, Taft and Odell, representing the dry interests. More than 130 defendants are named, including D. B. Lyons, Registrar of Voters, who is alleged to have had no personal knowledge of the facts except that the alleged colonizers executed their registration affidavits through certain of his deputies.

The complaint alleges a conspiracy to defeat the will of the people at the election. Several women are named among the defendants. It is charged on information and belief that the defendants have no proper residence in Watts.

In a statement issued last night, Mr. Montgomery, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Southern California, stated yesterday that witnesses will testify that over one saloon twenty-five persons registered and that a Jay or two before registration closed a large number of votes were moved in for the purpose of giving them sleeping room; that the same occurred over a certain bank and that a large number of the colonized voters are in a clubhouse, and some are in cottages rented by the wets for the purpose.

DRUNKS ARE FEW.

Big Decrease in Fine Money Looms Since the Saloons closed Their Doors.

The effect which the closing of the saloons Saturday night had was demonstrated yesterday when the police department booked only seven "drunks" in twenty hours.

The average number of arrests for intoxication per day during the month preceding the closing of the grog shops was from thirty to fifty.

A big decrease in the amount of money taken in as Police Court fines for intoxication cases is anticipated, and the families of men who have been accustomed to landing in jail and paying fines occasionally, or going to jail for imbibing too much liquor, are apt to enjoy the benefit of the money that will hereafter not be extracted from the pockets of the heads of families through Police Court prodecure.

LATE IN BLOOMING

Owing to the fact that the big wistaria vine at the H. T. Fennel residence, Scenic Point, Sierra Madre, is late in blooming this spring, more than 800 people were disappointed on Easter Day, after journeying from ten to fifty miles to see the floral monstrosity. Mr. Fennel said yesterday that it will probably be ten days or two weeks before the vine will be in full bloom and at that time a Red Cross fete will be given. Travelers say the wistaria vine is the largest one in the world; and every year it attracts great crowds.

HIGH LICENSE STORM LOOMS.

Council Committee Besieged by Objectors.

Malt Bottlers and the Drug Stores Represented.

All Sorts of Industries to be Affected.

That there will be a storm of protests against many of the proposed increases in the license ordinance was indicated yesterday when a large delegation of protestants appeared before the Finance Committee of the City Council prepared to make complaints. They were informed that objections will not be heard until the tentative ordinance is completed. It may be ready for consideration by the Council this week.

Among those who were prepared to argue against the proposed increases were representatives of the malt bottling houses and drug stores. The Finance Committee proposes to tax the bottlers, who sell at wholesale and retail, $1000 a month and all druggists who sell whisky $25 a month.

The bottlers say that if the proposed tax is not eliminated, all of them must go out of business. One man said that in the last twelve months his firm made a profit of only $2400 and he did not believe the Council would fix a tax of $1000 a year upon a profit no larger than he had realized.

THE DRUGGISTS' CASE.

The druggists have not been compelled to pay a license for selling whisky by prescriptions. Many of them, it was stated, do not sell $2a worth a month. Members of the Finance Committee said they proposed the license because of the probability of the druggists doing an immense whisky business, the saloons being eliminated.

Wholesale liquor dealers, known as the family liquor dealers, will protest, it was stated, against the proposed increase of $150 a month. Now they pay $100. John Shepek, president of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, said a license fee of $250 a month would drive out 75 per cent. of the dealers unless the breweries and wineries are prohibited from doing a retail trade.

Members of the Finance Committee expressed surprise when informed that the motion-picture studios are not compelled to pay a license and it was unanimously agreed to tax them $400 per annum. Film exchanges, which have been paying from $10 to $50 per quarter, must pay a flat rate of $100.

Slaughter and packing-houses have been paying no license fee. The committee decided they must pay $150 per quarter. In the event the concern only slaughters, it will be charged $50 per quarter.

The license rates for restaurant owners were increased. In the future the restaurant owner whose receipts are under $400 per month must pay $5 per quarter; over $400 and less than $800, $10 per quarter; over $800 and under $1500, $15; over $1500, $20.

Second-hand dealers will be charged a flat rate of $10 per quarter.

Those engaged in street car advertising business now pay $35 per quarter and the proposed increase is to $350 per year.

Auction houses now pay nothing, but the committee fixed a fee of $100 per year for them.

DOWN THE LINE.

Bakeries must pay $3 for one oven and $2 for each additional oven.

The license on bath-houses and massage parlors will be increased from $10 to $30 per quarter.

Employment agencies now pay $12 per quarter. The proposed increase is to $100 per year.

Each oil well operating within the city is charged $1 per quarter now. Under the new scale it will be taxed $30 per year.

Oil filling stations now pay $5 a year, but will be charged $6 a year.

CAN'T AFFORD TO DIE NOW.

So Says Councilman as He Proposes Municipal "Undertaking."

"There are mighty few men who can afford to die now," said Chairman Mallard of the Finance Committee of the City Council, yesterday. "The rates charged by the undertakers and for burial grounds make dying almost prohibitive."

Mr. Mallard said he would favor an ordinance creating a municipal undertaking concern. "Then a man could die and rest assured that his widow would not have to work ten years to pay his funeral expenses," said Mr. Mallard.

ON WELFARE BODY.

SUPERVISORS MAKE APPOINTMENTS TO FILL TWO VACANCIES ON COMMISSION.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday appointed Max Adler of this city and Dr. Joseph G. Crawford of Sawtelle to fill vacancies on the Public Welfare Commission. The commission now comprises Dr. J. R. Haynes, Mrs. G. H. Kress, G. F. Bidwell, Miss Ianthe Densmore, Mrs. Mary M. Coman, Mrs. Mary L. Slater and Mrs. E. D. Hooper.

The functions of the commission are to make recommendations in regard to charities, to supervise homes for dependent children and to issue licenses.

HOTEL MEN'S INJUNCTION PLEA DENIED BY COURT.

A FEW minutes were sufficient in Judge Myers's court yesterday to dispose of the application of the 175 hotel men, restaurant proprietors and cafe owners for an injunction against the enforcement of the Gandier no-saloon ordinance, which went into effect at midnight last Saturday.

A restraining order had been denied by Judge Myers on Saturday which settled the validity of the ordinance, and yesterday's proceedings were more for the purpose of perfecting the record to take an appeal from the court's judgment, in case this step is decided upon.

David Carroll, deputy City Clerk, who signed the certification which led up to the passage of the ordinance, was called and asked by Attorney Loeb, representing the application for an injunction, if he had compared the signatures on the petition with the number of votes cast for Mayor at the 1915 election. The objection of City Attorney Stephens that the court could not go beyond the City Clerk's certification was sustained by Judge Myers. Mr. Carroll did describe the method of handling the petition and passing it up to the City Council.

City Attorney Stephens made a statement to the effect that the city did not intend to intimate that the attorneys for the petition had been lax in preparing it. In fact, he said, the entire hearing had progressed briskly. Judge Myers said the case had been presented to the court in a fine spirit of fairness on the part of the attorneys for both sides.

Unique Wedding Ceremony.

The golf links on Indian Hill, Claremont, was the setting for a unique wedding ceremony on Easter morning when Darsie L. Darsie, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Darsie of this city, took for his bride Miss Ruth Agnes Utt, daughter of John Utt, a wealthy business man of Claremont.

Rev. Darsie in the "Y" uniform officiated. The bridal pair and the company who witnessed the ceremony were grouped on the beautiful greensward under the shadow of the foothills and with the snow-capped mountains bright in the sunshine, where the service was read at 9 o'clock just after the Easter sunrise devotions. The golf links were chosen, because it was there that the young people had passed so many pleasant hours. Mr. Darsie last year was editor of the Pomona College paper and his bride is president of the senior class at the same college. Roy Adkinson, one of the noted athletes at Pomona, was Mr. Darsie's best man, while Miss Margaret Johnson of Rialto was maid of honor. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white baronet satin, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and maidenhair ferns.

Mr. Darsie and his bride have been classmates four years. Mr. Darsie has enlisted in the naval aviation service and will go immediately into the naval service.

Following the service a breakfast was served to twenty-five guests, all ardent golf and golf enthusiasts, at Mr. Utt at the Claremont Inn. The tables were decorated with white iris and daffodils and tied with white tulle. Yellow and white candelabra lent a bright note to the color scheme. Following the breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Darsie left on a motor trip that will include Santa Barbara and San Diego.

For Distinguished Guests.

Cameron Stanton, one of the ministers of Canada, and Wadsworth Harris, well-known tragedian, gained honors at a sumptuous dinner party, at which Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hinde of Oak Grove avenue, Pasadena, were hosts last evening. Mr. Stanton has been the center of numerous smart functions. He is expected to his home in Ottawa today. He has been a guest of Harry Lane Lombard at the California Country Club.

For Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Trumper of Shanghai, China, who are visiting friends here, were honor guests at a dinner for twelve, at which Mrs. J. S. Teague of Ocean Park entertained at the Merritt Jones Home on Friday evening. After dinner the company assembled at the Ocean Park Pavilion.

Farewell to Capt. Shaw.

As a farewell to Capt. Walter Shaw, head of British recruiting in Southern California, who leaves for Cleveland, O., the middle of the month, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Doran of Harvard boulevard are giving a big dinner party at their home on Thursday evening. There will be sixteen guests and Mrs. Doran will use a color scheme in crimson roses and spring flowers. Capt. Shaw, who has been lionized ever since his arrival here last summer, has been transferred to Ohio, where he will be in charge of recruiting.

By Mrs. Wisdom.

Overlook, the home of Mrs. Earl Wisdom, No. 1302 Lilac Terrace, was the scene of a lovely luncheon last Saturday, when she assembled a coterie of friends about a table adorned with violets and jonquils. Covers marked places for the wife of Col. L. Keyes of San Francisco, Mrs. V. M. Goodwin, Mrs. J. D. Simpson, Mrs. S. E. Hull and Mrs. Ivan Ward.

The Campbells in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Campbell of this city, who are in Honolulu for a visit of two months, entertained a merry company at dinner at the Moana Hotel, Tuesday of last week, in compliment to Mrs. Frank Edgar Williams of Los Angeles and Mrs. Albert May of San Gabriel. The table was beautifully decorated in Hawaiian style, the centerpiece being a grass hut with typical Hawaiian girl and surf boat with Hawaiian flags. The place cards were hand-painted cocoa mats with the hula dancer dressed in native costume. For favors there were bright-colored leis. Twenty-two guests were present. Mr. Campbell is assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific and he and Mrs. Campbell the following day were guests of honor at a luncheon for ten at which the officers of the Oahu Railway and Land Company were hosts, taking the party by special train to Haleiwa for the feasts.

By Mrs. Samet.

In a post-Lenten setting, executed in great jars and baskets of Easter lilies and other white blossoms, Mrs. R. Samet entertained at a dancing party at the Stratford apartments last evening. The chandeliers were shaded in green and were hung with pepper boughs. Here and there a bowl of pink sweet peas gave a dash of color. Nearly one hundred guests were present.

By Mrs. Durley.

A coterie of literary folk was entertained Friday evening by Mrs. Ella H. Durley at the Stratford apartments in honor of Maj. S. H. H. Byers, author of "Sherman's March to the Sea." Mrs. R. Samet assisted Mrs. Durley and others, who gave an informal programme.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Woman's City Club.

The programme was inclined to fit the day at the Woman's City Club yesterday. April Fool's Day, you know. Even Col. Hensley of Arcadia fooled them a little, for he was billed to talk on "The Eyes of the Artillery," but the arrival of a large contingent of men at Arcadia cut him down to a mere ten minutes, so he contented himself with a few heartening words of the stability of the Allied line and a plea that every woman would send her son off with a smile in' these dread days. He told of some mothers who write him piteous letters not to send their boys to France, and concluded with a ringing cry, "If we have to spill every drop of blood of American manhood, we are going to see this war through." But he raised no applause—the thought was rather too tragically tremendous.

But he was followed by a person introduced as "Daddy" Flynn, who evidently accepts himself unconditionally as a rather special specimen of masculinity, who relieved the tension considerably. This speaker preened and chirped up and down the platform for half an hour, addressing the audience of perfectly decorous women as "Say, girls," and "You kids," and shouting "When you see any woman get old and homely and wrinkled, depend upon it she is an old hog," in a more-or-less logical argument that eating breakfast was a crime against nature, beauty and wisdom, and that by cutting it out, Americans would be strong, healthy and handsome and thus release those breakfasts for the consumption of our allies.

The final speaker was Zella Van Ornumm Glynn, who received a respectful hearing on account of the constructive labor of love for which she stands. Her life's work is the generous gratuitous attention to crippled and neglected children, for whom she has worked many loving miracles. Miss Glynn is not a good speaker, but the things she had to tell were deeply interesting to her hearers.

For Woman's Training Home.

That little gem of Red Cross patriotism, the one-act play written by Florence Haynes Reed, "Godmothering a Soldier," netted nearly $150 for the Woman's City Club bungalow for the Women's Training Home yesterday. Directed by Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, it was as nearly professional in its production as an amateur affair could be, and Hamburger's auditorium was crowded with enthusiastic spectators.

Mrs. M. E. Johnson, co-opted at the last minute to give a Red Cross talk in the Red Cross workroom scene, rose to the occasion with delicious humor and proceeded to "take off" the war talkers of the City Club's previous programme. Mary Smith Cable of Long Beach, as the Madame Pugetish, French widow, both looked and acted the part convincingly, and Miss Reed herself played the part of the rich girl with nothing to do who falls in precipitate love with the lone soldier boy, with entrancing naivete. The small children in the play were clever actors — Tommy White, the CHAPLIN DEPARTS.

DOCTOR SAID HE MUSN'T, BUT HE DID.

By Grace Kingsley.

After all, the Liberty Bond campaign is not to be hampered on account of the loss of Charlie Chaplin's aid, as it looked as if it were going to be yesterday morning. On the other hand, Mr. Chaplin left on the Salt Lake road yesterday, in good order. But there is a doctor in town who is swearing vengeance.

The way it all happened is this. Mr. Chaplin was taken very ill last Sunday night, so ill, indeed, that a doctor had to be called in. Once within Charlie's apartment at the Athletic Club, the physician decided that Charlie had something very important and expensive the matter with him, and commanded the comedian to take to his bed and remain there, giving up his trip East. Charlie expostulated. Ill as he was he declared he couldn't give up his trip.

The physician remained adamant. Then he gave orders to Charles Lapworth, one of Charlie's aides-de-camp, to lock the door and remain outside if need be. Lapworth complied. But everybody forgot, apparently, that Charlie is an athlete, and this morning when they unlocked the door, too late, as they thought for the comedian to get ready, bless you, he was gone! A few moments later Charlie's Athletic Club friends were greeted over the telephone with a message to the effect Charlie was at Brother Sid's, and that he had collected a sufficient wardrobe with which to depart on his journey. Charlie had descended the fire escape, called a taxi, beat it out to Sid's house, and had been so well taken care of out there he was able to go on his journey.

Orpheum.

Of course the sensation of the show is Gertrude Hoffman's Revue, with the live snake in the Hindoo number. Snakeless snake dances have long been the rule, but Miss Hoffman is a real sport. She uses a large, healthy reptile, which coils about her as she dances. It may here be remarked that in this dance Miss Hoffman wears little except the snake. There are likewise real Hindoo dancers, who are more than atmosphere. Miss Hoffman has grown stouter than of yore, and the added avoirdupois is becoming. And she hasn't pawned any of her pep. All the numbers of the revue are delightful, with the exception of the Hawaiian number, when the show lets down.

It's very likely that Leo Beers could get by with personality and the alphabet. The fact he has a thoroughly delightful offering of the variety known as a "drawing-room act" makes him one of the best drawing cards the Orpheum has ever had. Beers is the only man I know who can put over a near-naughty song—especially in a drawing-room atmosphere.

J. C. Nugent's act, "The Squarer," has been here before. In it Nugent plays the role of that rara avis—that person you would say was impossible—the gentlemanly souse. He scores heavily.

Joe Galvin's professional Italian is excellent in the Kelly and Galvin act. He has wonderful personality, and if the two had better material they would have a first-class act.

"Hush little saloon, don't you cry; you'll be a drug store by and by," sing Henry Regal and David Bender, as they skip out on the stage. Really, they could get over with their patter alone, even if they hadn't some first-class athletic stunts in their act, notably a novel casting stunt.

The holdovers include Harry and Emma Sharrock and Lean and Mayfield, who score a second week.

Burbank.

At the Burbank this week there is to be found variety in the intrinsic sense of the word. One doesn't very often see as diversified vaudeville as is presented at this ancient Main-street playhouse. But really the bill is excellent—that is, except in one place, and then it is screamingly funny. The particular comic stunt is the International Revue, the principals of which are former entertainers in a local cafe. The act itself contains good material, and would be good if there had been proper rehearsal. But the performers evidently were left largely on their own resources yesterday, for nobody seemed to know exactly what to do. One of the specialty numbers of the offering is a Russian peasant dance, a really serious subject. Uncle Sam (in the offering) completely forgot his lines and stood before us stuttering and stupified, petrified I should say, like the sweet young thing at her first baccalaureate address. So much for so much.

The rest of the bill is fine. Freehand Brothers have a novelty acrobatic act that is indeed refreshing after some of the bunk one has had to sit through in the past. Dick Harding's stock is not quite so high as a monologuist, but as a clog dancer he is clever. Cavallea, a female impersonator, hardly makes known the fact. His (or her?) dances are excellent, new and all that. Indeed, he has good visible support. Burdell and Burdell start out slowly, but end up with all kinds of pep and ginger. Their juggling act is a corker.

"MISTER ANTONIO."

OTIS SKINNER'S LITTLE PLAY OF LAUGHTER AND TEARS.

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

A little play of laughter and tears is "Mister Antonio," with Otis Skinner, at the Mason this week. Most of us pronounced it the most enjoyable offering of the season. It is spontaneous and it has exquisite feeling. It is a thing with both the fragrance and the joy of wild flowers. Booth Tarkington wrote it. Tarkington is never great, but he is always clever, and sometimes very, very happy. He is human, too, and his touches of rural life are always charming.

"Mister Antonio" reveals all of the smallness of small-town folk and some of their virtues, but the expose is merciful, and this quality of mercy gives the play a sweetness that is like morning light. We all know Avalonia, and some of us can never forgive it. We are all acquainted with Mayor Jorny, a bubble that few of us could resist a chance to prick. We have all seen the minister's son, and—heaven help us—some of us have had to listen to the minister himself, and have suffered the further pain of knowing his wife, and the wife of the Mayor, too.

In small towns one cannot be really exclusive, or there would be nobody left to speak to. In big towns we are just the same as in little ones, but there are so many more of us that we do not notice it. Mr. Skinner had a good laugh at us last night along this very line. In the play he speaks about having "one damn fool in his heart," and in his curtain speech, which was quite the most graceful and wonderful ever made at the Mason, because he remained in his part, he said that everybody in Los Angeles was like himself, having one great big fool inside.

Mr. Skinner's plays are like whisky in Kentucky—or rather they are like whisky to a Kentuckian. Some are better than others, but all of them are good, and when one happens to be less good than others, Mr. Skinner remains his superlative self. In "Kismet" he was magnificent, and so was his production. In "The Cock of the Walk," last year, he was superb, and his play was abominable. It was by Sir Henry Arthur Jones, who had a flivver coming if he wanted one, because he gave Mr. Skinner that remarkable vehicle, "The Liars," so long as twenty years ago.

Few plays were ever better, and it helped place Mr. Skinner in the ranks of those few American actors whose name can never be effaced from stage traditions. Each generation hopes for the best, but if this generation is raising anybody to take the place of Otis Skinner, I am unable to nominate his fortunate successor. Thank goodness, the vacancy has not yet been created, and from the vigor with which "Mister Antonio" is created, I should say that it will not exist for many golden years.

Every man has a specialty. Mr. Skinner's specialty is—everything. His versatility is inexhaustible. The man's laughter is like the patter of rain on a roof, and his voice has the melody of the heart. That is his secret. He puts warmth into all that he does. He approximates the tenderness of George Beban and the lusty strength of "Bob" Mantell. We have many men with some of his graces, his qualities and his finish, but no one actor with all of them.

"Mister Antonio," as a production, is distinguished for a supporting cast of exceptional excellence. Ruth Rose, as June Ramsey, is like the shower of rose petals which Mister Antonio sees dancing in the wind. If she were a bird, she would be a brown thrush. If she were a leaf, she would fall from a maple tree in early October, and if she were a flower, she would be a white columbine just tinged with blue and growling from a crag above the falls in South Cheyenne Canyon.

It is almost impossible to create a stage simpleton and not make him offensive. Bert Weaner succeeded in this delicate task in his part of Napoleon, in "The Misleading Lady," and Robert Harrison does it in the part of Joe, in "Mister Antonio." He combines the whimsical with the pathetic, so that it does not hurt too much.

"THE BLUE BIRD."

CHARMING PICTURIZATION OF MAETERLINCK'S PLAY.

By Antony Anderson.

The drama of Maurice Maeterlinck is always poetry. Sometimes it is a fairy tale. And as all fairy tales are nothing but poetry, my first statement remains true. His plays are not like other men's plays, yet they "act" as well as other men's, and generally better. This is because of the poetry, "the light that never was."

So you see that it is not at all surprising that the charming fantasy which he called "The Blue Bird," and which he assured us was a play—and which we must accept as such because he is a poet and always speaks the truth—has been turned into motion pictures, and that the motion pictures are so bewilderingly beautiful and so many that you are transported straight to fairyland—no matter what your age or previous state of scepticism—while you are looking at them.

If you have a good heart and a gentle soul, you will remain in fairyland for about two days, and perhaps even longer. You will realize that there must be such a bird as the blue one that little Tyltyl and Mytyl sought for so hopefully—and you may discover, as they did, that its name is happiness, and that it lives and sings right in your own house, even if your house is only a flat.

But to come down to the pictures, which you may see every day this week at Grauman's, just as soon as you have turned your eyes away from the beautiful studded ceiling above you. They are wonderful, for they are all your favorite fairy stories come true to life, or so nearly true to life that you can't tell whether the fairy folk are really before you or not.

Things fantastic and unbelievable are shown you, but they seem perfectly natural and you don't doubt them for a moment. You discover, with Tyltyl and Mytyl, that "there are no dead," that everybody who has gone away from earth has been turned into a fragrant flower. And you discover the soul of fire, or water, or bread.

In short, "The Blue Bird" is a delight from beginning to end, a photoplay for you and your children.

A dainty diversion, twice every afternoon and twice every evening, is the toe dancing of little June Hovick, a little blonde only 5 years old. It is as captivating as "The Blue Bird" itself.

"Revelation."

Nazimova in pictures is as amazingly brisk and chic and tantalizing as Nazimova on the stage—though we miss her pleasant little accent. At least, she is all these fascinating things, and many more, in the photoplay of "Revelation," which has been filmed from a story with a much more beautifully-suggestive name—"The Rosebush of a Thousand Years," I believe it is—and which is running at Tally's Broadway this week.

She is not these things, I remember, in "Hedda Gabler" and "Little Eyolf." But the heroine of "Revelation" is not in the least like the scheming Hedda. She is a little Parisian grisette who loves, like most grisettes, not wisely, but too well, and who is a little devil of an Apache to boot, with a temper as tempestuous as that of a wildcat. Her artist lover, an American, had the deuce of a time with his grisette, but he kept on loving her just the same.

The story is a notably interesting one, with some new turns that are not found in every motion picture. It has to do with some of the beautiful mysteries and superstitions of religion, and it unfolds itself as naturally and delicately as the blossoms on the wonderful rosebush round which it revolves. However, I am inclined to think that the story has been "improved," for the pictures are brought up to date, so to speak, to war-time and the trenches. At any rate, the girl becomes a nurse to French soldiers, exactly like the heroine of "The Splendid Sinner," in which Mary Garden is starred at Quinn's Rialto. Every photoplay runs to war these days, and rightly so, though the climax is often ruined thereby. "Revelation" should have ended when the girl leaves her lover.

Nazimova's acting is—Nazimova's acting. What more need I say? And her support is very good.

"The Splendid Sinner."

Mary Garden should have a better play—for she certainly deserves it, if any one does—than the one that has been given her as a vehicle by Goldwyn at Quinn's Rialto this week. "The Splendid Sinner" follows so many old traditional lines that we find it hard to discover a single new twist of fate in it—unless we so consider the heroine's work as nurse in a soldiers' hospital and her execution as aider of spies. But every picture has a nurse, nowadays, just as every picture seems to have a repentant Magdalen. Truly, motion pictures are an education in themselves.

However, we are given Mary Garden in "The Splendid Sinner," her second picture, and even if it does not approach her first in beauty, carries it with distinction and eclat. For Miss Garden's acting has both power and grace, and she wears her stunning clothes with a superb ease. These things make a picture, whether your demand be for motion or emotion.

The splendid sinner repents rather suddenly and unexpectedly, and like all sinners she finds it hard to keep to the straight and narrow path. Since she marries without making proper confession, her doom of desertion is inevitable—and, on the whole, deserved. But she doesn't give up, and her splendid fight for the possession of her soul makes an interesting story, if not a new one.

Goldwyn always supplies a good supporting cast, and he always gives us photography that is worth looking at. Also, those necessary connecting links, the subtitles, are intelligent and illuminating.

MUSICAL.

MELBA SINGS TONIGHT.

RETURN OF DIVA WILL BE GREAT MUSICAL EVENT.

Tonight, at Trinity Auditorium, will be a gala occasion, when the always-welcome Mme. Nellie Melba presents one of her interesting, diversified programmes. This will be her only concert in Los Angeles this year, as immediately after her engagements in Long Beach, San Diego and Pasadena she goes to her summer home, which will be in Montecito, near Santa Barbara, this year.

Few singers of our time have enjoyed the close friendship of the great composers, diplomats, kings and writers that this distinguished singer has; she has sung in all the capitals of Europe with unfailing success, and in this country has conquered the public, not only through the beauty of her voice in both concert and opera, but because of the splendor of her career.

She is bringing with her this year Stella Power, her favorite pupil and protege, a rarely-gifted young Australian girl, whose unusual quality of voice attracted Melba, and upon whom she has lavished the knowledge and experience of her own extraordinary career.

Frank St. Leger, who will be remembered for the very superior accompaniments he played with Melba two years ago, is once more acting in the same capacity, having been invalided home from the gas tents in the Angelus Mesa temple-Egyptian front. Axel Simonsen, violoncellist, will play two groups of solos.

Stella Power,

Favorite pupil of Melba, who will be on the programme with the famous diva this evening at Trinity Auditorium.

VOLUNTARILY CUTS ITS GAS RATES.

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday announced that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has voluntarily decreased its been invalided home from the gas rate in the Angelus Mesa temple-Egyptian front. Axel Simonsen, violoncellist, will play two groups of solos. has been charging the consumers in that district 80 cents.

THE MISSING HOUR.

The question of what became of that lost hour is gently passed on to the curbstone debating societies. They can't wrangle it out over the bar any more.

TRACKING TYPES.

Several moving-picture directors, and a good many persons who are not, spend hours of each day in scanning the streets for types. Much of this inspection is on the street called Broadway, where on a sunny afternoon most anything can be rounded up from a Brahmin pundit to a cockney rat-catcher. There are lovely women whose beholding offers refreshment for sore eyes, and there are babes and broilers of all lands. In searching for types even our bourgeois are nonpareil. Don't be a pica!

PLENTY OF CHANCES.

A man who has spent the best part of his life trying to be sociable with people over a mahogany bar has some trouble in adjusting himself to conditions in a town which has suddenly gone dry. Possibly he had a good-sized financial investment and it isn't easy to get it back in a business where the contents of a quart bottle are sold on the installment plan. It isn't necessary to throw rocks at the saloonist who finds himself abruptly cut from his familiar moorings and set adrift in an unfriendly sea. Give him time and consolation and he will bring up in a hospitable harbor. The training of a "mixer" is often found valuable in ultra-respectable lines of commerce and industry.

FRANCE'S ANSWER.

Surprise has been expressed repeatedly that the French Prime Minister was the only Allied leader who made no reply to the statement of war aims of the German and Austrian Chancellors. The French position is direct and simple. Premier Clemenceau holds that it is impossible to conclude an honorable peace with dishonorable men.

Henry Lavedan, French writer and statesman, gave the following expression of the prevailing French opinion: "Whatever would come from it, we would debase ourselves morally from the mere fact of having wavered, were it only for a second, in our unshaken resolution, to have so much as quivered an eyelash on hearing the word peace." This invincible French resolution does much to render the French arms invincible; when hearts stand firm legs are not easily shaken.

THE CASE OF NOYON.

Von Hindenburg's men are doubtless feeling duly grateful to the citizens of Washington, D. C., for their contributions towards the rebuilding of the town of Noyon in Picardy. A committee in Washington fell for the Hearst plan of adopting certain French towns that had been invaded and rebuilding them. Noyon was selected and considerable money was raised to replace the buildings that had been destroyed during the first Hun occupancy. But ten days ago Noyon was retaken by the Huns and the buildings erected by the naive Washingtonians will now serve as barracks for the German troops and stables for their horses. All the money was lost. Had the same money been devoted to actual French relief, definite good would have been accomplished. Besides, it is with German and Austrian money that those ruined French towns must finally be restored. Reparation will be a prominent clause in the peace treaty that our Liberty Army is now training to enforce. Better not rebuild till the war is over.

OUR BOYS AT HOME.

Our boys in France are showing themselves brave soldiers, ready to bear their share in the terrible warfare and to face death with their friends—the French and British soldiers. We are proud of them; we are sending them our most ardent wishes and prayers and we are working for their comfort and care.

But we also have hundreds of thousands of men in the encampments of this country who are just as brave and just as eager for service—who count the fellows that have already gone over there as "lucky devils" and envy them. And these boys are exhibiting courage and backbone of a high order when they remain quietly in camp and go on with the routine and drill which they feel is, after all, only marking time, while they are burning to be in the fight—to be doing something tangible toward helping save civilization. It is hard and it requires patience and patriotism to go on with sham battles and drills at this moment which calls for action, when every true American feels that he must be doing his share toward bringing victory.

Of course the government is moving and will move troops as rapidly as transportation can be provided; but many of the soldiers who are so anxious to have a "go at the Huns" may be disappointed. And these boys, who must stay at home and keep on with the dull round of camp life, deserve as much credit as the more fortunate who are chosen to cross the ocean. It takes more courage and stamina, after all, to manfully perform the commonplace duties of everyday life than to rise to the demands of a great occasion.

FAST DRIVING.

Speed is the besetting sin of all motorists. From the man who had his Ford delivered Saturday afternoon to the old-timer who was his own chauffeur when Barney Oldfield was driving the Peerless Green Dragon Speed is the temptress who never loses her charm and who continues to lure us as long as we sit at the wheel of an automobile. Fortunate and few are they who have never fallen and reaped the grim consequence thereof.

Every driver breaks the law at one time or another. Perhaps he steals the right of way from a timorous fellow; maybe it's only a momentary dash to the wrong side of the street while he passes some plodding vegetable wagon which insists on taking up most of the side along which he is entitled to move; but it is an every-day occurrence to him to kick along a few miles faster than the law allows.

What accident in which an automobile is concerned could possibly happen if the driver were observing all the necessary precautions? Ninety-nine out of every hundred could be avoided if the driver of every machine knew to the inch how quickly he could bring his car to a stop and governed his actions accordingly. Most men can tell pretty accurately how quickly their car will pick up from a standing start to twenty miles an hour, but mighty few can tell in how many feet they can bring the car from twenty miles an hour to a dead stop. The former means pleasure; the latter means life.

Take the case of the man who plunges into another machine at a crossing or, for that matter, who is hit by another machine at a crossing. What possible reason can he give for hitting the other man or for being hit? There is just one reason and that is speed. Whether he has the right of way or not, every man should have his car under such perfect control at every street crossing that it is practically impossible for another to hit him. Many a man takes the right of way at a crossing regardless of the fact that the other driver may not be looking, may not be able to stop.

What satisfaction does it give you to know that you had the right of way when your wife, your baby or someone else's wife or baby is lying there, a crushed, bleeding creature? All because you were in a hurry and you thought the other fellow would stop because it was your right of way. What caused the accident? Speed. YOUR speed.

What about the man who runs down the woman stepping off the street car? Whether she looked in both directions or not, he must know that if he had considered the safety of others as of more importance than his own selfish desire to get home to supper he need not have hit her. He should have stopped behind the car. He should have had his machine so well under control that if she jumped directly in his path he could have stopped. He should have been looking for just such an emergency to arise and been prepared for it. Why did he run her down? Too much speed.

How about the man who skidded on the wet street, jammed into a telegraph pole and killed himself and three passengers? Was there any good reason for it? Is it absolutely necessary to skid just because streets are wet? Isn't it true that any machine can be kept under almost perfect control on the wettest of streets if driven slowly. Even if he did suddenly approach the wet spot in the road, couldn't he have taken it at a reasonable pace if he hadn't been going too fast in the first place? What really made him skid and kill four people? Speed.

The average automobile driver is too cocksure, not only of himself, but of the other fellow. The only safe rule to follow is to regard every person you meet, whether afoot or in another machine, as a person with a mad desire to hit you or to be hit by you, and take precautions accordingly. Drive at such a speed that, no matter how hard they try, they can't move quickly enough to make you hit them. Be always on your guard and ready to stop.

The worst fault of the modern automobile is its simplicity of operation, with the resulting overconfidence it instills in the driver. The ease with which the machine is driven makes it almost impossible to realize its terrible powers of destruction when once beyond control. Properly driven, the automobile is a power for good; driven too fast it is a tremendous power for evil.

Mr. Motorist, how long since you looked at your brakes? You know how fast your machine will go. You know how quickly she will pick up, but do you know how quickly she will stop? Are you always certain that you can stop in time or are you always allowing for a certain amount of caution and agility on the part of the other fellow?

Remember the other fellow's safety, but disregard his ability to look out for it. Know as much about those parts of your automobile that are essential to the safety of others as you do about those parts which contribute only to your own enjoyment. Don't let your foot rest too heavily on the throttle. Remember that if you stop quickly enough the other fellow can't hit you. Earn the right to a clear conscience and freedom from accident by shunning that one great cause of trouble—too much speed.

An automobile is as full of possibilities as a keg of powder or a loaded revolver. Properly used it is a contributor to progress; but the man who disregards its terrific potentiality for harm is as culpable as one who stores dynamite next to the furnace or lets his boy use a loaded gun as a plaything. The speeder is a murderer at heart. A man's most lame excuse, his most awful condemnation, is the pitiful, sinful confession, "I couldn't stop; I was going too fast."

WHO'S THE BOOSTER?

Everybody is looking for an alibi. The producer says he didn't do it, and the retailer wants to blame it on a set of middlemen who are now shadowy and now substantial. But it doth appear that the wholesale prices of most things that enter into human living are relatively higher than those of the retailer. A department bulletin shows the average wholesale prices of 1917 to be over 75 per cent. greater than in 1913, before the war began. In only two out of twenty-eight important items of food products was the relative increase in the retail price as great as the wholesale, and that was in the items of dressed poultry and granulated sugar. In everything else the higher percentage of increase remained with the wholesaler. Oh, well, pass the blame along. The consumer pays, anyhow.

Recriminations.

THE HARASSED HOUSEWIFE.

Let everybody condole with the housewife who has been led to believe that a large part of patriotism depends upon a faithful following of the varied programmes put forth by official and semi-official conservators.

One would have to have the plastic fancy of a merry-go-round in order to comply with the bulletins and orders that are almost hourly issued under some semblance of authority.

The apparent lack of co-ordination between different departments of the government has resulted in numerous little domestic problems that have the irritable elusiveness of the fifteen puzzle. Almost every household is not only willing but anxious to respond to a coherent and intelligent schedule of conservation, but they must be first impressed with its sanity.

There seems to be so many different kinds of fodder commissioners that they not only tread on one another's toes but they frequently come to a clinch. Frequently their only conception of authority is to use it in the most strenuous manner possible. A combination of busy bee and wasp has nothing on them. It seems as if they must lie awake nights thinking up things to impair or punish the appetites of their fellow citizens. The moment a man has trained his stomach to accept alfalfa hay as a substitute for caviare the delicatessen commissioner serves notice that the alfalfa must be conserved in the interest of the suffering Belgian hares

Some mental giant who has solved domestic and economic problems while demonstrating Greek roots at Cornell University will issue a pronunciamento that the only way for the American people to win the war is to eat prunes and save the pits! Hardly is the ink dry before a commissioner in the next district will issue orders that all prunes must be saved for shipment to New Zealand and that grocers will be forbidden to sell more than two ounces to a single customer.

Of course it may not be as bad as that, but some of the tangles have been fully as ridiculous.

Likewise some of the menus set forth by these professors of Sanskrit or Etruscan remains are fearfully and wonderfully constructed. The various blends they are putting forth to take the place of the pleasantly-familiar wheat bread of the last ten generations are likely to result in a race of national dyspeptics. There are a lot of people whose interiors have been so delicately nurtured that they will not accept corn bread unless it is made to the accompaniment of milk and eggs. With corn meal at 10 cents a pound, eggs 50 cents a dozen and milk 15 cents a quart, corn bread thus manufactured ceases to be economical provender for human beings and is easily in the angel food class. Also the thought arises in the minds of several of our esteemed housewives that if a whole lot of people must learn to eat corn instead of wheat some of them might as well be French and English as well as Americans. Many housewives have honestly attempted to adjust their table and their baking to the various mixed flours that have been recommended from time to time in government literature. They have blended rye, barley, rice and potato flours or bran meal with their wheat flour and as a result have spoiled an awful lot of bread and wasted a lot of wheat.

It is almost doubtful that any real economy has resulted.

The bills of fare put forth by some of these collegiate protein experts would be fine for a livery stable or a dog show, but wouldn't make much of a hit at the Good Samaritan Hospital or the Alexangelus. Come to think about it, a woman who has been hanging over a cook stove for twenty or thirty years is more apt to approach kitchen and table problems with clarity and common sense than is some hirsute professor who has spent a lifetime deciphering the bricks of Babylon.

It has also been hard for the housewives to keep pace with the price-fixers and the prevailing conclusion is that every attempt to regulate the price has been marked with a spirited and frequently unjustifiable advance. Nor have the attempts to regulate the supply or the quantity that may be purchased been received with three cheers. The general opinion is that there is more sugar now hoarded in the private homes of America than at any other time in the country's history. If people were warned that diamonds were scarce and must not be hoarded a lot of folks would take them on who had never worn them before.

But the principal grievance of the housewife is the conflict of authority and the impractical character of some of the suggestions or orders that come under the apparent seal of the government. A food commissioner or a price fixer in one State will be eager for advertising or fame and he will do the things or issue the orders that best attain that end. A commissioner in another district is anxious to maintain the status quo. He hates to trouble anything or anybody and so does nothing. There can be no possible co-ordination between them—no mutual understanding of fundamentals. It is much as it was with the exemption boards at the outset. One board passed a man and sent him off to an infantry camp although he had a wooden leg. Another board turned down and sent back a husky prize fighter who could lick the Kaiser with one hand.

Housewives do not like to be told one day that they must not use pork and on the next that they must cook more pork and less beef. There must be a weakness somewhere else reversion orders would not follow so fast. There are a number of able and worthy patriots who have been drafted into positions of supposed responsibility at salaries of nearly a dollar a year, but vast and expensive offices have resulted with armies of understudies who largely solve the problem of how they may serve their country by getting in each other's way and issuing a bunch of impractical orders.

God knows the American housewife is eager to do her share. She will set her table and conduct her home on the idea of the greatest good to the greatest number. She is an adept at sacrifice.

But you've got to show her.

A little more of co-ordination and team work would help a lot, and it ought to start near the top.

METHODS OF WARFARE.

The history of the present conflict shows that nations have profited little or nothing by the teachings, the discoveries, the inventions, the science and the literature of many centuries. They still continue to determine the quarrels of rulers by the cave dwellers' method of the destruction of the property and lives of individuals, and in the present war the military propagandists of German kultur have excelled their ancestors only in atrocious cruelty. The soldiers of Attila did not make a practice of raping women, of impaling infants on spear points and of murdering prisoners and noncombatants.

There has been an improvement in weapons. The great cannon that throws dynamite bombs seventy-two miles into the streets of Paris has taken the place of the bow by which the archers of Caesar shot arrows at the foe only one or two hundred yards away. But there was no difference except in the methods employed between Actium and submarine battles; and if the soldiers of Germany were asked what they are fighting for they would reply as did the German soldiers who desolated Africa or invaded Gaul, "We know not, save that it is the will of Caesar."

Is it not a marvel that the age which has given us the railroad in the place of the stage coach, the auto in place of the surrey, the telegraph and the wireless in place of the horseman, the sewing machine in place of the needle, the typewriter in place of the pen, the threshing machine in place of the flail, and which sends the human voice across the continent with the telephone and makes dead singers and orators speak to living audiences through the phonograph, cannot devise some better means of adjusting the differences of nations than the slaughtering of millions of men in the trenches.

IN THE GARDEN.

People who gaily plant gardens must not think that is all there is to it, nor must they become discouraged at the first hint of disillusionment. Gardens to be successful must be watered and cultivated. Sometimes seeds have the deplorable habit of remaining dormant. They simply will not respond to even the kindest treatment. They are old, dead or of non-fertile stock. There are many birds who like the tender young shoots of your cabbage, lettuce and other green stuff the moment they make their appearance. There are bugs and cutworms that simply cannot let a melon or a squash get by. You may think a snail is slow, but watch the night work of a flock of them in a garden when they once get busy. Almost every fruit, vine or plant has its pet pest, and they are only to be conquered by patience and intelligent application. Prayer and supplication will not answer the purpose, and you cannot wish green corn on the table. There must be work behind. Often amateur gardeners will find that their vegetables are costing them much more than if bought in the open market, but they can at least be fresh and there is always a sense of satisfaction in harvesting one's own. Make it a labor of love as well as thrift and patriotism and your garden will be a success from the start.

Younker Isidor Louis Bernard Edmund von Dommeler, otherwise known as the husband of Geraldine Farrar, and as Lou-Tellegen of the movies, is organizing a third-term Wilson Club. He possibly wants to be Secretary of War in that administration.

DROLL STORIES.

Tired and Tongue-tied.

The day was drawing to a close. Judge, jurors, witnesses and lawyers all were growing weary. Counsel for the prosecution was cross-examining the defendant.

"Exactly how far is it between the two towns?" he asked at length.

For some time Paddy stood thinking, then, "About four miles as the cry flows," came the answer.

"You mean 'as the flow cries!'" corrected the man of law.

The judge leaned forward. "No," he remarked suavely, "he means as the fly crows.'"

And they all looked at one another, feeling that something was wrong somewhere. — [Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

"Pity the Blind."

"I was standing in front of the Tutwiler waiting for a friend the other day," said Ernest W. House, "and just across the street a number of pretty girls were waiting for a street car. It was windy, and there was quite a display of hosiery. Now, this in itself would not have been so very unusual, but a fellow standing by me spied the exhibition, and then saw a blind man sitting only about a hundred feet away, with a sign, 'Pity the Blind.'

"I do not know who he was, but his sympathies were aroused, for he turned to me and said, 'I never was so sorry for a blind man in my life; I am going across and drop a quarter in his cap,' and he did."—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

Wanted a Carpenter.

Reference at a social gathering was made to the trite axiom "every man for his own job" when this anecdote was fittingly recalled by Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas.

Late one night a carpenter in a suburban town was awakened in the dead of night by the violent ringing of his telephone.

"Is that you, Mr. Johnson," asked the small voice of a little girl. "This is Amy Jones. Mother wants you to come around right away and bring your tools. Father has met with an accident."

"You have made a mistake, Amy," replied the carpenter on hearing the word "accident." "You want the doctor who lives next door to me."

"You are the one we want, Mr. Johnson," insisted the childish voice. "Father is shut up in the folding bed."—[Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Truthful Scot.

A lawyer was examining a Scottish farmer. "You'll affirm that when this happened you were going home to a meal. Let us be quite certain on this point, because it is a very important one. Be good enough to tell me, sir, with as little prevarication as possible, what meal it was you were going home to."

"You would like to know what meal it was?" said the Scotsman.

"Yes, sir; I should like to know," replied the counsel, sternly and impressively. "Be sure you tell the truth."

"Well, then, it was just oatmeal."—[Rochester Times.

Fate Inevitable.

At a carnival in a southern town two negro boys stood near the edge of a crowd that had assembled to watch a high diver.

As the daring athlete slowly mounted a tall pole to a tiny platform, sixty feet in the air, a brass band on the ground played "chills-and-fever" music.

The negro boys held their breath until the daredevil feat had been accomplished, then one said to the other, as they turned to go:

The Cushion.

In her apartment on the Rue de Varenne, Edith Wharton, who is doing war work in Paris, had just taken leave of a lady. This lady's call had been brief, but she had managed to say several wounding things to another lady who was present.

"And Amy," the other lady afterward complained, "calls me her friend! If I'm her friend, why does she talk to me like that?"

"My dear child," said Mrs. Wharton, with a smile, "don't you know that Amy is one of those women who regard friendship as a cushion wherein to stick their pins?"—[Baltimore American.

WARE!

BY DORA OLIPHANT COE.

Our farmers again and still are facing a deficit of labor, and many there are who offer solutions of the vexing problem.

Before the Federation of Women's Clubs in Oakland Mrs. Katherine Edson of this city, one of the State's political office-holders, is reported as advocating that women offer themselves as substitutes for men in the fields, and she further suggested that "we must organize and demand for our work the same wages that were paid to the men who preceded us."

When, last spring, the cry went up from the fields, "Come out and help us!" scores and hundreds of our high-school boys were given leave of absence from school and promised credits on all their studies if they would go out into the country and help the farmers out of their difficulty.

A few days passed and the boys came stringing home, sore in every nerve and muscle, and they left behind them ranchmen who were sorer even than they. The boys had not been able to do the work which they had been hired to do. Even the football heroes found plowing and digging beets required more strength and endurance than they possessed.

The farmers, on the other hand, had lost money in the transaction and were loud in their protestations against the "softness" of the American boys. They cried that they must have efficient help in the fields if the world would be fed.

How many of these farmers who found the labor of high-school boys unequal to the needs of the season will be willing to hire women to do the same work, especially if the women demand the same wage that farm labor used to be paid?

Another query rises.

How many of the beautifully-gowned women who gave their approval to Mrs. Edson's propaganda have any conception of what it means to work—especially to do a man's work—on a ranch or farm?

To put on a picturesque costume composed of shirt, trousers, silk stockings and high-heeled shoes and then, awkwardly holding a hoe or rake, to pose for an evening paper's front page is the extent of the knowledge of rural life possessed by most of them.

Women have taken men's places in the field in other times and other places and this is what it has meant:

To rise before daybreak; to work long hours under far from agreeable conditions; to keep on when the muscles feel as if torn to shreds; to be sweaty and dirty and tired and sleepy; to have the hands ruined beyond any manicurist's aid, and then to keep on and keep on and keep on, because farm work must be done when it must be done. Tomorrow or next week will not do. It must be today, no matter what the worker's physical condition.

It is right, perfectly right, for women to be willing to work, and to work hard, in this, the nation's crisis. There is nothing within the utmost limits of a woman's strength and endurance that she ought not to be more than willing to do. If it will really help, she ought even to go beyond the limits nature has set, but it is not a help for women to attempt that which is, for them, impossible, especially if that attempt prevents the efficient execution of the work.

There are things that women can do, and one of them is not to get in the way. Until the able-bodied men are all used up there is no call for women to undertake hard, manual labor. All those forms of work that require manual dexterity or quickness of eye and brain women can do as well as men, and in many cases better than men. In factories and offices women are efficient, though, to be sure, there is no opportunity for heroics there.

And there is the word—heroics!

There has been entirely too much time and effort and money—and publicity—given to schemes which have been formed solely to bring some individual or group of individuals into the spotlight.

What we women must do is to do something that we can do, and do it with as few genuflections as possible—or else keep still and not "gum up the works."

RIPPLING RHYMES.

FRANCIS JOSEPH.

Old Francis Joseph's sleeping, removed from grief and woe, while nations, worn and weeping, through war's grim motions go; he's sleeping with his fathers, who kicked up all the pothers; no more he frets or bothers—it's well for Francis Joe. The tool of Bill, the Kaiser, he let war's bloodhounds loose; he was no saner, wiser, than thus to raise the deuce; but now he's all unworried; he's resting, calm, unflurried, his sideboards neatly curried, he's found the final truce. Oh, lucky, lucky ruler! Forgotten is the foe; enjoying, in your cooler, the sleep that dead ones know; how many monarchs, sighing, and sick of death and dying, are you with envy eyeing, O foxy Francis Joe? How many kings would barter their finest motor car, equipped with patent starter, to slumber where you are? Methinks that Carl and Billy, whom blood has rendered silly, would love your chamber chilly, with marble gates ajar. Oh, still on France's meadows the crimson wavelets flow; and still, like stealthy shadows, men's ghosts move to and fro; the fighting men are leaner, war's stratagems grow meaner; you do not care a wiener or pretzel, Francis Joe.

It now develops that there is a question as to just how far the provisions of the financial corporation bill would extend—whether the provisions that money may be loaned to "corporations" would include municipal corporations. Under its present wording, the extent of the powers provided for in the bill would have to be submitted to an interpretation from the United States Attorney-General. There is probably as much possibility that he would decide that municipal corporations are entitled to the benefits proposed as that the provision only applies to private corporations; but this is a point on which there is to be an immediate determination.

Prof. D. M. Folsom of San Francisco, Petroleum Administrator for the Pacific Coast, who with A. E. Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood, in discussing the new turn in affairs, yesterday stated that if the money becomes available, and the government guarantees the delivery of materials without unnecessary delay, power plant No. 2 can be completed and placed in operation within one year.

STATE MISSES ITS GRAB AT CHURCHILL'S ESTATE.

THE widow and children of Owen H. Churchill, banker of this city, who died April 29, 1916, won a victory over the State in Judge Rives probate court yesterday, when the court held that the stock transferred by Mr. Churchill to his family about six years before his death was not subject to the inheritance tax.

The market value of the stock transferred at the time the O. H. Churchill Corporation was formed by Mr. Churchill was $1,481,490.19, and on this sum the State sought to have the estate pay an inheritance tax of $100,469. The court found that the only property subject to the inheritance tax amounted to $189,177.07, upon which the State will collect $2103.52.

The State claimed that the transfer was made by Mr. Churchill in contemplation of death and without valuable and adequate consideration. Attorney E. E. Millikin, representing the estate, filed an objection, which the court sustained.

The stock was transferred to the widow, Frances A. Churchill, and the children, Marion E. Churchill, Mrs. Gertrude P. Davis and Owen P. Churchill.

After Death.

INSURANCE SUIT BARES STORY OF ILLICIT LOVE.

SUPERIOR JUDGE MONROE yesterday, in the suit of the New York Life Insurance Company to determine whether Mrs. Lillian S. Dunn, widow of Dr. John T. Dunn, or May Cline Smith, the "other woman" named in Mrs. Dunn's recent divorce suit, was entitled to two-thirds of Dr. Dunn's insurance policy, paraphrased a decision of the Appellate Court in another, but similar, case.

Judge Monroe said that it is regrettable that a husband should so far forget the duty he owes to his wife that he should become willing to divert a fund intended for her support to the use of the mistress who could but dishonor him.

But, under the Appellate Court decision, Judge Monroe was compelled to dismiss the action, the upper court holding that a man has the right to dispose of this money as he sees fit.

Dr. Dunn, it seems, insured his life for $10,000 for the benefit of his wife. Subsequently he developed an alleged friendship for Mrs. Smith, the wife of Dr. Harvey Smith, a friend and brother physician, who had taken Dr. Dunn into his home and gave him treatments for a baffling disease. The result was two broken homes.

Dr. Smith and Mrs. Dunn both sued for divorce and each received an interlocutory decree. Dr. Dunn passed away before the interlocutory decree became final, but meantime, he changed the policy of insurance, giving Mrs. Smith two-thirds and Georgia Dunn, his daughter, one-third.

The insurance company paid the $10,000 into court and brought suit against the widow, Mrs. Smith, and Miss Dunn to determine to whom the policy belonged. A jury was called in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, but the decision of the Appellate Court being cited, Judge Monroe ruled with this decision, though against his will.

Miss Dunn will receive her one-third, or $3500, and Mrs. Smith two-thirds, or $6500.

With Thousand Cadets.

TWO TRAINING SHIPS OF JAPAN PAY VISIT HERE.

CARRYING 1000 naval cadets in training for future officers, the Japanese cruisers Asama and Iwate arrived at the harbor yesterday morning. As soon as a landing was made the personnel of the two warships became the guests of the military and naval authorities at the harbor, and of the Japanese Consul. An extensive programme of entertainment for both the officers and cadets has been arranged.

The stop of the training squadron at San Pedro represents the final lap of the cadets' training aboard ship, and marks the near completion of a trans-Pacific tour. From here it is expected that the warships will go to some South American port, thence to return to Japan. According to the Japanese Consulate here no definite plans have been announced, the ships being at the instant call of their government.

Yesterday Vice-Admiral K. Suzuki, in command of the squadron, and by his staff, were immediately officially visited by commanding officers of the submarine base. This call was at once returned by the Japanese officers. Following this preliminary a luncheon, at which naval and military officers were hosts, was served to the visitors.

Following the luncheon a regimental review was held at the Naval Reserve training station in honor of the visitors. The officials of the day were Capt. Poundstone, U.S.N., and Lieut. J. L. Nielson, aides; Capt. Cantwell, United States Coast Guard, and Lieut. John Mel, aides; Col. Abbott, U.S.A., commanding Fort MacArthur, with Capt. Ira Crump, U.S.A., Capt. John R. Bixby and Lieut. Vierau J. Giauellon. Capt. Crump acted as aide to Vice-Admiral Suzuki and Capt. Kibby.

The entire Japanese staff afterward returned to the flagship, the Iwate, to greet the Japanese Consul, U. Oyama, who had been invited to address the men of both ships. He was accompanied by S. Fujioka and Prof. K. Inui of Occidental College, both of whom spoke.

This morning eight of the Japanese naval officials will come to the consulate of their country, 713 International Bank Building, and between 9 and 10 o'clock they are scheduled to officially call on Mayor Woodman, Oscar Mueller, president of the Chamber of Commerce; J. P. Elliott, Collector of Customs, and other city officials. The assemblage will tour the city in automobiles for an hour, and will then motor to the Beverly Hills Hotel, where they have been invited to luncheon as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. Following luncheon a tour of the surrounding country will be made.

The vessels will be here until Saturday and a round of social events has been planned in honor of the visitors.

NUTT SAFE IN FRANCE.

H. C. Nutt, former general manager of the Salt Lake Route, who was recently appointed deputy director of transportation in France, has arrived safely overseas, according to a cable received yesterday by J. His duties in France will consist of handling the transportation of food and munitions for the Allied forces.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dole of No. 2197 Cambridge street yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Eva, to Lieut. Byram Sandford Purviance, son of Col. William E. Purviance, U.S.A. (retired) of this city. The wedding will take place in the very near future. Miss Dole is a student at the University of Southern California and is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. Lieut. Purviance is a member of the Medical Corps stationed at Camp Fremont.

Cowan-Harbeson Wedding.

In a bower of golden and white poppies, Miss Ruth Margaret Cowan and Charles Edward Harbeson were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orien J. Moore, No. 1691 West Jefferson street, by Rev. S. T. Montgomery of Alhambra. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, made en train, and trimmed in pearls. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried bride roses tied with white tulle. Her maid of honor, Miss Frances Huntington, was gowned in yellow satin and carried jonquils, while Miss Anne Harbeson, her bridesmaid, was frocked in white crepe de chine and carried white sweet peas. Mary Frances Messer was a tiny flower girl, and Jack Swartz carried the ring in a basket of sweet peas. William Weix was the bridegroom's best man and the bride was given in keeping by her uncle, Mr. Moore. Miss Beatrice M. Cowan, sister of the bride, sang "Oh, Promise Me," and the bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," played on the violin, with piano accompaniment. Forty guests were present. The bride formerly lived in Bay City, Mich., while Mr. Harbeson until recently resided in Long Beach. After a wedding trip they will live on a large orange ranch near Anaheim.

Personal.

An enthusiastic young visitor to Los Angeles is Miss Mary Lawrence Hoyne of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maclay Hoyne and sister of the brilliant young State's attorney, Maclay Hoyne, who has figured so much in the magazines as the "lion of the law." Miss Hoyne is the house guest of Mrs. T. Ely Patterson and Miss Margaret Wiley of West Thirtieth street.

Mrs. George Luke Remington and Mrs. Blanche Fairman Remington of No. 630 South Westmoreland avenue are spending the week at Ocean Park, both feeling the need of a rest from strenuous Red Cross work, especially at the Kinema Red Cross tearoom, where they have given a series of teas and luncheons. Mrs. Blanche Fairman Remington is said to have been a noted beauty of Philadelphia, her former home.

Mrs. F. B. Owen of Bakersfield, president of the California division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who was a guest of Mrs. E. E. King of the Alhambra Hotel, returned to her home Sunday. While here she was the recipient of numerous social courtesies, among which was a luncheon at which Mrs. Henry Stewart entertained on Wednesday, having as guests members of the Los Angeles chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

Miss Betty Payne, a talented musician of San Francisco, en route to New York, stopped for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Dana King of Harvard boulevard. Miss Payne is a sister of Mrs. King.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hansen of Waupaca, Wis., who have been here since the new year on their honeymoon trip, left yesterday for San Francisco. While here they were much entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Leaf gave a dinner for them and Mr. and Mrs. Hansen later gave a theater party at Clune's to see "Hearts of the World."

AMBULANCE SOCIETY TEA.

At a tea to be given at the headquarters of the British Ambulance Society at the Westminster Hotel during Friday afternoon, Miss Stella Thomas Deshon will sing and Lieut. S. Preston-Kimmell, an American, lately with the French Ambulance Corps, will give an account of his experiences. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Reginald Jones, Mrs. Margaret Ham, and Dr. Willamnie Brodes.

And the Hudson Bay "Lazzy Boy" and "Three and One-Half Point." These are truly remarkable blankets, any one of them. And while Army and Navy men will be particularly interested, these blankets are intended for use anywhere where a fine wool blanket of the heavy, serviceable kind is needed.

The Army Special is olive drab or khaki color; same style as the Aviator Special; not quite so fine in texture, but very warm and serviceable.

The Navy Special is a single white blanket; very heavy; the finest wool obtainable, and designed for navy use; such a blanket will wash well and last for years.

The Three and One-Half Point is a Hudson Bay all-wool single blanket, plain tan, gray or white, with 3-inch solid stripe for border; and on the edge 3½ points are woven.

These blankets compare favorably with the popular Canadian Government Blankets that Coulter's sold last year; and are for beds, motor robes or swagger sports coats.

WALL STREET REFLECTS CONFIDENCE IN ALLIES.

Market Shows Quiet Strength, with Investment Issues Generally Higher.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The quiet strength of today's stock market bespoke further confidence in a successful outcome of the titanic struggle still raging in France. Trading was again in very small volume, but investment shares held their ground in the main.

Announcement of the expected entry of American troops into the battle was handled with deep satisfaction, as was also the decision of the Allies to designate a supreme command on the western front.

Home advices received favorable interpretation, tonnage in the Middle West, for example, showing a gain over the corresponding period last year. This was nullified to a degree by prospects of a shortage of shipping facilities, labor problems adding a disturbing element.

The government's recent ruling on stock loans probably accounted for sporadic short covering among certain leaders, especially United States Steel, which failed, however, to hold more than half its one-point gain.

Coppers were relatively more active than at any time in the last month, gains of 1 to 1½ points resulting from the small available supply of the metal and a well-defined belief that new price schedules are likely to favor that commodity.

Tobaccos, oils (Sinclair excepted,) utilities and some minor specialties scored gross gains of 1 to 4 points, but the motor group, especially Studebaker, was at all times under pressure. Inquiry for rails was exceedingly limited, but firmness prevailed in that division. Total sales amounted to 188,000 shares.

Bonds, including the Liberty issues, were irregular on light offerings. Sales, par value, $4,625,000.

LIBERTY BONDS ARE STRONG ON EXCHANGE.

AS TIME DRAWS NEAR FOR SALE OF NEW BONDS FIRST ISSUE GAINS.

The German offensive affected most securities on the local Stock Exchange, but they promptly reacted and are very firm. Liberty Bonds were not affected in the slightest by even the German gains of the first few days, but on the contrary have grown steadily stronger. Yesterday 3½s were selling at 98¾, second 4s at 96½, and convertible 4s at 96 1-4. As the time for the new issue approaches the security is in big demand and has developed great strength. New York continues to pay more for the bonds than is being paid locally, 3½s having sold for 99.

Gold Ore opened at 42½, was active around this figure and closed at 41½ with 43 asked. Union Oil remains firm around 104.00, one sale only being made 103.87½. The market was listless, but firm, not even a semblance of anything sensational putting in an appearance.

The Associated Oil Company holds its annual stockholders' meeting in San Francisco today. Mr. R. P. Schwerin, vice-president and general manager of Associated has tendered his resignation and reports are to the effect that same has been accepted. In the latter event a new executive may be selected today as his successor.

LOW-GRADE CORN UNSETTLES MARKET.

SHARP DECLINE FOLLOWS BIG RECEIPTS—OATS RECEIVE SETBACK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—Burdensome arrivals of low-grade corn had a bearish effect today on the corn market. Prices closed unsettled, ⅜ of a cent net lower, with May 1.25¼. Oats finished 1⅝ cents to 1⅞ cents off. The outcome in provisions ranged from 20 cents' decline to a rise of 5 cents.

Depression in the corn market developed in the main after cash dealings had shown that poor to rotten samples had fallen in value 20 cents to 25 cents a bushel. Corn that was out of condition proved hard to sell even at the bottom figures reached, which were about the lowest so far on the 1917 crop.

Oats underwent a decided setback on account of lowering of bids from the seaboard. Auspicious weather for the newly seeded crop tended also to weaken the market.

Provisions averaged lower as a result more or less of a falling off in shipments. Supplies of hogs in March exceeded all previous records for that month.

MIAMI COPPER CUTS QUARTERLY DIVIDEND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Miami Copper Company in declaring its quarterly dividend today, cut the disbursement to $1 a share, as compared with $1.50 three months ago. The directors announced the reduction was necessary to conserve cash on account of heavy war taxes and increasing costs of production.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Vegetables in general are still coming down, welcome news to everyone but the grower, but those which used to be considered high are these days considered low. Potatoes continue the weakest commodity in the local produce markets and are apt to decline even further on account of the unusually large amount of them on hand at this time of the year. They are almost a drug on the market.

Yesterday's quotations show a decline in artichokes, beets, rhubarb, peas, asparagus and dried peaches with slight gains in prune prices and a decided advance in northern cauliflower, about the only kind on the market at present. Prunes are coming up as are practically all varieties of dried fruits. Poultry prices have been firm the past week with the exception of old cocks now selling for .14, instead of .18, as they were quoted last week. Onions are very plentiful in both the brown and white varieties and show a decided tendency to weaken, browns having sold as low as .90 last week, but have recovered at least temporarily, selling up to 1.10 yesterday. White onions have been firm for some time at 2.50 to 3.00, but have not been moving freely, while the new low price in the brown variety has stimulated the demand for them.

Receipts at the produce exchange yesterday were as follows: 550 cases of Petaluma eggs, (for storage,) 468 cases of eggs, 42,300 pounds of butter, 2240 pounds of cheese, 2240 sacks of potatoes, and 5547 boxes of citrus.

Stars Twinkle.

WHAT IT WAS ABOUT.

Strictly speaking, of course, the show revolved around old-fashioned films, some of the earliest ever shown. But who cared? Most of their perpetrators were so far away, and there were our living celebrities smiling upon us, talking to us, even, be it whispered, flirting with us—strictly in the cause of the Red Cross. But methinks Al Levy's supper, served in the auditorium, sausages and things, received the heartiest welcome—especially after the Keenan speech, which made everyone hungry for something German to chew upon.

Douglas Fairbanks's picture, "Hock the Kaiser," was a delicate little affair portraying the Kaiser in hell with sumptuous realism—accompanied by a third Liberty Loan discourse from Doug himself. Then came Wilfred Lucas in recitations of Dr. Drummond's poems, bringing forth more tears with "When Baptiste Came Home." J. S. Blackton did some clay-modelling on the stage, and that was round about midnight, and the audience was beginning to dry up its tears a bit and feel perhaps it wasn't quite as wicked as Frank Keenan had painted it.

Nobody went home until far into the morn—new time—and it was rather damp, and pretty staccatos were calling out how afraid they were of skids, and oh, dear, they had gone and spoiled that last $20 pair of silver shoes.

Women's Clubs.

lame boy, little James Bush as the widow's son (albeit the young man was dressed like a blonde doll,) and Gloria Joy, a wee Breton maiden, all made a great hit. The little boys' singing of "The Marseillaise" without music brought down the house.

The Ebell Club.

Mrs. C. W. Winters, mother of the clever Hoover cartoonist, gave the main programme at the Ebell Club yesterday, taking "Service" for her theme. She has a pleasing personality and had a carefully prepared talk. Other speakers were: Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, who, as chairman of the Women's Food Conservation Committee under the Federal government, gave one of the best talks she has ever made in her latest message from headquarters; Mrs. Grantland S. Long, who talked on the furlough houses campaign; Mrs. W. R. Dickinson, who put in a plea for Ebell workers for Ebell work, and the aforementioned "Daddy" Flynn.

The business of the day was the election of the election board. Mrs. George W. Fletcher was chosen chairman, and other members are Mmes. Fred Betts, Frank W. King, E. C. Bellowes and T. V. Stowell. The only election petitions so far filed are one for Mrs. Mathew Robertson as president and one for Mrs. J. P. Flint and Mrs. Chester Ashley for directors.

The Thursday luncheon has a galaxy of interesting special guests in Dr. James A. Francis, Dr. Wharton James, Private Van Zimmerman from Camp Kearny, Miss Jane Anderson, war correspondent, and Gov. Stephens.

The war economics section of the club will meet this morning to hear Miss Gladys Beckett in a practical food demonstration.

Conference of Social Agencies.

The tenth annual meeting of the California State Conference of Social Agencies will be held at Santa Barbara April 16 to 19.

There will be experienced speakers from all parts of the country, including Maj.-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, Rt. Rev. Joseph Cantwell, Prof. William B. Munro of Harvard, Prof. W. C. Ogburn of Washington and many others.

COTTON GOES UP WHEN SHORTS TRY TO COVER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—Determined efforts to cover short contracts, made by sellers "on the war news" last week and by some persistent bears who have been sticking to the short side of the market all season, caused a sensational advance in cotton prices on the local market today. The close, a trifle off from the best under realizing by floor traders, was from 50 to 81 points above Thursday's close, and the high prices of the day represented new high records for the season, if not for the history of the cotton trade, all down the line.

Save for internal conditions, there was no particular reason discernible for the advance. Crop news was generally good and the week-end statistical reports had shown more cotton on hand in the South than had been anticipated. But apparently there was a much bigger short interest in the market than had been suspected and also, because of the experience gained in closing out the March contracts, a more easily stampeded one. Consequently, although May contracts have still six weeks in which to be met and July contracts two months beyond that when the morning quotations showed that the market was going to remain firm, the buying orders began to come in thick and fast.

GOVERNMENT TO ERECT SHIPBUILDERS' HOMES.

Several Million Dollars to be Spent at Los Angeles Harbor.

THE government is planning to begin work immediately upon the construction of several hundred houses in the harbor district in order to provide homes for the families of employees of the various local shipyards, it was announced at the harbor yesterday.

This important action has been strongly advocated by Meyer Bloomfield of Boston, an official of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, who was here last week looking over the situation. Mr. Bloomfield is now in Portland, Or., looking over the situation there, having gone there from San Francisco.

It is understood that $18,200,000 of the total sum of $50,000,000 appropriated by Congress for the building of homes for shipbuilders will go to erect houses at San Pedro, Long Beach and San Francisco. The ultimate number of houses to be erected for the employees of the various shipyards will average 700 per plant, it is said.

The Craig shipyard of Long Beach, the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company and the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company of San Pedro will come in for their quota of homes.

Other California shipyards to benefit are the Union Iron Works, Schaw & Batcher, Pacific Shipbuilding Yards at Redwood City, Rolph Shipbuilding Yards and Hammond Shipbuilding Company at Eureka, Pacific Coast shipbuilding plant at Bay Point, Contra Costa county; Hanlon dry dock and shipbuilding plant and the proposed plants of the Union Construction Company and the Parr-McCormick Company, all in Oakland.

While the exact locations for the San Pedro homes have not yet been selected, it is understood they will be on reclaimed lands belonging to the city both on Terminal Island and on Smith's Island, where sufficient land is available. The housing situation, which has been in a very critical state here for many months, is becoming more complicated with the large forces being added on the ground of the new Southwestern Shipbuilding Company at East San Pedro.

SHAW-WALKER STEEL LETTER FILES

RIGID? Yes! A skyscraper won't sag. Or a solid piece of steel won't sag. Shaw-Walkers are skyscrapers plus solid steel.

Drawers will run silent, smooth, speedy a hundred years. Non-rebounding, too. Stay shut without superfluous mechanism.

Compare a Shaw-Walker with the files in your office. It will show why we say "Money back if you ever used a better file." Phone for one today.

SAWTELLE DEFEATED.

Annexed City Loses Fight to Get Registration Books so that It Can Hold Election Soon.

By sustaining the city's demurrer in the petition for a writ of mandate, directed to David B. Lyons, Registrar of Voters, by E. W. Mecum, City Clerk of Sawtelle, the District Court of Appeal yesterday ended the case.

The decision on the bill does not go to establishing the annexation of Sawtelle to Los Angeles, as that question was passed on favorably to annexation by the same court some time since, but does establish the principle that, under the law, the City Clerk has no authority to demand the production and delivery of the precinct registration, which Mecum, as such City Clerk, demanded in his prayer. It was proposed to use the registration books for the holding of an election in Sawtelle Monday.

In the answer of Registrar Lyons it was claimed that Sawtelle had not been a city of the sixth class since January 23, 1918, and that Mecum has not been City Clerk since that date; that Los Angeles exercises police authority over Sawtelle; that it maintains a branch of the fire department there; exercises sanitary jurisdiction, and denied that the city of Sawtelle had had any authority since on or about February 1, 1918.

CONSTABLE HELD FOR SHOOTING YOUTH.

SAN FERNANDO OFFICER MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

"Jake" Street, constable at San Fernando, was held to answer in $2000 bail by Justice Summerfield yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The complaining witnesses were Oliver Rich, Jesse Butler, Edward Hoffman, Kenneth Pollard and two others, all boys of about 17 years, who alleged that on January 2, at San Fernando, Street shot young Rich without provocation and attacked the others with a revolver.

The boys testified they left Lamanda Park in an automobile to go rabbit hunting near Saugus. They reached San Fernando at 2 o'clock in the morning. While four of them were dining in a restaurant, Constable Street is alleged to have come along and dragged two others from the auto, throwing one to the ground and beating him. Rich protested and Street was declared to have shot him in the back of the head after he started to run.

Street maintained that he took the boys for a gang of youthful bandits, and, according to Attorney Le Compte Davis, he admitted acting too hastily in using his revolver.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. TRYON.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Julia Tryon, who died last Saturday, were held at the family residence, No. 520 South Commonwealth avenue, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Charles Edward Locke officiating. Interment took place at Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. Tryon had been a resident of this city for thirty years, and was an active member of the First Methodist Church in both its benevolent and social circles. Her husband died here sixteen years ago. Surviving her are two sons, R. G. and R. D. Tryon of the Tryon & Bimini Company of this city, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Wade of Palo Alto and Mrs. W. C. Brain and Mrs. W. A. Moses of this city.

FLEES AFTER RUNNING DOWN MOTORCYCLIST.

Wesley I. Miller of Inglewood, aged 20, will probably die from injuries received yesterday, when, while riding a motorcycle, he collided with an automobile truck at the corner of Vernon and McKinley avenues. He was hurried to the Receiving Hospital, where an examination disclosed the fact that his skull had been fractured.

After the collision the driver of the truck continued on his way, and up to a late hour last night had failed to make a report to the police. A search is being made for him, and his arrest is probable.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS SOAR.

Twenty-eight Per Cent. is Increase Over March of Last Year.

Receipts at the Los Angeles postoffice for March show substantial increases over the figures for the same month last year. The local office received $276,434.51, during the month just closed, compared with $214,982.44 for March, 1917. The ratio of increase was 28.55 per cent.

Food Orders.

WILL ENFORCE WHEAT RATION.

Six Pounds Per Person Per Month Allowance.

Card System Soon will be in Force Here.

No Hoarding of Grain will be Permitted.

The rationing system of six pounds of wheat flour per person per month is now in effect. Frank Suffel, County License Commissioner of the Food Administration, said yesterday that at the meeting of all city and county Food Administrators in California, Nevada and Arizona, held last Saturday in San Francisco, a sub-executive committee, consisting of Ralph P. Merritt, State Administrator, and Fred Starr and Preston McKinney of Los Angeles, was chosen to have entire charge of the districting of the three States and the working out of the details, thereby the enforcement of this rule willobe made effective.

This committee will have charge of the wheat, flour, grain and millfeed situation.

"Their policy will be to urge the use of everything but wheat in the making of bread, "Mr. Suffel said yesterday." "A certain amount of wheat flour is necessary for a binder, but the present allowance of six pounds of sufficient for all needs. The people of this district should realize that they are far better off than the people of England whose allowance is much less than six pounds per month.

WHEAT CARDS SOON.

"It will be only a short time before wheat cards are issued in Los Angeles, "City Administrator Cole said yesterday." It will be up to the grocer to see that his customers do not increase their usual supply of flour, and it is possible that a duplicate will be made of all wheat purchase, and this sent to our office so we may check up on all wheat sales.

"The system of zones, whereby the amount of flour allowed in that zone will be regulated by the population, is now in effect and grocers to protect themselves, and to see there is an equal distribution, should be careful of their sales. When this allowance is gone there will be no more issued until the next month. The mills have their orders and they will be strictly adhered to."

In order that the housewife of California may begin to plan for the coming canning season, and to lay in a supply of sugar, the local office yesterday issued an order which removes the embargo from the maximum amount of sugar that may be purchased when it is for canning purpose. This order reads in part:

"Quantities of sugar up to twenty-five pounds may now be sold, without special restriction unless the retailer is convinced that the sugar is being brought for hoarding purposes.

FOR CANNING ONLY.

"For canning and preserving purposes, the housewife may purchase and the dealer may sell sufficient quantities in adding to the above to cover the season's requirements, provided the purchase is accompained by a statement that the sugar is wanted for canning only.

According to Mr. Cole, this order does not effect the makers of confectionery and soft drinks. The regulation of their sugar supply still remains at 80 per cent. of their last year's purchases.

County Food Administrator G. H. Welch has completed the list of county appointments which will represent the Food Administration in smaller centers.

He has called a meeting for tomorrow afternoon when all administrators will meet in the Chamber of Commerce and listen to Messrs. Cole, Suffel and Welch explain what their duties will be.

BACK TO BEGINNING.

Broadway Opening Injunction Returned to Superior Court by Judge Shenk.

The Broadway opening case scheduled to be heard by Judge Shenk yesterday was continued until next Monday for substitution of attorneys. This suit, which was previously tried by Judge Works, sought to enjoin the city from enforcing assessments for the opening of Broadway between Tenth and Eleventh streets, the principal plaintiff being the Rindge company.

Judge Works enjoined the city, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which court assigned the case to the Appellate Court, where Judge Works's judgment was reversed. The Supreme Court denied the application for a rehearing after judgment by the Appellate Court, and the case came to Judge Shenk for a rehearing. The assessment represents more than $1,000,000.

ATTORNEY PLEADS INNOCENCE.

ARREST WAR AVIATOR IN FIGHT OVER BABY.

ROYAL FLYING CORPS MEMBER IN COURT FOLLOWING ROW WITH WIFE.

In an altercation which arose over a father's efforts to kiss his baby, Herbert B. Pritchard of the Royal Flying Corps of Canada landed in Police Court yesterday afternoon, facing a charge of battery. J. L. Richardson, an attorney representing Mrs. Pritchard in proceedings at Juvenile Hall, accused the flyer of having assaulted Mrs. Pritchard. The wife said that the husband had pushed her out of the way and slapped her while they were getting into an auto in front of the Police Station. He claimed to have jostled her while kissing the baby. Police Judge Chesebro dismissed the complaint with the understanding that Mr. Pritchard is leaving today for Canada to rejoin the flying corps.

The Pritchards spent a good part of yesterday at Juvenile Hall, adjusting their marital troubles. The wife said the husband came home on furlough and accused her of having associated with other men during his absence. She set up a vigorous denial. After considerable wrangling he went to Juvenile Hall and asked that their two children be taken from her custody. They were finally given over into the care of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Myers of Wilton place, with the understanding that Mrs. Pritchard may make her home with the Myers family, too. It was after all these matters had been threshed out that Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard got into the altercation at the automobile.

ARREST FRED DATO.

Man Lately Convicted for Neutrality Violation Must Now Face Accusation Under Espionage Act.

Collector of Customs Elliott received word yesterday from Calexico that Fred Dato had been arrested at that place, under the Federal Espionage Act, and lodged in jail. He will be brought here for arraignment.

The charge against Dato is that he took $200 worth of farming implements across the line into Mexico without having a Federal license, and that he recently smuggled bottled goods from Mexico into the United States without declaring the shipment at the office of the collector at Calexico.

Mr. Dato is now at liberty on bail, following his conviction, with Julien Trena, of violating the neutrality laws in attempting to make a shipment of machine guns to Mexico.

TAX RETURNS SET A RECORD.

Keeps Office Open Late to Accommodate All.

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter and his army of internal revenue employees were about the most satisfied and complacent set of Federal workers to be found under the flag, at midnight, last night, when the barrier fell on the making of income tax returns.

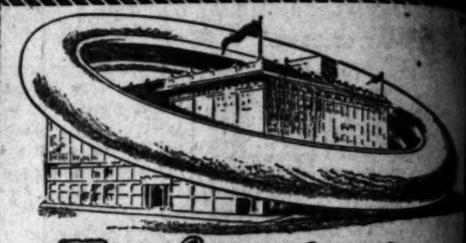

After a strenuous campaign, in which they had the assistance of the press and every public activity in the Sixth District, secular and religious, it was the consensus of opinion, as expressed by the collector, that the response of the patriotic people of Southern California had been generous, in fact, that it had exceeded the estimates made some time ago. That there are some slackers is true, but they will be dug up by the various wrecking crews to be organized by the Internal Revenue Department, in a way that it will be very discouraging to such slackers in due course of business.

The office in the Federal Building was kept open last night until 2 o'clock, to accommodate the late comers. At that hour all of the letter boxes in the city were visited and all mail inclosing returns taken to the office. All letters containing such returns, whose postmark indicates that they were deposited previous to midnight, will be received, and the senders will not be under the ban of the law.

In the last hours of the collection of the returns, bankers in various parts of the district got busy and saw to it that many of their depositors who had so far shirked their plain responsibility under the law made their returns.

Collector Carter was in receipt yesterday of a personal telegram of congratulation from Daniel S. Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, thanking him for the activity and success with which he had carried on the income tax campaign. It may not be generally known, but the programme of the local collector was used as a sample of the work sought to be accomplished in every revenue district in the Union, and it was copied from Maine to the Coast. The authorities at Washington found it to be so satisfactory and comprehensive that its adoption by every collector was urged.

The work of segregating the returns will now begin, and until that is accomplished there will be no line on the number of probable delinquents in the district. But the collector is quite certain that the number will be negligible, and that the Sixth Internal Revenue District has hung up a record that will afford a mark for some of the other districts in the United States to shoot at, for some time to come.

ANY ONE CAN USE THE DALTON

No more experience is required to use the 10-KEY DALTON than to use the telephone.

Executives and clerks use it with equal facility. Expert help or previous training is unnecessary.

The 10-KEY DALTON is more than an adding machine. It subtracts, multiplies and divides in a fraction of the time required by brain and pencil.

The DALTON has but one key for each figure. You strike the same key to indicate hundreds, thousands or millions. The machine places the figure in the right column.

The DALTON is simpler but more efficient. It does everything the more complicated machines do, with accuracy and increased speed.

Let us give you a DALTON demonstration in your office. Learn how it will save time, economize help and insure accuracy in your figure work.

Telephone, call or send us your name and address on coupon below and you will be given full information.
